Preface

This work is a product of an interest in genealogy dating back to my childhood. At that stage, of course, I had no idea of how to go about the process. When a trip to the Old Dutch Church of Sleepy Hollow included visits to graves of members of my grandmother's family dating from Revolutionary War times, all I could do was to guess at, or imagine, relationships between them. It was not until fairly late in life that I began any sort of serious investigation. Then, in the course of uncovering my ancestry, I became fascinated with my mother's family, the Huffs. It had been a major puzzle to identify the immigrant ancestor; and in the process, I became equally fascinated with what had become of some of the immigrant's grandchildren. That, of course, led to the present compilation.

This is not a work of the sort that would be produced by a professional genealogist. Indeed, I am inclined to question whether such a work could be accomplished at the present day except by a person of independent wealth. Primary sources, even when they exist, are subject to restrictions and to fees that sometimes verge on the exorbitant. I have made use of them when I could. But I have been compelled by time and money constraints to resort principally to such records as are open to the public, largely census returns, and to information obtained from family members. In addition, I was well into the work before I learned of the importance of documenting my records. Usually I can establish where I obtained a particular piece of information, but not always. And I have made no attempt to include documentation in the compilation, even when I can support my assertions. Nevertheless, the material is as accurate as I know how to make it under the circumstances. Where I have had to guess, or speculate, I have admitted as much. I do not doubt that there are errors; I only hope that they are not so serious as to mislead those who come after me.

Two published sources are used often enough that I use shortened forms to identify them. One is Families of the colonial town of Philipsburgh, by Granville W. Mackenzie (typescript, 1966; original in the library of the New York Biographical and Genealogical Society, photocopies in various other libraries), often referred to by researchers in that area as "the Mackenzie manuscript"; the other is an anonymous work entitled Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte (Toronto, 1904; reprinted by Mika Publishing Company, Belleville, Ontario). Both are known to contain errors, the latter especially, but they have served as starting points for further research, and in some cases I have relied on their information. I cite the first as "Mackenzie," and the second as "PLBQ."

One other abbreviation appears throughout the work. That is "n. f. i.," which stands for "no further information."

I have used a slightly idiosyncratic method of numbering. Every descendant surnamed Huff, Hough, Hoff, or Haff is numbered. Every descendant whose birth year is known is numbered. Every descendant who has children of his or her own is numbered. If one child of a descendant is numbered, so is every child of that descendant. Subject to those rules, numbering is consecutive across each generation. (There are two or three instances of persons being numbered without conforming to these criteria. These slip-ups were discovered too late in the process to justify removing them.)

I have not made particular efforts to trace descendants through female lines. That would have increased the magnitude of the task manyfold; and I understand that genealogical publishers regard such descents as of minor interest. However, when such information has come to hand—usually through persons who take considerable pride in their Huff ancestry—I have included it.

I have also included descent by adoption. Members of such lines are identified by the letter A in parentheses after their sequence numbers. In the lineage traces, the adopting parent is identified by the letter A in parentheses after his or her name.

No genealogy is truly finished until and unless it can be established that there are no descendants remaining alive. That is certainly not the case for this Huff family. I will welcome any additions or corrections to the compilation given here. Correspondence sent care of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society, 122 East 58th Street, New York, New York 10022, will eventually reach me as long as I am alive and mentally competent. It would be a pleasure to have to produce a second edition!

Finally, I must acknowledge my debt to Professor Granville W. Hough. Not only did his monumental study of Huff and Hough families introduce me to Engelbert Huff, but his further correspondence with me enabled me to become convinced that Engelbert was indeed my ancestor, and made me aware of the Canadian branch of the family, as well as providing much other information; and he continually supplied encouragement in my project.

Part I. The First Two Generations—Plus

The origins of our Huff family are uncertain. Even our knowledge of the place of origin relies on the statement of our immigrant ancestor, Engelbert Hoff, who claimed to have been born in Norway. He was evidently in the New World by 1700; and essentially the only records in Norway prior to that time are private family records, the chances of finding which are infinitesimal. One researcher has conjectured that Engelbert's father, possibly named Leonhardt, migrated from Germany to Norway toward the end of the Thirty Years' War. This is plausible, but there is no evidence to support it.

Engelbert's name usually appears in the records as Hof or Hoff. Those of his children are usually Hoff. But with the third generation, the name starts commonly being rendered as Huff, and most of his subsequent descendants have used that form. That or its principal alternative, Hough, will be used almost exclusively in this work.

Chapter 1. The Immigrant Ancestor

1. Engelbert[1] Hoff was supposedly born in Norway in about 1637. His early life is shrouded in the mists of history. Even his birth date is a matter of assumption. It is supported chiefly by two events that he told about in later life. For one, he claimed that he was a lad out plowing behind a team when news was brought to his country of the execution of Charles I of England. That, of course, was in 1649; if we assume that Engelbert must have been ten or twelve years old to be driving a plow, we arrive at a birth year of 1637 to 1639. The second is that he told of having "escaped" or "deserted" from a Dutch warship in the Hudson River, and swum to shore to settle in the wilderness. The last time a Dutch warship was in the Hudson was van Couwenhoven's ship that was stationed at Wappingers during the Esopus wars in 1662. If we assume that he must have been at least in his late teens or early twenties to have been either a prisoner or in military service, we again arrive at a birth year not far from 1640.

One correspondent reports a family tradition that Engelbert came to the New World with William Penn. This is not in harmony with the story of his having escaped from a Dutch warship. In addition, Engelbert seems to have been firmly associated with Lutheran and/or Reformed churches, so that the connection with Penn seems unlikely. The story probably arose in one of the Canadian Quaker branches of the family (see Part V), as it was common in Canada around the middle of the 19th century to assume that all Quakers had migrated from Pennsylvania.

Engelbert is also supposed to have served in the Life Guard of William, Prince of Orange, who later became William III of England. One version of the story says that this service was during the reign of James II of England; this does not fit with the rest of his story, as he would have been about 50 years old at that time, and would somehow have to have returned to the Old World after his "escape" and then come back to America. However, William's tenure as Prince of Orange began at his birth, in 1650, and so Engelbert could indeed have served in his troops before 1662. The alternative is that the other two stories are fictional, and that he was not born until about 1660. However, there is no indication that Engelbert himself claimed to have served in England, and the idea may well have originated with Canadians who took note of William of Orange's later rank and who took advantage of the opportunity to form a connection with the Motherland. Engelbert's contemporaries seem to have accepted the earlier date, and this account will do likewise.

According to his own story, he settled in the wilderness in what is now Dutchess County, New York, and lived alone for several years. The next landmark in his life is recorded in one of his obituaries: During Queen Anne's War, he sailed as a privateer with "the noted Capt. Claver." After his return, about 1706, he married Maria Willemsze or Williams, the daughter of Robert and Grace (Beselie) (Cerant)[a] Williams of Philipse Manor (now Tarrytown), Westchester County, New York. She was about 16 years old at the time. He became a tenant farmer, and continued in that rank all his life. He seems to have lived in the northern part of what is now Westchester County until some time after 1729, when he moved to the neighborhood of Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York.

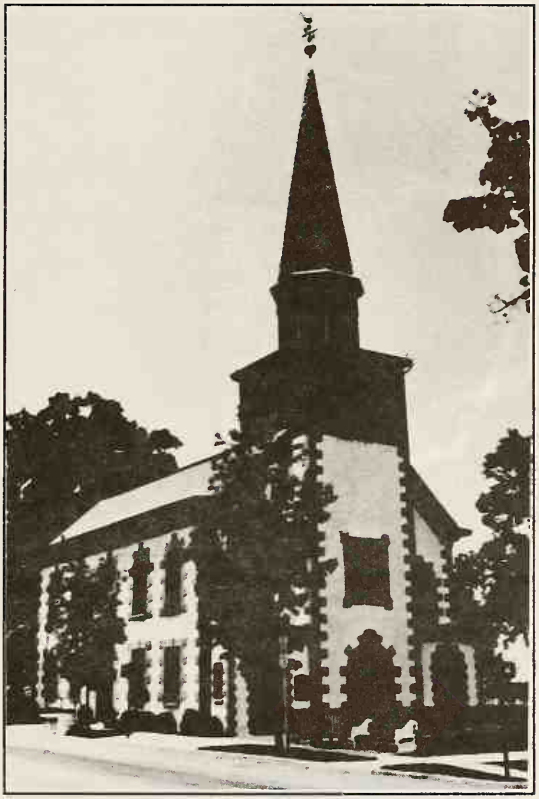
[a]The surname of Grace's first husband is sometimes claimed to be an alternate form of Canniff. The only support for such a claim seems to be that in the record of the baptism of her granddaughter (4) Maria Hof, for whom she was a sponsor, her name is given as Maria Cenniff. This is probably an error on the part of the Dominie.



The Dutch Reformed Church of Fishkill, New York. (Picture courtesy of the Rev. Ronald Harrison[8] Palmer.)

The biography of one of his descendants states that he was "a man of considerable local celebrity for his scholarship, which was thought remarkable for that early day and locality." His obituary tells that he "could read common print very fluently," and "never used spectacles"; certainly the ability to read would not have been common among tenant farmers.

Maria presumably died in about 1732, as Engelbert was said to have lived a widower 33 years. In about 1758, at the age of 121, he went courting again. He was quite incensed when, despite his evident knowledge of how to treat a wife, the lady in question turned him down in favor of someone nearer her age—100 years younger than he! He died on 21 March 1765, from a wound in his hip incurred in a fall. He was evidently quite well thought of, as his landlord, Samuel Verplanck, at his own death in 1820, presented to the Dutch Reformed Church of Fishkill and to Trinity Episcopal Church, Fishkill, identical silver flagons bearing the following inscription:

One of the silver flagons presented by Samuel Verplanck in memory of Engelbert[1] Huff.

> Presented by Samuel Verplanck, Esq., to the First Reformed Dutch Church in the town of Fishkill, to commemorate Mr. Eglebert [sic] Huff, by birth a Norwegian, in his lifetime attached to the life guards of the Prince of Orange, afterward King William III of England. He resided for a number of years in this country, and died, with unblemished reputation, at Fishkill, 21st of March, 1765, aged 128 years.

He was buried near the east wall of the Reformed Dutch Church of Hopewell, Dutchess County, New York; the church was later expanded, and his burial place is now under the church wall.

Engelbert and Maria had nine children. Of the nine, Leonhardt was baptized in the Lutheran Church in New York City, Willem in the Dutch Reformed Church in New York City, and Anna Margaretha in the meeting at Quaseck (now Newburgh, Orange County, New York) of the Lutheran Church of New York City; the others were baptized in the First Reformed Church of Tarrytown, Westchester County, New York (the "Old Dutch Church of Sleepy Hollow"). The nine are as follows:

+ 2. Greesze Hoff, ca 1607–?.
+ 3. Leonhardt Hoff, ca 1609–?.
4. Maria Hoff, baptized on 25 March 1712, sponsors Robert Willemse and Maria Cenniff[b]; n. f. i.
+ 5. Willem Hoff, ca 1714–?.
+ 6. Anna Margaretha Hoff, 4 October 1716–?.
7. Helena Hoff, baptized on 16 October 1719, sponsors Hendrick and Annatie Namburgh; n. f. i.
+ 8. Mara Hoff, ca 1724–?.
+ 9. Johannis Hoff, ca 1726–?.
10. Abraham Hoff, baptized on 29 March 1729, sponsors Robbart Willems and Jannitie his wife; n. f. i.

[b]As noted earlier, this appears to be an erroneous substitution for Cerant.

Chapter 2. The Second Generation

2. Greesze (Grace)[2] Hoff (Engelbert[1]) was born in Cortland Manor, Westchester County, New York. Her exact birthdate is unknown; she was baptized in the "Old Dutch Church of Sleepy Hollow," Tarrytown, Westchester County, New York, on 16 June 1707, the sponsors being Jan and Jannetje Beesly or Beselie, brother and sister-in-law of Grace's mother. On 29 March 1729, also in the Old Dutch Church, she married Sybout Abrahamse Crankheyt, born in 1701, son of Abraham Syboutse and Antje Matthysze (Buckhout) Crankheyt. Mackenzie implies that they lived in Philipsburgh, Westchester County, New York, although there is no record of baptism of their children in the records of the Old Dutch Church; the baptismal dates given here are from Mackenzie. Some time between 1731 and 1744, they supposedly moved to Philipstown, Dutchess (now Putnam) County, New York, and by 1752 they had moved to Rombout Precinct, Dutchess County, New York. The dates of their deaths are not known.

There are four children "on record," according to Mackenzie:

11. Maritie Crankheyt, baptized in 1731; n. f. i.
12. Anna Crankheyt, ca 1735–?; married Enoch Nelson; n. f. i.
13. Grace Crankheyt, ca 1748–?; married Adam Partrick; n. f. i.
14. Theunis Crankheyt, baptized in 1752; n. f. i.

3. Leonhardt[2] Hoff (Engelbert[1]) was born on 6 August 1709 in Cortland Manor, Westchester County, New York, and was baptized on 30 October 1709 in the Lutheran Church, New York City. There is no record of his first marriage, but at his second marriage he is described as "widower of Phebe Ferris." No children by the first marriage are known. His second wife was Cornelia van Texel or van Tassel, baptized on 6 November 1711 in the Old Dutch Church of Sleepy Hollow, daughter of Jan and Catharina van Texel.

Together with his brothers (5) William and (9) John, Leonhardt was listed as a private in the 3rd Company of Militia, North Battalion (William Willet, Col.; James Verplanck, Lt. Col.; Pierre van Cortland, Maj.) in 1760. Some time after that, the family seems to have moved to the neighborhood of Kinderhook, Columbia County, New York, as three of the children were married there. There is no record of the death of either Leonhardt or Cornelia.

There were six children. All but one of them were baptized in the Old Dutch Church of Tarrytown. There is no record known that specifically assigns the parentage of the sixth, Peter; the situation will be discussed later. The children:

15. Annatie Hoff, ?–?; baptized on 10 April 1736, sponsors Joannis and Annatie van Texel; married on 8 September 1753, in the Old Dutch Church, Johannis Jurckse, 1724–1772, son of Johannis and Rachel (Williams)[c] Jurckse; no issue.
16. Willem Hoff, baptized on 15 June 1737, sponsors Willem Hof and Maria Beljee; perhaps the William Huff who married Ruth Wood; n. f. i.
17. Jan Hoff, baptized on 23 January 1739, sponsors Jan and Catharina van Texel; n. f. i.

\+ 18. Peter (Pieter) Hoff, probably ca 1742–?.

---

[c]Rachel was a sister of Engelbert Huff's wife Grace Williams.

+ 19. Feebi (Phebe) Hoff, ca 1745–?.
20. Hendricus Hoff, ?–?; baptized on 26 July 1747, sponsors Hendrick van Tassel and Rachel Ecker; n. f. i.

5. William (Willem)[2] Hoff or Huff (Engelbert[1]) was born presumably in 1714 in Cortland Manor, Westchester County, New York, and was baptized on 2 April 1714 in the Dutch Reformed Church in New York City. On 22 September 1739, in the First Reformed Church of Tarrytown, Westchester County, New York, he married Elizabeth Retan or Ruttan, daughter of Paul and Elizabeth (Foseur) Ruttan, born about 1721. His subsequent life is somewhat hazy. He evidently lived in the area of Tarrytown until at least 1747, as three of his first four children were baptized there. By 1755 he was in the vicinity of Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, New York; his sixth child was baptized there, and the last three in nearby Hopewell. In 1760 he was listed as a private in the 3rd Company of Militia, North Battalion (see above under (3) Leonhardt). In 1775 he was apparently in Orange County, New York, where William, William Jr., and Solomon Huff appear on the Assessor's List for District No. 10. Also, William Huff and William and Solomon Hoff were among the signers of the Pledge of Association for the Blooming Grove District, Precinct of Goshen, Orange County. He may have been one of the party that migrated to Canada after the Revolution (see Introduction to Part II). No subsequent record is known.

William and Elizabeth had at least eight and perhaps nine children:

21. (perhaps) Maratie Hoff, ca 1740–?; n. f. i.
+ 22. Engelbert or Angle Hoff, ca 1742–?; see Part II.
+ 23. Elizabeth Hoff, ca 1744–?.
+ 24. Paul(us) Hoff, ca 1747–1818; see Part III.
+ 25. Solomon Hoff, (presumably) 1751–1828; see Part IV.
26. William Hoff, baptized on 17 August 1755, Presbyterian Church of Rombout and Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, New York; possibly the William Huff who married Ann Little, daughter of James and Sarah (Thompson) Little, of Brookfield (now Slate Hill), Wawayonda township, Orange County, New York; n. f. i. (but see Introduction to Part II).[d]
27. David Hoff, born on 15 April 1758; baptized on 18 February 1759, First Reformed Church, Hopewell, Dutchess County, New York; n. f. i.
+ 28. John Hoff, 25 October 1763 (baptized on 11 May 1764, First Reformed Church, Hopewell)–? (see Introduction to Part II).
+ 29. Zadrach (Shadrack) Hoff, ca 1767–presumably after 1820 (see Part V).

6. Anna Margaretha[2] Hoff (Engelbert[1]) was born on 4 October 1716, and was baptized on 9 May 1717 in the meeting at Quaseck (now Newburgh), Orange County, New York, of the Lutheran Church of New York City. On 6 September 1735, in the First Reformed Church of Tarrytown, Westchester County, New York, she married Richard Avery or Evere, son of John Avery of Mamaroneck, Westchester County, New York. They moved to Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, soon after their marriage, and all their children were born there. Richard died before 1758; Anna Margaretha's death date is unknown. All information about the family is from Mackenzie.

[d]Chroniclers of the family writing in about 1925 assert that William was a prisoner of "the Revolutionaries," held in Orange County. This has not been verified, but it is known that a William Huff served as a private in the King's American Regiment commanded by Col. Edmond Fanning; he was listed in their muster roll as one of several "prisoners with the Rebels."

There were five children:

30. Edward Avery, ?–?; married Rachel Daniels; n. f. i.
31. Richard Avery, ?–?; married in 1760 Abigail Emery; n. f. i.
+ 32. John R. Avery, 26 March 1739–?.
33. Joshua Avery, baptized in 1751; n. f. i.
34. Jonas Avery, baptized in 1753; n. f. i.

8. Mara[2] Huff (Engelbert[1]) was baptized on 25 April 1724 in the First Reformed Church of Tarrytown, Westchester County, New York; the sponsors were Zybout Crankheyt and Aeltje Amburgh. She married Zybout Herrickse Crankheyt, baptized on 18 April 1716, son of Herrick Syboutse and Sophia (de Ronde) Crankheyt. They moved to Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, some time before 1752, and to Kinderhook, Columbia County, New York, before 1764. The dates of their deaths are not known. The information on the family is from Mackenzie.

They had three known children:

35. Simon Crankheyt, baptized in 1752; lived in Stephentown, Rensselaer County, New York; n. f. i.
36. John Crankheyt, ca 1756–?; lived in Stephentown.
37. David Crankheyt, baptized on 1 June 1760, Reformed Church of Fishkill; married Christina Jacoby; lived in Rensselaer County, New York; n. f. i.

9. John[2] Hoff or Huff (Engelbert[1]) was baptized on 16 October 1726 in the First Reformed Church of Tarrytown, Westchester County, New York; the sponsors were Jan Beljee and his wife Helena. Further information about him is circumstantial. Mackenzie asserts that it is he who was the father of two children whose baptisms appear in the records of the Presbyterian Church of Rombout and Poughkeepsie with the father named as John Huff; no further identification is given in the records. This identification is certainly plausible, for while there were other men named John Huff living in the vicinity at the time, the name of one child, Robert, would be a reasonable one for this family, after John's maternal grandfather, while it would not be for the other families involved. Ascription to him of the oldest of the four children listed here is a bit more speculative, and is discussed in the Introduction to Part VI; that of the youngest is even more so, and is discussed in the Introduction to Part VII. For reasons given in Part VI, it is assumed here that John Hoff or Huff married, about 1750, a woman named Martha _____.

The family lived in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, and there were presumably four children:

+ 38. John Huff, 25 March 1751–26 June 1834 (see Part VI).
+ 39. Rachel Huff, ? (baptized 28 February 1764)–?.
40. Robert Huff, ? (baptized on 20 January 1756, Presbyterian Church of Rombout and Poughkeepsie)–2 May 1778; enlisted on 26 November 1776 in the 3rd New York Regiment of Militia (Capt. Swartout's regiment), as private; died in service at an unknown place.
+ 41. (prob.) Gamaliel, ca 1758–1 October 1823 (see Part VII).

Chapter 3. Some Third Generation Families

18. Pieter (Peter)[3] Hoff or Huff (Leonhardt[2], Engelbert[1]) was born probably about 1742, in Cortland Manor, Westchester County, New York. No record of his birth or baptism has been found. The ascription of his parentage is based on the fact that he named one of his children Leendert (Leonard); this fits with the cultural pattern of naming a child after its paternal grandfather, and no other Huff or Hoff family in the area used the name. On 13 September 1772, in the Kinderhook Dutch Reformed Church, Kinderhook, Columbia County, New York, he married Eva Erkenbrecht, born on 13 March 1751, daughter of Johannes and Anna Maria (Moor) Erkenbrecht. Other than this record, that of Eva's baptism, and those of the baptisms of their three children in the Dutch Reformed Church of Kinderhook, there is no information about them. It is possible that they moved elsewhere, but there is no particular reason to think so.

The three children:

42. Johannes Huff, baptized on 6 February 1774, sponsors Johannes Dingenman and Lisabeth Erkenbrecht his wife; possibly the John P. (for Pietersze?) Huff who married, on 12 April 1795 in the Dutch Reformed Church of Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, Sarah Hoff, probably the daughter of Lawrence and Catherine (Shurrie) Huff born on 9 January 1775; n. f. i.
43. Leendert Huff, baptized on 19 January 1777, sponsors William Erkenbrecht and Dorcas Dorn; n. f. i.
44. Catharina Huff, baptized on 23 January 1780, sponsors Johannes Elkenbreg [sic] and Susanna Schepper; n. f. i.

19. Phebe (Feebie)[3] Hoff or Huff (Leonhardt[2], Engelbert[1]) was baptized, presumably soon after her birth, in the First Reformed Church of Tarrytown, Westchester County, New York, on 30 August 1745; the sponsors were Johannis and Catrina de Ravier. She is probably the one who married, on 28 April 1780 in the Kinderhook Dutch Reformed Church, Kinderhook, Columbia County, New York, James Williams of "Old England." This couple had one known child:

45. Maria Williams, baptized on 1 August 1784, sponsors Jakob Smith and Maria Wolff his wife; n. f. i.

23. Elizabeth[3] Huff (William[2], Engelbert[1]) was baptized, presumably shortly after her birth, on 10 November 1744 in the First Reformed Church of Tarrytown, Westchester County, New York, the sponsors being Isaak and Eva Zie. On 5 August 1765, in the Presbyterian Church of Rombout and Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, New York, she married Peter Berger or Burger.[e] Peter and Elizabeth apparently continued to live in the area until at least 1769. Nothing is known of them thereafter.

---

[e]The record of the marriage gives her name as Mary; but the records of the baptisms of the children of Peter Burger identify her as Elizabeth.

Two children are known, both baptized in the First Reformed Church, Hopewell, Dutchess County, New York:

59. Elizabeth Burger, baptized on 15 March 1767; n. f. i.
60. Paulus Berger, born on 1 December 1768 (baptized on 26 February 1769, sponsor Paulus Huff; n. f. i.

32. John R.[3] Avery (Anna Margaretha[2] Hoff, Engelbert[1]) was born on 26 March 1739, according to Mackenzie, presumably in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York. On 1 April 1761, he married Sarah Griffin, daughter of Joshua Griffin. Mackenzie lists three children as "known":

79. Elizabeth Avery, ? (baptized 1762)–?; married John David; n. f. i.
80. Margaret Avery, ? (baptized in 1765)–?; n. f. i.
81. Mary Avery, ? (baptized in 1767)–?; n. f. i.

39. Rachel[3] Huff (John[2], Engelbert[1]) was born presumably in 1754 or late 1753, probably in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York. She was baptized on 28 February 1754 in the Presbyterian Church of Rombouts and Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County. She is presumably the one who married, on 24 June 1781 in the Reformed Church of Rhinebeck, Dutchess County, New York, Jacobus Westfall. Nothing further is known of the couple except that they had two children, both baptized in the Dutch Reformed Church of Rhinebeck Flats, Dutchess County, New York:

93. Simon Westfall, 2 March 1782 (baptized on 31 March 1782)–?; n. f. i.
94. Leah Westfall, 11 November 1784 (baptized on 11 December 1784)–?; n. f. i.

Part II. The Angle Huff Line

Like many other families of the time, the Huff family was divided in its loyalties at the time of the Revolution. At least two members are known to have served with the Patriots, while at least one is known to have served with the Loyalists. The signing of the peace treaty did not lead to the forgetting, let alone the forgiving, of past enmities. In many states, the property of those who had remained loyal to the King was forfeit; and in almost all, such people were stigmatized and harassed. Under the circumstances, many looked for alternatives. These were to be found in England itself, in the British West Indies, and in Canada.

In the fall of 1783, a sizable party of New Yorkers under the leadership of Major Peter Van Alstyne, sometime of Kinderhook, Columbia County, New York, sailed from New York City, bound for Canada. Among them were Paul, Angle, William (presumably the father), and John Huff. By the time they had to halt for the winter, they had reached the settlement of Sorel, present Richelieu County, Québec, about three quarters of the distance from the city of Québec to Montréal. There they camped for the winter, and built batteaux to continue the journey. Meanwhile, the authorities had determined to grant them land west of Kingston, Frontenac County, Ontario, in a township then known as Fourth Town. The party left Sorel on 21 May 1784.

The Thousand Islands are generally associated with the St. Lawrence River, but the group actually extends well into Lake Ontario. The westernmost major one, Amherst Island, is some 25 kilometers west of Kingston. A few miles beyond it, there is an opening in the shore as if into a channel behind another island. The shore on the north side is low, sloping gently away from the water. On the south side there is a point of land which soon rises to a height of about a hundred meters. This opening proves to be the mouth of a bay, shaped roughly like the letter Z. Below the upper bar of the Z, the shore is, with exceptions, again low and often marshy before rising to the highlands. Somewhere in this low area was a spot sacred to the aboriginal inhabitants. Their name for it, as nearly as it can be rendered phonetically, seems to have been Kente. The earliest explorers, the French, expressed this in their orthography as Quinté. The English, arriving later, in typical fashion took the French spelling and pronounced it as if it were English, "Kwinty"; and the bay became the Bay of Quinte. The party under Van Alstyne entered this bay and, on 16 June 1784, landed on the inside of the first angle, in what would become the township of Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. For upwards of a hundred years to come, the environs of the Bay of Quinte were to be the home for many of the descendants of Engelbert Huff—and some of them still live in the area another century later.

Chapter 4. The Third and Fourth Generations

22. Engelbert[3] Huff (William[2], Engelbert[1]), also known as Engel or (most commonly) Angle (occasionally spelled Angel), was baptized, presumably shortly after his birth, on 10 August 1742 in the First Reformed Church of Tarrytown, Westchester County, New York; the sponsors were Engelbert[1] Huff, his grandfather, and Elizabeth Retan, his mother. He served in Brinckerhoff's Regiment of the New York Militia (thus on the Patriot side) in the Revolution; the record consists of vouchers of payment for services in 1779 and 1780 in the amount of 11 shilling 3¾ pence. Nevertheless, he is reported to have been in the party under Van Alstyne. Dr. William Canniff, in unpublished notes on early settlers in Ontario, says that Angle, along with John (presumably his brother) and William, settled on Huff's Point in Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. However, careful search has failed to determine where this locality was, nor has any other record pertaining to him in Canada been found.

On 19 January 1764, in the Presbyterian Church of Rombout and Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, New York, he had married Belia [sic] Edwards, daughter of William and Anna (Grauberger) Edwards. Her name is given elsewhere as Beltje, which is the Dutch diminutive of Isabel. One son, John Edwards, gave her name as Delilah when he was baptized at the age of 72, but no other record uses that name.

The matter of his children poses something of a puzzle. As far as formal records go, only three children—Elizabeth, William, and John Edwards—can be firmly established as those of Angle and Beltje. However, descendants of one of Angle's grandsons, (116) Joseph, maintain that Angle was also known as Ichabod, and they list thirteen children for him, including the three already named. Two others in the list, Nathan and Saul, have names that "fit" the family, especially if Saul arises from a misinterpretation of "Sol," a nickname for Solomon. But most of the rest of the names, except for some that were in widespread use at the time, do not appear elsewhere in the family. Nor is there any public record establishing the existence, let alone the parentage, of persons with any but two of the other names. Nevertheless, one of these two lists his children in his will, including one named Edwards; and the name with the final "s" continues in the line, supporting the connection with Angle's wife. The entire listing is therefore accepted here; the first ten were presumably born in Dutchess County, New York, and the last three in Adolphustown:

+ 46. Isaac Huff, ca 1764–1813.
47. Elizabeth Huff, baptized on 14 June 1767, First Reformed Church, Hopewell, Dutchess County, New York; n. f. i.
48. Hannah Huff, ca 1767–?; n. f. i.
49. Dinah Huff, ca 1769–?; presumably the one who married on 15 March 1795, in the Dutch Reformed Church of Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, George Adriance[a]; n. f. i.
50. Eve Huff, ca 1771–?; n. f. i.
51. Susan Huff, ca 1773–?; n. f. i.
52. Catherine Huff, ca 1775–?; n. f. i.
53. Amy Huff, ca 1777–?; n. f. i.
54. Abraham Huff, ca 1779–?; n. f. i.

---

[a]Genealogists of the Adriance family have not identified this George Adriance. Thus that conceivable avenue of information about his wife's parentage is closed off.

+ 55. William Huff, probably ca 1781–before 1834.
+ 56. John Edwards Huff, 1790–1872.
57. Nathan Huff, probably ca 1792–?; n. f. i.
58. Saul (or Sol?) Huff, probably ca 1794–?; n. f. i.

46. Isaac[4] Huff (Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1764 in Dutchess County, New York. He married Sarah Tripp, born on 14 June 1768 in Long Island City, Queens County, New York, but living by then in Kingston, Ulster County, New York. Sarah was a Quaker, but the records of Creek Monthly Meeting, of which she would have been a member at the time of her marriage, for that period are lost. It is possible, in fact, that she was never actually under care of meeting, as there is no mention of her in the records of Adolphustown Monthly Meeting in Ontario, where the family evidently moved. However, many of her descendants also regarded themselves as Quakers. When the family moved to Canada is not known; several of the children are said to have been born in New York. At any rate, they seem to have settled in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario; Isaac's will was filed there. He died in 1813, and Sarah in February 1854.

Isaac and Sarah had ten children, named in Isaac's will; the order is given variously by different sources, and that used here is that in the will, with approximate dates deduced from that order and the four definite birth dates known:

+ 100. Isaac Huff, ca 1791–1883.
+ 101. Hannah Huff, ca 1792–?.
102. Jane Huff, ca 1793–?; n. f. i.
+ 103. Jemima Huff, 27 June 1794–10 February 1869.
+ 104. Lydia Huff, 16 June 1797–18 December 1874.
105. Mary Huff, ca 1799–?; married David Mills; n. f. i.
+ 106. Job Huff, ca 1800–1832.
+ 107. John Huff, 7 April 1806–?.
+ 108. Abraham Huff, 20 July 1808–14 February 1853.
109. Edwards Huff, November 1813–February 1879; n. f. i.

55. William[4] Huff (Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1781, probably in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York. Whether he went to Canada with his father is unknown; but if he did, he returned, and in 1795 he was living in northeastern Dutchess County. On 16 September 1795, he was accepted as a convinced Friend by the Nine Partners Monthly Meeting of Quakers. On 25 September 1800, he married Mary Haight, daughter of Thomas and Rachel (Hoag) Haight; he named his parents as Angle and Billachie (evidently an approximate phonetic rendering of Beltje) Huff, the latter being deceased.

On 21 June 1804, William and Mary and two children received clearance to Creek Monthly Meeting. On 16 January 1807, William and Mary and three children received clearance to Stanford (still in Dutchess County) Monthly Meeting. On 18 January 1834, Mary, then listed as a widow, and her daughters received clearance to Farmington (Wayne County, New York) Monthly Meeting, of the Hicksite division; Isaac received similar clearance on 22 February 1834. The entire family received clearance in the Orthodox division on 17 October 1835. No further information on Mary is available, but census records suggest that she was living with her son Isaac in the town of Marion, Wayne County, New York, in 1840.

William and Mary had four children:

110. Sarah Huff, ca 1802 (Dutchess County, New York)–?; n. f. i.
111. Isaac Huff, ca 1804 (Dutchess County)–9 September 1898 (town of Williamson, Wayne County, New York); married three times; no information regarding his first wife; second wife's given name Fannie, born about 1812, n. f. i.; third wife's given name Anna, dead by 15 May 1899 as judged by her absence from Isaac's probate record, n. f. i.; no issue.
112. James Huff, ca 1807 (Dutchess County)–?; n. f. i.
113. Susan(nah) Huff, ca 1809 (town of Stanford, Dutchess County, New York)–?; living, unmarried, with her brother Isaac in Wayne County, New York, in 1855; n. f. i.

56. John Edwards[4] Huff (Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1790. Some sources give his birthplace as Dutchess County, New York; but this is inconsistent with the history of his father's life, and a more likely birthplace is Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County (at the time merely part of Midland District), Ontario. He married Hulda Hicks, born about 1794, the daughter of Joseph Hicks. As of the Canadian census of 1871, he was living in Euphemia, Lambton County, Ontario, with his son Abraham. He died in April 1872, probably in Lambton County.[b] Hulda appears to have died before 1871; as of the 1861 census, she had been living with her daughter (120) Eleanor (Huff) Perritt.

John and Hulda had seven children:

+ 114. David Huff, ca 1814–?.
+ 115. Abraham Huff, ca 1816–after 1871.
+ 116. Joseph Huff, 24 April 1818–8 February 1894.
+ 117. George Edwards Huff, 1822–1892.
118. Eliza Huff, ca 1825–?; married in Tilbury, Essex County, Ontario, William Wilson; n. f. i.
119. Samuel Huff (twin), 9 April 1827–?; n. f. i.
+ 120. Eleanor Huff (twin), 9 April 1827–?.

[b]Some sources maintain that this should be Lambton, Alberta, Canada. There appears never to have been such a place, however; and a genealogist in Alberta notes that the province was virtually uninhabited at that time.

Chapter 5. The Fifth Generation

100. Isaac[5] Huff (Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1791, supposedly in Dutchess County, New York. He married, first, Elizabeth (Bowerman?[c]), and the couple is listed in Hallowell, Prince Edward County, Ontario, in the 1851 census; no children are listed. Elizabeth evidently died shortly after that, and Isaac married, second, on 25 December 1855, Amarilla Smith; the marriage was performed by the Rev. Robert McDowell. The family moved to Bonarlaw, Rawdon township, Hastings County, Ontario, and lived the rest of their lives there. Isaac died in 1883, and Amarilla in 1919; they are buried in Twelfth Line Cemetery in Rawdon township.

Isaac and Amarilla had four children:

+ 264. William Edward Huff, 1854–31 March 1922.
265. Jane Huff, ca 1858–?; n. f. i.
266. Mary Huff, 1868–?; n. f. i.
267. Amarilla Huff, ca 1868–?; n. f. i.

101. Hannah[4] Huff (Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born probably about 1792, supposedly in Dutchess County, New York. At an unknown date she married John Wildman or Wileman. They lived in Wellington village, Prince Edward County, Ontario. Nothing further is known of them except that they had at least one child:

+ 268. Charles G. Wileman, 30 July 1826–?.

103. Jemima[4] Huff (Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 27 June 1794, reportedly in Dutchess County, New York. She married James Mills, born about 1790 in Dutchess County. They lived in Yarmouth, Elgin County, Ontario. James died in September 1853, and Jemima on 10 February 1869. They had six children:

269. Isaac Huff Mills, 4 June 1815–17 June 1862; n. f. i.
270. Sarah Jane Mills, 27 June 1817–8 December 1842; n. f. i.
271. Drusilla Mills, 20 April 1819–?; married William Harvey; n. f. i.
272. Hannah Mills, 12 May 1822–April 1854; married Isaac Moore; n. f. i.
273. Abraham Mills, 13 September 1824–?; n. f. i.
274. James Mills, Jr., 13 November 1829–4 November 1848; n. f. i.

104. Lydia[4] Huff (Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 16 June 1797, supposedly in Dutchess County, New York. She married David Losee, born on 10 September 1783 in Oyster Bay, Nassau County (then part of Queens County), New York. They evidently lived for a time in Haldimand township, Northumberland County, Ontario; then in Hallowell, Prince Edward County, Ontario; then in Yarmouth, Elgin County, Ontario; in Zone, Kent County, Ontario; in Nauvoo, Hancock County, Illinois, where David died on 23 September 1844; and in Manti, Sanpete County, Utah, where Lydia died on 28 December 1874. They had nine children:

[c]See later under (106) Job.

+ 275. Abraham Losee, 6 September 1814 (Haldimand, Northumberland County, Ontario)–25 October 1887.
+ 276. Isaac Huff Losee, 5 October 1816 (Hallowell township)–20 February 1891.
+ 277. Mary Jane Losee, 4 October 1820 (Hallowell township)–23 November 1881; married (116) Joseph Huff.
+ 278. Jemima Losee, 30 September 1823 (Hallowell township)–8 March 1901.
279. John Losee, 25 March 1826–13 October 1841.
280. Rebecca Losee, 31 July 1828–?; married _____ Pratt; n. f. i.
+ 281. Sarah Losee, 27 March 1831–1909.
282. Matilda Losee (twin), 24 July 1834 (Zone township)–22 November 1896; married John Lotte Snow; n. f. i.
+ 283. Lydia Margaret Losee (twin), 24 July 1834–27 December 1921.

106. Job[5] Huff (Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1800 in Prince Edward County, Ontario. He is said to have married, first, Elizabeth Bowerman.[d] He married, probably about 1825, Sarah Mason Sprung, born on 21 October 1807, the daughter of Gabriel and Maria (Bayard) Sprung. They lived in Prince Edward County. Job died in 1832, and Sarah married Joseph Walker, by whom she had six children. She died on 24 October 1892.

Job had four children by Sarah:

+ 284. Isaac B. Huff, ca 1826–?.
285. Richard Huff, ?–?; n. f. i., but see Appendix A.
286. Drusilla Huff, ?–?; married on 12 November 1851 Levi Case of Sodus, Wayne County, New York; n. f. i.
+ 287. Gabriel Bayard Huff, 10 October 1830–22 September 1918.

107. John[5] Huff (Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 7 April 1806 in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. He married Appolonia Osborn or Ausborn, born in 1810 in New York. They lived in Canada until after all their children were born; then they moved to Nebraska, and are listed in the 1860 census in Sarpy County. There were seven children:

288. Job Huff, 31 July 1836–27 March 1864; n. f. i.

[d]This is open to question, as intimated under (100 Isaac, who is known to have had a wife named Elizabeth. Any record made at the time would have been handwritten, and "I" for Isaac may have been misread as "J" and interpreted as pertaining to Job. It seems unlikely, though not impossible, that Job would have been married for a second time by the time he was only 25 years old. Unfortunately, no Bowerman records are known that bear on this point.

289. William Edwards Huff,[e] 12 June 1838–?; married on 25 December 1861 Emmaline Tuttey; n. f. i.
+ 290. Hiram Huff, 27 September 1842–20 May 1899.
291. Henry Huff, 23 August–2 September 1844.
+ 292. Byron Huff, 15 August 1845–1 August 1920.
293. Almyra Huff, 7 September 1848–?; n. f. i.
294. Melicia Huff, 21 October 1850–?; n. f. i.
+ 295. Isaac Huff, 26 August 1856–?.

108. Abraham[5] Huff (Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 20 July 1808 at Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. By late 1826, he had moved west, and on 31 October 1826, in Yarmouth, Elgin County, Ontario, he married Rachel Heaton, a Quaker, born on 25 November 1808 in Independence township, Sussex County, New Jersey, the daughter of Jonathan and Anne (Ware) Heaton. Abraham died on 14 February 1853 in Yarmouth; Rachel, on 21 August 1873 in Michigan.

Abraham and Rachel had eight children, all born in Yarmouth township:

296. Sarah Ann Huff, 9 August 1827–1 November 1862; married Hiram Wilson; n. f. i.
297. Mary Huff, 11 June 1829–21 August 1832.
298. Lydia Huff, 22 September 1831–15 May 1857; n. f. i.
299. Almira Huff, 31 January 1834–12 May 1906; married on 10 January 1854, in Yarmouth, John Clarke Simpson, born on 12 October 1823 in Brighton, Northumberland County, Ontario, a farmer; children Sarah J. who married Ira Forshee, William H., Emma R., Alonzo, and John M.; n. f. i.
300. Elizabeth Huff, 19 May 1836–21 February 1912; married on 3 November 1858 Ben W. Mandeville; n. f. i.
+ 301. John Abram Huff, 22 December 1838–21 May 1902.
+ 302. William Huff, 21 April 1841–24 November 1935.
+ 303. James Huff, 20 March 1845–2 February 1929.

114. David[5] Huff (John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1814 in Marysburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. On 18 April 1832, in Marysburgh, he was married by the Rev. Robert James McDowell to Rebecca Fredenburgh. By about 1833 he was reportedly living in Brantford, Brant County, Ontario. Only one child is known:

+ 304. Benjamin Huff, 4 July 1830–24 May 1904.

115. Abraham[5] Huff (John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1816 in Hallowell, Prince Edward County, Ontario. He married Ann Jane (Terry) Carr, born in about 1819 in Ireland.

[e]One source suggests that this is the same as an Edward T. Huff, born in Canada in 1838, who appears in the 1880 census of Sarpy County, Nebraska, with wife Emma C., born in Pennsylvania in 1840, and children (all born in Nebraska) Alice (1863), William (1866), and Albert (1868). The similarities make the proposition attractive, but the difference between William Edwards and Edward T. argues against it.

When he moved to Lambton County, Ontario, is unknown, but he was living there as of the 1861 census, when he was listed in Euphemia township. He was described as a farmer, a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and illiterate. By 1871, his father had joined the household, while most of the children had left home. He died on 20 December 1877 in Euphemia. In 1881, Ann was living with their son William. In 1891, however, she was living alone. When she died is unknown.

There were eight children:

+ 305. Joseph P. Huff, ca 1842–?.
+ 306. Elizabeth Ann Huff, ca 1844–?.
307. David H. Huff, ca 1847–?; said to have become a Mormon and moved to Utah; n. f. i.
308. John E. Huff, ca 1849–?; likewise said to have become a Mormon and moved to Utah; n. f. i.
+ 309. William James Huff, ca 1849–10 January 1916.
310. Mary Elinor Huff, ca 1853–?; married on 18 November 1867 Edward Hallman; n. f. i.
311. Sara Ann Huff, ca 1855–?; married Thomas Grant; living in San Francisco, California, as of January 1916; n. f. i.
312. Lucy Teresa Huff, 26 January–6 November 1859.

116. Joseph[5] Huff (John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 24 April 1818 in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. On 10 May 1836, in Hallowell township, he married (277) Mary Jane Losee, daughter of David and (104) Lydia (Huff) Losee, born on 4 October 1820. The following account is edited from a biographical sketch of Mary Jane Losee Huff written by one of her grand-daughters, Mary[6] (Huff) Pope.

> Joseph and Mary Jane lived in Hallowell for a short time after their marriage and then moved to Euphemia, Lambton County, Ontario. Here their first two children, James and Jemima, were born; Jemima died at the age of two. Here also they became acquainted with the Mormon Elders and Joseph was baptized and joined the church in 1837. Mary Jane was slower to accept the new religion, and was not baptized until August 1840. After their conversion they wanted to be nearer other Mormons and left their home in Canada, arriving in Nauvoo, Hancock County, Illinois, on 13 July 1841. Joseph and his wife homesteaded 160 acres in their new country.
> Ill will and distrust against the Mormons grew among their neighbors, becoming worse after the death of Joseph Smith in 1844, and in the spring of 1846 the entire group of Mormons were driven out of Nauvoo by a mob. With only a few moments' warning, they were unable to save more than a handful of their things, and the meager possessions the Huffs were able to take contained only two changes of clothing for their six-weeks-old baby, David. As they crossed the Mississippi River into Iowa, they could look back and watch their home going up in smoke, consumed by fire set by the torches of the angry mob.
> In Iowa Joseph started freighting, and breeding blooded Hambletonian horses, some of which he later brought to Utah. Then, following the Mormons' westward movement, the Huffs went on to Grand Island, Hall County, Nebraska.
> Joseph opened a store in Grand Island, and got along very well, both financially and personally, with the many Indians who made up the bulk of his clientele. One day all the men were away, leaving Mary Jane with only her children and a neighbor, a Mrs. Carl, when a band of Indians came to trade. One buck saw a flour sieve and decided it would make a fine drum. It was a shallow round pan, about twelve inches across and two inches deep, with a screen in the bottom. He grabbed it in one hand and Mary Jane grabbed it in both of hers. Looking him straight in the eyes, she kept shaking her head and saying "No." In an attempt to frighten her into letting go, the Indian raised his tomahawk in his other hand and shook it threateningly, all the while yanking at the sieve, but she would not let go. Perhaps he was afraid to do more because he was well known at the store. At any rate, he gave in before Mary Jane did and went away, leaving her with the sieve still clutched in her hands. After the Indians had left, Mrs. Carl asked why Mary Jane hadn't let them have the sieve. They might have been killed for refusing it and it wasn't worth a lot of money anyway. But Mary Jane had not dared. If she had let him have it, she explained, or shown any fright, they would have taken everything they wanted in the store as well as the house. The sieve would have only been the first step for the Indians, and no one knew where they might have stopped.

By 1861, Joseph felt that they had enough means to go on to Utah. The family pulled up stakes and moved west. Joseph and Mary Jane were both prudent and far-sighted. They began preparing well in advance and had made enough moves to know what would be necessary and what to leave behind. They prepared well, stocking up with provisions and supplies from the store for the final trek. At the time they made their decisions, there was a forty-gallon barrel half full of crackers in the store. Mary Jane asked Joseph to stop selling any, and baked enough more to fill the barrel for them to take on the trip. There was a young woman who was very anxious to make the trip, but lacked funds to pay her way. Joseph told her they would take her with them if she would help get ready and then help Mary Jane with the children during the journey. She agreed and everything was going well until she fell ill about two weeks before they were to leave and they all thought she would have to stay behind. When the date of their departure rolled around, the captain of their wagon train said they could take her if they wanted, but would have to care for her themselves. They decided to let her go and made a bed for her in one of their wagons. Instead of being able to assist Mary Jane, she needed extensive care herself for the first weeks of the trip, and even had to be lifted out of the wagon. However, she did recover and when the party reached Wyoming, met a man and married, never completing her trip to Utah as far as the Huffs ever learned.

Besides the sick woman the Huff party included Joseph, Mary Jane, and their nine children. They left Grand Island with two sturdy wagons loaded as heavily as the captain would allow, drawn by teams of oxen, and taking additional oxen to change off, several milk cows, and some of their blooded horses. The older boys rode horseback from Nebraska to Utah driving the spare oxen and the milk cows before them.

According to usual wagon-train standards, the Huffs were well off. Their long-range planning was evident in the comforts they enjoyed along the way. At night Mary Jane would set the milk in pans and skim the cream off the next morning, putting it into her churn and adding the morning's milk. The jolting over the road did the rest, and each night she had a pat of butter floating in the churn, giving the family all the butter they could use. All along the trip they shared some of the butter, milk, and buttermilk with children, nursing mothers, and ill fellow travelers. The wagon-train captain habitually stopped by their wagon to get a fresh drink of buttermilk to wash the dirt from his throat. On stormy, wet nights, or when the company made camp after dark, they were spared the search for dry buffalo chips and wood in order to cook the night's bread. Mary Jane would dip into the cracker barrel and they had no trouble making a satisfactory meal with crackers and all the butter and milk they wanted.

They arrived in Utah in the fall of 1861 and lived in Sugarhouse until they could find a place to settle down. Mary Jane again got into her trunks and traded pins, needles, buttons, thread, and other hard-to-get notions for vegetables they were too late to raise, a trade that was welcomed by the settlers just as much as by the Huffs. However, she shed many tears over the things she had been forced to leave behind.

The Huffs moved to Upton, Summit County, above Coalville, on what was then called Chalk Creek but was later renamed Huff Creek after them. Joseph built and operated the first sawmill in that area, and later built several. They took up enough land for a ranch and began building up a herd of range cattle, and built a home, out-buildings, and fences. This was permanent. This was meant to be their last home. Joseph was appointed Presiding Elder of the Latter Day Saints Church on 9 June 1865, a position he held until Upton ward was organized and he was appointed Bishop. He served in these two positions as long as he remained in Upton, fourteen years.

Things went well for Joseph and Mary Jane in spite of the hardships all of the pioneers faced during the early days in Utah. Once they were snowbound for six weeks and it was impossible for anyone to get out for supplies. It taxed all their ingenuity to find a substitute for flour, and sometimes Mary Jane ground wheat in her coffee mill and made what she called "cake" from the coarse meal. Boiled wheat, cooled and sliced, made a good substitute, when eaten with plenty of meat, butter, and milk which they never lacked.

Mary Jane still had more butter than the family could use and sold the surplus in one- and two-pound rolls. When her sons went on the mountain she would make a tasty dish from cottage cheese for them to take with them. After the cheese was made whe would put it into a thin sack and hang it overnight to drain. The next morning she would mix butter, salt, and pepper with it and mould it into balls. These kept for days without souring.

The homestead act had been passed, and the land was being surveyed and filed on as soon as the settlers could have it done. They had all taken up their land under squatters' rights in the beginning. After fourteen years of hard work and putting everything back into the land and its improvements, Joseph planned to file his new title after he and Mary Jane made their annual trip into Salt Lake to sell their grain and trade for their winter supplies. It would be a big occasion for them. They left the ranch in the hands of their hired man, a fellow Joseph had hired the spring before. He was a good worker and needed the job to provide for his eight children. They had converted the granary into living quarters for him, and felt very secure in leaving him in charge. However, when they returned they found that he had filed on their ranch during their absence, and they had no choice but to move off, leaving the land and all the improvements they had worked so hard to make. They were only allowed to take movable things with them. They decided to go to Lake Shore, Utah County, where several of their sons had already settled. It was heartbreaking for a home-lover such as Mary Jane, and she only lived two years after this last uprooting; she died on 23 November 1881.

Although polygamy was a common practice among the Mormons, and Joseph and Mary Jane were strong believers in their adopted faith, Joseph never wanted or took a second wife as long as he had Mary Jane. After her death, he found how lonely it was to live alone. Some time later he married a Mrs. Shepherd, but the marriage was not a success and they only lived together a short time. Joseph spent most of his last few years in his rocking chair at the Lake Shore home of his son Isaac, where he died on 6 February 1893. He was laid to rest beside his Mary Jane.

Jemima[6] Losee (Lydia[5] Huff, Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 30 September 1823 either in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario, or in Zone township, Kent County, Ontario. On 27 January 1846, in Nauvoo, Hancock County, Illinois, she married Frederick Walter Cox, born on 20 January 1812 in Plymouth, Chenango County, New York, the son of Jonathan Upham and Lucinda (Blood) Cox. Frederick already, in the polygamy allowed (and even encouraged) by the Mormons, had two wives: Emeline Whiting and Cordelia Morley. In 1852, they migrated to Utah. On 11 October 1854, Frederick married Jemima's younger sister (283) Lydia; he later took a fifth wife, Emma Smith. Frederick died on 5 June 1879 in Manti, Sanpete County, Utah, and Jemima on 8 March 1901, also in Manti.

Jemima and Frederick had nine children:

776. Mary Adelaide Cox, 28 August 1848 (Pottawattamie County, Iowa)–2 November 1908 (Manti); married on 22 November 1869, in Salt Lake City, Salt Lake County, Utah, William Taylor Reid; n. f. i.

281. Sarah[6] Losee (Lydia[5] Huff, Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 18 March 1831 in Canada—probably Zone township, Kent County. She married, first, at an unknown date, John Story. He presumably died, with no issue by Sarah, as on 9 December 1858, in Lehi, Utah County, Utah, she married Robert Gribble, born on 15 November 1823 in Lanark, Perth County, Ontario.

Sarah died in 1909 in Fairview, Sanpete County, Utah, and Robert on 25 February 1914 in Spry, Garfield County, Utah.

The record of Sarah and Robert's children is confused. Only those for whom the data are detailed enough to be probably reliable are listed here:

785. Mary Jane Gribble, 18 September 1859 (Paragonah, Iron County, Utah)–16 March 1905 (Jensen, Uintah County, Utah); married (1st) on 19 October 1882, in Salt Lake City, Salt Lake County, Utah, John Alexander Angus; (2nd) Bertha Dennis Belle; n. f. i.
786. William Abraham Gribble, 3 November 1860 (Paragonah)–16 March 1906; married Christine Nelson or Jensen; n. f. i.
787. Robert Heber Gribble, ca 1861–"very young."
788. Sarah Elizabeth Gribble, 10 January 1865 (Gunnison, Sanpete County, Utah)–17 May 1955 (Milford, Beaver County, Utah); married on 18 May 1881, in Junction, Piute County, Utah, Thomas Henry Talbot; n. f. i.
789. John David Gribble, 1869 (Paragonah)–8 April 1890; n. f. i.
790. Margaret Ann Gribble, 1871–?; n. f. i.

283. Lydia Margaret[6] Losee (Lydia[5] Huff, Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 24 June 1837 in Zone township, Kent County, Ontario. On 11 October 1854, in Manti, Sanpete County, Utah, she married, as fourth wife, Frederick Walter Cox, the husband of her sister (278) Jemima. After Frederick's death, Lydia married Joseph Snow. She died on 27 December 1921 in Manti.

Lydia had three children, all by Frederick, and all born in Manti:

791. Samuel Cox, 11 December 1855–2 January 1857.
792. Charles Adelbert Cox, 24 January 1857–29 May 1942; married on 1 December 1880, in St. George, Washington County, Utah, Sabra Ellen Stringham; n. f. i.
793. Amanda Cox, 1 July 1859–23 September 1913; married on 1 December 1880 Horton Tuttle; n. f. i.

284. Isaac[6] Huff (Job[5], Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1826 in Prince Edward County, Ontario. He was a saddler and harness maker. About 1848 he married Mary A(nn?) _____. Mary evidently died before 1861, as Isaac was listed as a widower in the census of 1861. On 22 April of that year, he married Philadelphia Vincent, known as Phila, born about 1825, the daughter of G. and M. Vincent. Phila died on 26 January 1911; Isaac had predeceased her at an unknown date.

Isaac had two known children, both by Mary:

794. Theresa Huff, ca 1849–?; married on 15 October 1868 Charles W. Hogle; n. f. i.
795. Lewis M. G. Huff, ca 4 November 1855–4 October 1859; buried in Hicksite Friends Cemetery, Bloomfield, Prince Edward County, Ontario.

286. Gabriel Bayard[6] Huff (Job[5], Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 10 October 1830 in Prince Edward County, Ontario. At an early age he began learning the trade of carpenter, and worked at that and at farming until about 1849, when he is said to have moved to New York. On 9 April 1851, in Smithfield, Brighton township, Northumberland County, Ontario, he married Sarah Jane Beadle (or Bedal or Bedell), born on 15 September 1831 in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. The couple lived first in New York. In 1852 they moved to Marquette County, Wisconsin, and in 1860 to Minnesota, where Gabriel was a farmer in Dover township, Olmsted County.

On 29 February 1864, Gabriel enlisted in Company C, Brackett's Cavalry Battalion, Minnesota Volunteers, and served until 24 May 1866. He took cold after fording the Yellowstone River, and was hospitalized in Sioux City, Woodbury County, Iowa, from 24 October 1864 until December. The illness resulted in rheumatism and digestive difficulties that remained with him for the rest of his life; he was granted a disability pension. He died on 22 September 1918; Sarah had died on 29 November 1897.

Gabriel and Sarah had four children:

796. Willard Henry Huff, 2 February 1852 (New York)–17 June 1926 (Canton, Lincoln County, South Dakota); a farmer; married (1st) on 2 April 1884, in South Dakota, Alice McKillips, born in Illinois in January 1949 per 1900 census; (2nd) May Carrar; no issue.

799. George Byron Huff, 15 December 1871 (Dover township)–20 January 1939 (Gallatin County, Minnesota); a farmer; married on 24 November 1903 Helen Knake; no issue.[g]

290. Hiram[6] Huff (John[5], Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1843, presumably in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. He was living with the family in Nebraska in 1860, but evidently returned to Canada shortly thereafter and lived in Blenheim, Kent County, Ontario. On 8 January 1866, he married Jane Burk, born on 10 April 1843. Jane died on 25 September 1894, and Hiram died on 20 May 1899 in Almena, Norton County, Kansas. They lived in Sarpy County until some time between 1877 and 1885, and thereafter seem to have moved about quite a bit. Elizabeth died on 17 April 1916 in Cedarview, Uintah County, Utah, and Byron on 1 August 1920 in Gunnison, Gunnison County, Colorado. They had seven children, all born in Sarpy County except the last, who was born in Almena, Norton County, Kansas:

He married Elizabeth Miller, born in July 1849 in Pennsylvania. By 1869 they were living in Ohio township, Franklin County, Kansas. They lived there until after 1885, and then moved to Palmyra township, Douglas County, Kansas; by the time of the 1910 census they were living in Baldwin township, Douglas County. William died on 24 November 1935; the date of Elizabeth's death is not known.

They had at least four children, all born in Kansas:

303. James[6] Huff (Abraham, Isaac[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 20 March 1845 in Yarmouth township, Elgin County, Ontario. In 1861–1865, as James Hough, he served as a private in Company D, 2nd Nebraska Cavalry Volunteers. On 6 April 1869, either in Council Bluffs, Pottawattamie County, Iowa, or in Omaha, Douglas County, Nebraska, he married Laura Ellen Driscoll or Driskell, born in June 1849 in Iowa. In the 1870 census, the family appeared in Dodge County, Nebraska, with James's brother John and mother Rachel living with them, in addition to James, Laura, and their oldest child. In 1880, they were in Fremont, Dodge County; in 1900, in Omaha, Douglas County. James died on 2 February 1929; the date of Laura's death is unknown.

James and Laura had five children:

304. Benjamin[6] Huff (David[5], John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1843, in Branford, Brant County, Ontario. On 20 March 1856, he married Julia Ann Hagedorn, born in about 1840. In the 1861 census, the family was listed in Brooke township, Lambton County, Ontario; as of the 1871 census, they were in Camden township, Kent County, Ontario. Benjamin was described as a farm laborer. By June 1887, he had moved to Michigan, and was living in Oscoda County. He was naturalized as a U. S. citizen on 24 January 1893. It appears that the family spent some time in Lapeer County, Michigan, as his daughter Elizabeth was married there in 1890.

Julia died before 17 May 1888, and on that date Benjamin married Elizabeth M. Garmon, a widow, born in Pennsylvania in January 1834. By 1900 they were living in Logan township, Ogemaw County, Michigan. Benjamin died there on 24 May 1904; the date of Elizabeth's death is not known.

Benjamin had five children, all by Julia:

835. Rebecca Huff, ca 1856–?; n. f. i.
836. Lydia Ann Huff, ca 1859–?; n. f. i.

305. Joseph P.[6] Huff (Abraham[5], John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1842, presumably in Elgin County, Ontario. When he married and the name of his wife are unknown, as is the date of his death. He had one known child:

840. Elizabeth Huff, ?–?; n. f. i.

306. Elizabeth Ann[6] Huff (Abraham[5], John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]), known as Eliza, was born in about 1844, either in Hallowell, Prince Edward County, Ontario, or in Euphemia, Lambton County, Ontario. The following biographical sketch of her and her family is drawn from material written by Belvia (Lawrence) Fish.

On 31 March 1862, in Orford township, Kent County, Ontario, Eliza married William Kirkby[h]

[h]The name as it appears in William's baptismal record in England is Kirby. Where and how the "k" was inserted is not known.

Fish, born on 4 May 1834 in Lincolnshire, England, the son of David and Mary Ann (Kirby) Fish. William had come from England to Hamilton, Wentworth County, Ontario, at the age of 19, and eight years later had moved to Lambton County. William and Elizabeth farmed for a time in Lambton County, and in 1871 they settled near Baysville, Muskoka District, Ontario. By this time they had five children.

William was a good farmer and a very religious man. Morning chores were always done early and then all came in for breakfast. They then said daily prayers, each kneeling on the floor leaning against a chair while William read from the Bible. William and Eliza had been married in the Wesleyan Methodist Church, but the Free Methodists began to have camp meetings in the area on Sunday afternoons. The Fish family became quite involved, and if there was no preacher for any reason, William would give the sermon. Some people left requests that he preach at their funerals.

One time a sermon made him decide to quit smoking. He gave his supply of tobacco to a neighbor, broke his clay pipe against a rock, and never smoked again. He also was never known to swear.

The Fish family were very musical and at one time formed a quartet and sang at local functions. Polly sang soprano, Sephronia alto, Bill tenor, and George bass.

About 1906, William retired from farming, sold his farm, and moved to Baysville across the river from his daughter Sephronia who by then was married. Here he grew a large garden and had some chickens and a cow. Chief Bigwin and his family stopped in one day on their way from Bigwin Island in Lake of Bays to Rama Reserve. Eliza welcomed them and invited them to share a meal. After noon dinner was over, the Indian woman sang songs to entertain the whole family.

William and Eliza later went to live with another daughter, Nellie. William died on 20 March 1916, leaving his wife and five children. Eliza died about a year and a half later. There were seven children altogether:

+ 841. Cecilia Victoria Fish, 23 March 1863–9 February 1894.
+ 842. William Syrenous Fish, 24 November 1864–4 May 1947.
843. Mary Ann "Polly" Fish, 4 February 1866–ca 1936; married William John Whaley, ?–1939; n. f. i.
+ 844. George David Fish, 19 February 1868–1911.
+ 845. Joseph Wallace Fish, 3 August 1870–1962.
+ 846. Angeline Sephronia Fish, 17 May 1872–4 April 1938.
+ 847. Eleanor Sophia Fish, 14 December 1877–?.

309. William James[6] Huff (Abraham[5], John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1849 in Euphemia township, Lambton County, Ontario. At an unknown date, he married Fannie Hickey, born in about 1863. They lived the rest of their lives in Euphemia. On 10 January 1916, while he was visiting his son William at Prairie Siding, Kent County, Ontario, he attempted to cross the railroad tracks. Trains approached from both directions, and William apparently became confused. One of the trains struck him, and he died in a hospital in Chatham, Kent County, Ontario, of the resulting injuries. Fannie had died earlier, at an unknown date. Both are buried in Johnson Cemetery, Bothwell, Kent County, Ontario. They had five children:

848. Fannie Jane Huff, ca 1886–?; married _____ Eberle and lived at Dresden, Kent County, Ontario; n. f. i.
849. Robert Abram Huff, 1887–1975, unmarried; buried in West Bothwell, Kent County, Ontario; n. f. i.

850. Elizabeth Ann Huff, ca 1888–?; married _____ Harris; n. f. i.
+ 851. William John Huff, ca 1891–21 June 1985.
852. Joseph Thomas Huff, 1893–8 April 1947; a farmer; died unmarried in Chatham, Kent County, Ontario, and is buried in West Bothwell.

313. James Hanring[6] Huff (Joseph[5], John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 24 July 1837 aboard ship en route from his parents' home at Euphemia, Lambton County, Ontario, to his grandparents' home in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. The following account of his life is drawn from a sketch prepared by a grand-daughter, Elva[8] (Huff) Kunz, "from her father's notebook and other available sources."

James's father, (116) Joseph Huff, had joined the migration of the Mormons, but they at first traveled only as far as Crescent City, Pottawattamie County, Iowa. Here they became acquainted with a family named Nybolle, converts from Denmark, who had to stop and earn money for further travel. One daughter of the family, Hansine or Hansene Jacobine, worked for the Huffs. James became engaged to Hansene's younger sister Karen; they were to be married when they got settled in Utah. The Nybolles left Crescent City first, and settled in Manti, Sanpete County; but in a year, when the Huffs had not arrived, Karen decided that James must have been a victim of disease or Indians, and married another man.

Meanwhile the Huffs continued westward in 1859 (see the account of Joseph Huff's life, page 18). James, however, had joined a party of missionaries returning to Utah in 1858. Before they left, James had a dream in which he "saw his whole life as in a panorama." Many of the things he saw came true; for example, he predicted that at one point they would have to change their course in order to avoid an army encamped near the main highway, and indeed at Fort Bridger, Uinta County, Wyoming, they did detour in order to avoid Johnson's army. Likewise, he predicted that they would find Salt Lake City empty, and they arrived shortly after Brigham Young had ordered the evacuation of the city to evade the army.

Soon after the group reached Salt Lake City, James learned where the Nybolles were and went to find Karen. Once he had overcome his disappointment at finding her married, he courted Hansene, and they were married in Manti. They lived there for a year, and then moved to Mt. Pleasant, Sanpete County. James became a cabinet and furniture maker, and also made violins and spinning wheels.

When Joseph Huff had started his sawmill business, he invited his son James to join him. James took his wife and infant daughter and moved to Upton, Summit County, Utah, where he moved in with the Joseph Huff family. Here Hansene felt that the rest of the family was hostile to her, because, she thought, of her nationality. When her next child was within a month of being due, she asked James to take her to Mt. Pleasant so that she could be with her mother. James was very busy and could not see the need for the trip. She threatened to go with a neighbor, and James told her that if she did she did not need to return. She carried out her threat, and James never went after her. Three weeks after her arrival in Mt. Pleasant, her second child, Enoch Erastus, was born.

James Hanring[6] and Hansene Jacobine (Nybolle) Huff.

James divorced Hansene and later married Sophia (Atkin) Whetten, born on 24 April 1845 in Rutland County, England, the widow of John Whetten, by whom she had a son. Hansene remarried, in polygamy, a blacksmith named Wilhelm Sanberg, who was a cruel stepfather to Enoch Erastus. Hansene brought the boy up to understand that his biological father was a good and honorable man, and the two came to be on good terms. Hansene ultimately died on 3 September 1916.

James and Sophia moved around to various places where James could build sawmills. For one period, he was a member of the hierarchy of the United Order. During that period, he was sent on a mission to Canada, where he gathered a large amount of genealogical data, but his collection was destroyed by Mexican rebels in 1913. In about 1897 he moved to Mexico, where he lived first in Colonia García and later in Colonia Juárez in the state of Chihuahua. By that time he had begun to suffer from dropsy, and he died on 16 October 1903; he was buried the next day, in Ciudad Juárez. Sophia died on 7 December 1924, in Phoenix, Maricopa County, Arizona.

Mormon records show three children for James and Hansene, but the foregoing account appears to indicate only two:

853. Julia Ann Huff, 2 September 1859 (Mt. Pleasant)–13 May 1888 (Richfield, Sevier County, Utah); married Niels Anderson; n. f. i.

+ 854. Enoch Erastus Huff, 1 May 1862–6 November 1849.

The third child, James William, appears from the material from which the above narrative was drawn to have been the son of Wilhelm Sanberg but later, under the rites of the Mormon church, was "sealed" as child to James—as was Sophia's son John Thomas Whetten.

James and Sophia had three children:

855. Mary Adelaide Huff, 7 June 1866 (Randolph, Rich County, Utah)–3 September 1921; married George Frederick Lewis; n. f. i.

315. John Edwards[6] Huff (Joseph[5], John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 3 December 1843 at Nauvoo, Hancock County, Illinois. He was taken with the family to Utah. He eventually settled at Coalville, Summit County, Utah. There he married on 22 December 1864 Sarah Ann Robinson, daughter of William and Mary (Dexter) Robinson, born in Nottinghamshire, England, on 1 November 1845. They lived in Coalville until some time between 1873 and 1875, when they moved to Upton, Summit County, Utah; they remained there until about 1880, and then moved to Lake Shore, Utah County, Utah. John was a rancher and a farmer. He died on 4 July 1910 in Lake Shore, and was buried two days later in the city cemetery in Spanish

+ 866. Arthur Huff (twin), 19 July 1884–2 August 1926.

316. David Losee[6] Huff (Joseph[5], John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 10 April 1845 in Nauvoo, Hancock County, Illinois, and was taken with the family to Utah. On 21 January 1866, he married Amelia Robinson, born on 29 November 1847 in Nottinghamshire, England, sister of (315) John Edwards Huff's wife Sarah.

David and Amelia originally lived in Upton, Summit County, Utah; in 1870 they moved to Randolph, Rich County, Utah, where David assisted in erecting the first sawmill in the community, and in 1877 they moved to Lake Shore, Utah County, Utah. David was a lumberman and a freighter. He died on 7 January 1921 in Lake Shore, and was buried two days later in Spanish Fork, Utah County, Utah. Amelia died on 27 July 1931 in Lake Shore, and is also buried in Spanish Fork.

Some time shortly after 1891, George moved to Brantford, Brant County, Ontario. Not long after that, he went to Millgrove, Wentworth County, Ontario, where he had the job of putting up windmills. George died in 1946, two months before the birth of his son's first child, and Sarah died in 1965.

George and Sarah had four children:

[i]The name is given in the newspaper account of the marriage as Haywood. However, no Haywoods are known to have lived in Lambton County at the time. On the other hand, the 1881 census shows the family of Allen Hayward of Moore township, including daughters Catherine [who married (329) Samuel Huff] and Margaret, the latter's age agreeing with that of George's wife. The conclusion is that the reporter erred.

929. Harland Perritt, ?–; married Viola _____; daughter Deborah married _____ Hotham; as of 1988 living in Dresden, Kent County, Ontario; n. f. i.

They were apparently divorced, as each was married a second time, Margaret to Neils Peter Peterson and Job to Verl Robbins. At some time the family evidently moved to Michigan. It is probable that David's mother died early in his life (certainly by 1888), as his sister (838) Elizabeth tells of having been brought up by aunts, and David may have been also. He married a widow, Mrs. Matilda Fournier, born June 1867 in the state of New York; she had five children by her first marriage. 838. Elizabeth[7] Huff (Benjamin[6], David[5], John Edwards[4], Engelbert[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 16 November 1864 in Wallaceburg, Kent County, Ontario. Samuel is described as a merchant. They lived in Flint, Genesee County, Michigan, where Elizabeth was a member of Flint Chapter of Order of the Eastern Star, and a charter member of First Church of Christ, Scientist. Part III. The Paul Huff Line

Chapter 11. The Third and Fourth Generations

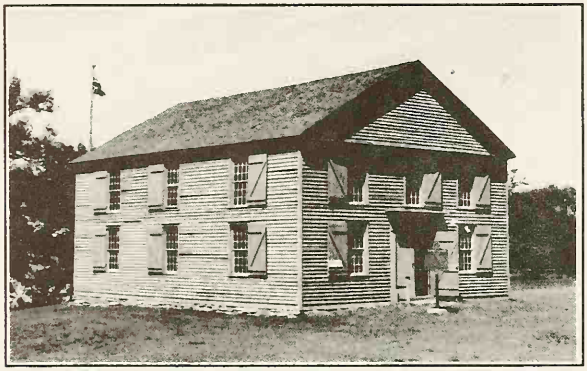
24. Paulus (Paul)[3] Huff (William[2], Engelbert[1]) was baptized on 26 July 1747 in the First Reformed Church of Tarrytown, Westchester County, New York, with sponsors Jacobus Sie and (unnamed) wife. Probably about 1770, he married Mary "Polly" Krank(heyt), born about 1746; no record of the marriage has been found, but she is named as his wife in baptismal records of their children. One source suggests that she was the daughter of Teunis Jacobsze Crankheyt, but this is not corroborated.

During the Revolution, Paul took the Loyalist or Tory side, and served as a Lieutenant in Cuyler's Corps, Associated Loyalists. Consequently, his property was forfeited after the war. He joined the party of Loyalists that migrated to Canada under Van Alstyne (see Introduction to Part II), and reached Adolphustown, Ontario, on 16 June 1784. He was officially mustered out of service on 5 October 1784. As an officer, he was entitled to substantial grants of government land; as of 1791, he was allotted 1300 acres. One of his grants was in Adolphustown, but the rest were in Prince Edward County, across the bay.

Paul, a carpenter, became quite a prominent personage in the area. The first regular court in the town was held in his barn, in 1794, "as there was no public building in the township at the disposal of the judges." He was also an active churchman. The first Methodist class in the province was formed in his house in 1791, and he donated land for the first Methodist church to be built in the province. The church still stands, the oldest Methodist building in Canada west of the Maritimes, and a service is held in it at least once a year.

Paul Huff died in 1818; Mary's death date is unknown. They had five children:

+ 61. Solomon Huff, 2 September 1771–21 May 1842.
+ 62. James Huff, 27 January 1774–ca 1840.
63. Charles Huff, ca 1778 (Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York)–?; married on 26 August 1803 Elizabeth Russell; said to have moved to the United States; n. f. i.
64. William Moore Huff, ca 1779 (Fishkill); married Mary Amey or Emie[a]; n. f. i.



The Hay Bay Church, built on land given by (24) Paul Huff.

[a]The assertion has been made that William Moore Huff married Nancy McMullen. This probably results from confusion with a William M. Huff of Fredericksburgh, Lennox and Addington County, who was apparently from an entirely different Huff family.

65. Elizabeth Huff, ca 1782–?; married,[b] at an unknown date, William Hudson, whose dates are unknown; child Elizabeth, who married Daniel Vandewater; died relatively young —exact date unknown, but probably no later than 1820; n. f. i.

61. Solomon[4] Huff (Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 2 September 1771, in either Fishkill or Hopewell, Dutchess County, New York, and baptized on 10 November 1771 in the First Reformed Church of Hopewell. He presumably was taken to Canada by his father. He married Sarah Alger, born in New Brunswick about 1874. According to Richard and Janet Lunn, The County (Picton, Ontario: private; 1967), "When Sarah Alger came to Adolphustown she took one look at Solomon and decided she'd have him. Have him she did, but it was never an easy life."

Some time after 1804, he moved to Huff's Island, Ameliasburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario, purchasing a lease from John Huyck. He made the move in winter, crossing the ice with the family and all their goods. The ice gave way; the family and their team were saved, but they lost all the household effects. He built a house on the leased land, which is regarded as architecturally remarkable for its time and circumstances. Particularly notable was the height of the upper story, as well as the balanced window placement. The accompanying picture was taken some years after Solomon's family had given up the house, and clapboard siding had been put over the original log structure. The people shown in front of the house are members of the James Nightingale family.

However, Solomon had no legal claim to the land, and after his death his sons moved further west on the island.

Solomon became a lumberman. He was apparently thoroughly fair and reasonable in his dealings with the Indians on neighboring Grape Island, who called him "Open Hand." His business became quite extensive, at times having as many as sixty employees. Sarah cooked for them, as well as for the ten children in the family, although she hated the island, according to the Lunns. The business was carried on by Solomon's sons James and Abraham after his death.

Solomon was drowned on 24 May 1842 when his boat capsized as he was crossing the bay. Sarah died on 14 April 1867. Both he and Sarah are buried in Mountain View Cemetery, Ameliasburgh.

They had ten children:

[b]Elizabeth is commonly reported to have died unmarried, but this seems to be an error. After her death, William married again, a woman named Jane Wright; the knowledge of Elizabeth's marriage comes from the descendants of this couple, who have kept some of Paul Huff's papers that were handed down through Elizabeth.

+ 121. Paul Huff, 10 January 1795–17 June 1879.
+ 122. Elisha Huff, 5 June 1798–1828.
+ 123. Abraham Huff (twin), 2 January 1800–25 February 1871.
+ 124. James Huff (twin), 2 January 1800–8 August 1871.
125. Elizabeth Huff, January 1802–?; married Daniel Gibson; n. f. i.
+ 126. Peter Huff, 3 November 1803–1867.
+ 127. Jane Huyck Huff, 3 September 1805–?.
128. Margaret Huff, 10 June 1807–?; according to PLBQ, she married Cornelius I. Gould, and had children Eurastus, Mercy N., Elizabeth A., Demetria, and William; n. f. i.
129. Eunice Huff, 11 August 1811–1890; according to PLBQ, she married Sylvanus Sprague, and had children John, Elijah A., Philana, Elizabeth J., Drusilla, Lawrence, George, and Sarah; n. f. i.
+ 130. Lucretia Huff, 8 November 1812–14 January 1888.

62. James[4] Huff (Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 27 January 1774 in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, and was baptized on 4 April 1774 in the First Reformed Church of Hopewell, Dutchess County, New York. He was taken to Canada with his family in 1784. On 2 January 1796, he married Amy Garrison, daughter of Marvell and Mary (Roblin) Garrison. Most of the rest of the information about the immediate family is from PLBQ.

In about 1801, they settled in the community of Crofton, township of Ameliasburgh, Prince Edward County; James owned a farm, but worked at lumbering and the manufacture of barrel staves. At one period he moved to the area north of the bay, where the town of Deseronto, Hastings County, now stands, to find additional timber. He served in the War of 1812. He died of consumption about 1840, at the home of his son (134) James in Ameliasburgh; Amy died in 1856, at which time she was living in Hallowell, Prince Edward County, with her son (138) Hezekiah.

James and Amy had eight children:

131. Frances (Fanny) Huff, ca 1797–ca 1846; married William Brown; n. f. i.
132. Elizabeth Huff, ca 1800–?; married Hezekiah Gardiner; n. f. i.
133. Eliza Huff, ca 1802–?; n. f. i.
+ 134. James B. Huff, 10 August 1805–17 March 1888.
135. Mary Huff, ca 1805–?; n. f. i.
136. Prudence Huff, ca 1807–?; according to PLBQ, married Stephen Gerow, and had children Lucinda, Mary, Julian, and Henry; n. f. i.
137. Jonas B. Huff, ca 1809–?; n. f. i.
+ 138. Hezekiah Huff, ca 1817–1854.

Chapter 12. The Fifth Generation

121. Paul[5] Huff (Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 15 January 1797, reputedly on Huff's Island, Ameliasburgh township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. However, his father had not moved to Huff's Island until after 1800, and so Paul was presumably actually born in Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. He was a farmer. Probably about 1820, presumably in Ameliasburgh, he married his first cousin, (151) Jane Wright.

They lived for a time on Huff's Island, and then moved to Thurlow township, Hastings County, Ontario. In 1845, they moved to Kent County, Ontario, and settled in Dawn township. Paul, Jane, and two of their children, Eleanor and Dennis, are listed there in the 1861 census, and Paul was living in Dawn with his son Solomon in 1871. Jane died on 17 September 1863, and Paul on 17 June 1879. Both are buried in Butler's Cemetery, Euphemia township, Lambton County.

There were eight children:

+ 336. Solomon Huff, 8 December 1821–14 June 1905.

On 21 November 1832, in Ameliasburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario, he married Louisa Julia Langdon or Langton, born in 1813. Peter, a farmer, was the only one of Solomon's sons to remain on Huff's Island all his life. His house still stands, although it is no longer owned by a member of the family.

Peter died in 1868, and Julia in 1879; they are buried in Simonds cemetery, Ameliasburgh. They had ten children:

On 31 December 1835, she married Oliver Pearsall, born on 13 April 1813, son of John and Hannah (Abrams) Pearsall of Sophiasburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. They settled at Hallowell, Prince Edward County, Ontario, where both Oliver and Lucretia died on 14 January 1888.

395. Matilda Pearsall, 15 December 1855; married Marshall B. Trumpour; n. f. i.

134. James B.[5] Huff (James[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 10 August 1805, in Crofton, Ameliasburgh township, Prince Edward County, Ontario, and lived all his life in the county. Most of the information about his life is from PLBQ; that about his children's marriages and families, from a genealogy of the Smith and Hutchinson families. He married Lucy Doolittle, born on 26 December 1803, the daughter of Lyman and Hannah (Smith) Doolittle. They settled first near Crofton, in Ameliasburgh township, where James engaged in lumbering, getting out square timber, and manufacturing staves. He developed tuberculosis and had to give up such labor; the family moved to Carrying Place, also Ameliasburgh township, where he kept a hotel for about two years. They then moved to a spot near what is now known as Chisholm, in Hallowell township. He purchased an old home, added to it, and converted it into a hotel, which he kept for about eighteen years. The intersection where he lived is still known as Huff's Corners. He died on 17 March 1888, and Lucy died on 17 June 1889. They are buried in Burr Cemetery in Hillier township.

They had eight children:

+ 396. Almira Huff, ca 1826–?.

404. Philip Huff, ca 1854–?; n. f. i.

138. Hezekiah[5] Huff (James[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1817 in Crofton, Prince Edward County, Ontario. According to PLBQ, he married Almira (Clark) Smith, a widow, and settled in Hallowell, Prince Edward County. He, Almira, and his mother Amy are recorded in the 1851 census there. He died in 1854.

Chapter 13. The Sixth Generation

336. Solomon[6] Huff (Paul[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on Huff's Island, Ameliasburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario, on 8 December 1821. In 1845 he moved, with his parents, to Florence, Euphemia township, Lambton County, Ontario. On 15 December 1853, in Victoria, Peel County, Ontario, he married Jane Sidney Rea (or Ray or Wray), born about 1819 in Pennsylvania.

Solomon operated a farm in Florence. The intersection where the property was located became known as Huff's Corners, with a Huff's School, also used as a church, on another corner; later a separate church was built diagonally across from the school.

Jane died on 9 October 1892, and Solomon on 14 June 1905; both are buried in Butler's Cemetery near Florence. They had eight children:

+ 930. Malcolm Cameron Huff, 28 October 1854–15 February 1885.

931. Eleanor Mahala Huff, 29 October 1856–28 November 1932 (Chatham, Kent County, Ontario), unmarried. Eleanor and her sister Sarah lived on the family farm until after the deaths of their parents, then sold out and moved to Chatham. Eleanor apparently suffered a heart attack, and was found dead in her bed by her brother Robert when he called on them that afternoon. Sarah had been in poor health, and Eleanor had been caring for her. Sarah was found in a state of collapse in the bathroom, having tried to notify relatives, and died two days later as a result of exposure in the unheated quarters.

+ 932. Robert Rea Huff, 28 June 1958–29 October 1944.

+ 933. Sidney Wright Huff (twin), 1 August 1859–1938.

934. James Huff (twin), 1–21 August 1859; buried in Butler's Cemetery.

935. Sarah Jane Huff, ca 1861–30 November 1932; see Eleanor, above.

936. Dennis Allen Huff, 25 October 1864–1 February 1885; died of flu, unmarried.

937. John Harvey Huff, died on 21 December 1865 aged 8 months; buried in Butler's Cemetery.

337. Daniel Wright[6] Huff (Paul[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) (the name is often misread as David) was born on 30 June 1825 in Thurlow township, Hastings County, Ontario. In 1845 the family moved to Dawn township, Lambton County. By 1850 Daniel had moved to Kent County, where he lived the rest of his life; he was a farmer. On 3 September 1849, he married Mary Gifford, born on 27 April 1828 in Wiltshire, England, presumably the daughter of William and Susan (Perrier) Gifford. They first settled in Camden Gore, in the village of Dawn Mills; but they appear to have later moved to Camden itself, and eventually to the village of Dresden, in Chatham township. Mary died in Dresden on 14 March 1877, and Daniel married Jennie McGeachy, born about 1843. Daniel died on 16 July 1887; Jennie, on 7 January 1903.

Daniel had nine children, all by Mary:

+ 938. Jane Huff, 11 June 1850–1871.
+ 939. William Walter Huff, 25 August 1852–27 August 1938.
+ 940. Paul Henry Huff, 18 January 1856–14 August 1912.

943. Daniel Wright Jackson Huff, 15 August 1863–14 August 1879.
+ 944. Mary Ellen Huff, 8 May 1865–26 May 1932.
+ 945. Blanche Catherine Huff, 19 September 1868–1933.
946. Margaret V. Huff, 7 July 1871–1944; married on 19 June 1901 Elias Austin Pickard, brother of the husband of (942) Susanna; no issue.

339. Abraham[6] Huff (Paul[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 10 May 1830 in Thurlow, Hastings County, Ontario. He moved with the family to Lambton County in 1845. The rest of his life is described in Beers' Commemorative Biographical Record of Kent County. In 1852 he took employment at Dawn Mills. Two years later he began farming on shares, and for several years lived in Dover township, Kent County. In 1879 he located in Raleigh townsip, Kent County, on a farm which he had bought two years earlier. He added orchards, and established a milk route in Chatham. He eventually moved to Chatham village.

On 19 November 1853, he married Jane Dalgarno, a native of Aberdeenshire, Scotland. She died on 17 December 1907; Abraham, on 26 February 1917, in Alberta. They had thirteen children:

947. Hepsibah Adelaide Huff, ca 1855–?; married, on 16 November 1871, James Brown; lived in Poplar Point, Manitoba; n. f. i.
+ 948. Agnes Elizabeth Huff, 1856–?; married George Wemp, 18 August 1855–23 December 1885; children Melville, Stanley, and Clarence; n. f. i.
949. Mercy Narcissa Huff, 22 June 1857–19 January 1929.
+ 950. James Wright Huff, 1859–?.
+ 951. Abram Sylvester Huff, ca 1861–?.
+ 952. Paul Dalgarno Huff, 15 July 1862–14 November 1936.
953. Solomon Douglas Huff, ca 1864–16 March 1940.
+ 954. Wesley Plested Huff, 1865–13 October 1893, of kidney infection; n. f. i.
955. Warren Petrey Huff, ca 1869–?.

+ 956. Tecumseh Kingsley Systemus Huff, March 1871–?; married on 14 May 1903 Annie Hales; died in Chatham, Kent County, Ontario; n. f. i.
957. Jennie Huff, 26 April–7 September 1873.
+ 958. Lillie Ann Huff, ca 1876–?.
+ 959. Violet May Huff, 1877–1914.

341. Dennis Lucas (Lucius)[6] Huff (Paul[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in 1834 in Thurlow, Hastings County, Ontario. In 1845 the family moved to Lambton County, Ontario. Dennis early showed religious fervor. At the age of 9, he signed his first temperance pledge. At 17, he became a member of the Sons of Temperance at Florence, Lambton County, Ontario; he gave his first temperance address at Louisville, Kent County, Ontario, before he was 18. He was an active organizer with the British-American Order of Good Templars, and other such organizations, and he lectured extensively in Michigan, Pennsylvania, New York and other states. He entered the regular ministry of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in 1861, and traveled until 1864, when he lost his voice. He later recovered and for many years held gospel temperance meetings "of a highly instructive character," assisted by his daughters Maud and Winifred.

In 1864, in East Oxford, Wentworth County, Ontario, he married Martha M. Tidey. In 1866–1867, they were living in Dawn Mills, Kent County, Ontario; in 1870–1871, in the township of Howard, also Kent County. By 1880, the family had moved to the United States, and were living in Bay City, Bay County, Michigan. It appears that Dennis had given up his church ministry. The 1880 census lists him merely as "Lecturer"; and in the city directory for 1883, he is listed as "Clothes reel manufacturer." He has not been found in the 1900 census, nor has any of his children; apart from the listings of his children in the 1871 and 1880 census records, no further information on him is available.

There were six children, the first three born in Ontario and the last three in Bay City:

960. Arthur D. Huff, ca 1866–?; n. f. i.
961. Dorothy E. Huff, ca 1867–; n. f. i.
962. Mary M. Huff, ca 1868–?; n. f. i.
963. Sterling C. Huff, ca 1870–?; n. f. i.
964. Bertha N. Huff, ca 1875–?; n. f. i.
965. Winifred A. Huff, ca 1876–; n. f. i.

342. Paul Watt[6] Huff (Paul[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 1 June 1836 in Thurlow, Hastings County, Ontario, and came with the family to Lambton County, Ontario, in 1845. Probably about 1859, he married Mary Ann Cook, born on 8 August 1837, the daughter of Jonathan and Deborah (Cook) Cook. They settled in Dawn township, Lambton County; Paul was a farmer. Two children were born to them.

Mary Ann died on 1 January 1863, possibly in childbirth, and is buried in Butler Cemetery, near Florence, Euphemia township, Lambton County. On 3 December of that year, Paul married again; the bride's name was Mary McRae, and she was born on 11 September 1844. By the time of the 1871 census, they were living in Harwich township, Kent County, where Mary died on 19 September 1882, after having borne ten children, and is buried in Van Horne Cemetery, Harwich township. On 18 July 1883, Paul married a third wife, Jennie Scott, born on 10 April 1846, daughter of the Rev. Walter Scott of Florence, Lambton County. They appear to have settled in either Camden or Chatham. Eventually, they moved to Wallaceburg, Kent County. Jennie died there on 22 May 1806. In 1910, Paul was married for a fourth time, to a Mrs. James Brundle of Plattsville, Oxford County, Ontario. The newspaper notice of the marriage stated that the couple intended to live in Plattsville. It appears, however, that they returned to Wallaceburg, as Paul died there on 18 July 1913. He is buried in Maple Leaf Cemetery at Chatham, as is Jennie.

Paul's children by Mary Ann Cook:

+ 966. Jonathan Cook Huff, ca 1860–?.

967. Mary Ann Huff, ca 1862–?; married James Glover Steen; lived in Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, as of 1904; children Russell and Marian; n. f. i.

His children by Mary McRae:

+ 968. George Lake Huff, 26 January 1865–28 February 1952.

969. Colin McRae Huff, ca 1866–?; living in Alaska as of 1908; did not marry; n. f. i.

970. Elizabeth Huff, ca 1869–?; married on 30 December 1907 Hamilton Reich; living in Windsor, Essex County, Canada, as of 1908; n. f. i.

971. Lavina Huff, 21 May 1871–1 June 1872; buried in Van Horne Cemetery, Harwich township, Kent County, Ontario.

972. Ella L. Huff, 1872–1946; married on 1 March 1899 William Christopher McKnight, 1868–1948; buried in Maple Leaf Cemetery, Chatham, Kent County, Ontario; n. f. i.

973. Milton Huff, July 1874 (?)–17 May 1887 (?); buried in Van Horne Cemetery, Harwich township. Milton's dates, and even his parentage, are subject to some uncertainty. All data are from his tombstone, which gives the date of death, and gives his age as "12 yrs. & 10 ms"; this produces the birth date shown here. However, it also names him as son of Jennie Huff, who was not married to Paul until 1883; and he does not appear in the 1881 census listing of Paul's family. The most likely explanation is that the census record is in error, and that Jennie is listed as mother because she was the mother of the family at the time of Milton's death. Milton is reported to have been killed together with his dog in an accident, and there is a statue of a dog in front of his tombstone.

974. Mina or Nina Huff, ca 1876–5 July 1904; married on 7 June 1894 William T. Piggott; children William and Morley; n. f. i.

975. Sarah Lela Huff, 23 December 1877–12 May 1884; buried in Van Horne Cemetery.

+ 976. Maud Huff, ca 1880–?.

977. Mary E. Huff, 1 February–15 October 1882; buried in Van Horne Cemetery.

There was only one child by Jennie:

+ 978. Walter Scott Huff, ca 1887–?.

345. Margaret Melissa[6] Huff (Elisha[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1832 in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. She married Frances Lauder on 21 May 1862; his dates are unknown. Margaret died in 1870.

There was one child:

979. Ella Lauder, 21 March 1865–26 December 1950; married Howard Anderson; children Donald and Ross; n. f. i.

351. James Irwin[6] Huff (Elisha[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 13 January 1845 in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. In 1872 he moved to Elk River, Sherburne County, Minnesota, where he lived for about a year; then he moved to Minneapolis and stayed there for another year. From there he moved to New Richmond, St. Croix County, Wisconsin. He made his home there for seven years, engaging in the lumber business and farming. On 25 June 1882, he married Mary Effie Blancher of New Richmond, born on 19 August 1856. In 1880 they moved to near Renville, Minnesota, where James bought 320 acres of land. The next year they moved into the village of Renville, but in 1886 they returned to the farm and lived there the rest of their lives. James was involved in the Fair Association, the creamery association, the Farmers' Elevators Company, and the Swine Breeders Association; he served as a trustee of the Renville Methodist Church. He died on 2 September 1919; Mary, on 14 January 1945.

There were five children:

+ 980. Frank Redner Huff, 20 March 1883–24 July 1962.
981. Mark James Huff, 4 November 1887–27 February 1924; n. f. i.
+ 982. Mabel Amanda Huff, 6 August 1890–?.
983. Mildred Edna Huff, 16 June 1893–27 February 1981; married Frisby Diehl; n. f. i.
+ 984. Effie Blancher Huff, 23 January 1899–27 January 1975.

352. Catherine Louise[6] Huff (Elisha[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1843 in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. On 25 September 1866, she married William H. Redner, and settled in Rednerville, Ameliasburgh township, Prince Edward County.

There were three children:

985. Harry Redner, ?–?; married Cassie Denyes; child Arthur; n. f. i.
986. Burton L. Redner, ?–?; married Lena Pearsall; child Ralph married Belle Black; n. f. i.
987. Ernest E. Redner, ?–?; married Blanche Peck; children Carol, Bernard who married (1st) Aletha Bird and (2nd) Doris _____, and Keith; n. f. i.

353. Elisha Alger[6] Huff (Elisha[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1847 in Hallowell township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. He married Mary Elma Huyck. They remained in Hallowell, and are listed there in the census of 1891, with Elisha's mother living with them. Elisha died in 1907, and Mary in 1933; both are buried in Glenwood Cemetery, Picton.

There were three children:

+ 988. Henry Harold Huff, 1884–1952.
+ 989. Hanson Donahue Huff, 28 August 1888–31 March 1950.
+ 990. Floyd Huyck Huff, 12 September 1891–28 February 1973.

354. Lysander Fitzallen[6] Huff (Elisha[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in Hallowell township, Ontario, in 1857. He taught school in various parts of Prince Edward County, and in about 1882 moved to Renville, Renville County, Minnesota, where his brother (351) James had settled. He was principal of the school there for a time, and then went into the hardware business. By 1890 he had married Mabel Farley, born in about May 1866 in Waterloo, Black Hawk County, Iowa.

Some time after 1892 the family moved to Oklahoma. They are listed in the 1900 census in the township of Low, in Noble County, and in the 1910 census in Garfield County. They had evidently spent some time in Iowa in the interim, as their youngest daughter was born there. Soon after the 1910 census, they went back to Iowa and settled in Waterloo. In the 1915 Iowa state census Lysander is described as a machinist; he had had four years of college, and his wife one. The family was Methodist. Lysander died in 1917. His obituary appeared in the Picton, Ontario, Gazette; it does not give the date of his death, but states that he was buried on 19 June, presumably in Waterloo. Mabel survived him, but the date of her death is not known.

There were four children (birth dates from the 1900 census data):

991. Jeannette Huff, August 1889–?; married Franklin Swan; children Laird and Franz; n. f. i.
992. Maude Lucille Huff, September 1890 (Renville, Renville County, Minnesota)–?; described as a linotype operator in the 1915 Iowa census; married Ralph Fockler; n. f. i.
993. Floy Huff, December 1892–?; married Richard Price; children Richard, Billy, Doris, and Nadine; n. f. i.
994. Ruby Genevieve Huff, March 1897 (Iowa)–?; n. f. i.

361. Augustus Shorts[6] Huff (Abraham[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 10 April 1844 on Huff's Island, Ameliasburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. In about 1857 the family moved to Kent County, Ontario. On 19 November 1866, in the First Presbyterian Church of Chatham, Kent County, he married Hester Craig, born about 1845 in Trafalgar, Halton County, Ontario, the daughter of Aaron and Rhoda (Elderkin) Craig. They settled in Camden, Kent County, where Augustus was a grocer. It appears that Hester died before 1883, as in that year Augustus married a second time. His second wife's name was Delia _____; according to the 1900 U. S. census, she was born in Ireland, in May 1848. By 1900 they were living in Northville, Wayne County, Michigan, where Augustus was working as a carpenter. He continued to appear in the city directory until 1915, but Delia was already absent from his listing in the 1910 census. The dates of their deaths are not known.

Augustus had four known children by Hester:

995. Abraham F. Huff, perhaps October 1867–?; probably the Abraham Huff living in Northville in 1900 and 1910, working as a hardware salesman, and in Detroit by 1920 until after 1940, operating Huff and Huff grocers; his wife's name was Lillian; n. f. i.
996. Aaron F. Huff, ca September 1870–?; n. f. i.
997. Charles Huff, ca January 1872–?; listed as a salesman in the 1900 census of Northville; n. f. i.
998. James A. Huff, ca January 1876–?; listed as a tinsmith in the 1900 census; n. f. i.

There was at least one child by Delia:

999. Mamie Huff, ca August 1886–?; n. f. i.

Finally, an Anna E. Huff, living at the same address with Augustus in the 1910 city directory (but not shown in the census) was probably a daughter, but this is not certain; and if so, by which wife is not known.

362. Angeline[6] Huff (Abraham[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 2 May 1842 on Huff's Island, Ameliasburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. As of the 1861 census, she and her sister (363) Sophronia were living in Dresden, Kent County, Ontario, apart from the rest of the family, in a household which contained, besides the girls, two small boys.

In early 1865, she had a love affair with Thomas Wells, born in England in 1842, the son of Henry and Elizabeth (Nicholas) Wells and brother to Mary Wells who married Angeline's half-brother (357) Daniel Grant Huff. As a result of this liaison she bore a daughter:

+ 1000. Louisa Ellen Huff, 7 February 1866–8 June 1938.

Daniel and Mary eventually took Louisa into their home, and she inherited property in Dresden when Mary died.

Subsequently, according to the published Van Dusen genealogy, Angeline married William Payne, of whom nothing more is known. Neither is Angeline's date of death. William and Angeline are reported to have had at least one child:

1001. William Frederick Payne, ?–?; n. f. i.

364. James Frederick[6] Huff (Abraham[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 28 June 1853, on Huff's Island, Ameliasburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. He remained in Ameliasburgh, and was a farmer. He married Ellen C. _____, who was born about 1853. Ellen died in 1888, and Frederick in 1924. They are buried in Mountain View Cemetery, Ameliasburgh.

There was one child:

1002. Edith Huff, ca 1878–?; n. f. i.

365. Elizabeth Rosanna Gipson[6] Huff (Abraham[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 25 January 1856 on Huff's Island, Ameliasburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. On 11 December 1882 she married Charles Barry. Charles died on 30 March 1890; the date of Elizabeth's death is unknown. There were two children:

Lewis Keith[6] and Grace (Eadus) Huff.

1003. Francis Edith Barry, 1 October 1883–?; n. f. i.
1004. Alexander A. Barry, 19 December 1886–?; n. f. i.

369. Lewis Keith[6] Huff (James[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 3 October 1829 on Huff's Island, Ameliasburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. By 1861 the family had moved to Kent County, Ontario, where they are listed in the census in the town of Chatham. On 31 December 1866, in Hastings County, Ontario, he married Grace Eadus, born in about 1834 in the United States, daughter of William and E. D. Eadus. They established a farm in Chatham, and lived there the rest of their lives. Grace died on 2 November 1893, and is buried in Dawn Mills Cemetery; Lewis died on 6 April 1907.

There are peculiarities in the records regarding Lewis's children. The census records of 1881 and 1891 show the family including six children: Lewis F(ranklin), Edith, Herbert, Rosa, Edward, and Margaret. Lewis's will, however, names only three: one son, Herbert, and daughters Pearl and Edith, together with a daughter-in-law Lottie; Edith is described as "now

James Hugh and Edith[7] (Huff) Selman.

Selman" and Pearl as "now Simpson." In addition, the name of Edith's husband is confused: Articles in the Chatham newspapers refer to the marriage of Edith to Eugene Selman, and to the marriage of Pearl to Claude Simpson as taking place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Hugh Selman, while a gravestone inscription in the Lakeview Cemetery, Sarnia, Lambton County, Ontario, memorializes James Selman and his wife Edith M. Huff. It is reasonably clear that Lottie is Herbert's wife. The question of why Edward was not named in the will remains unanswered; his death record clearly names his parents as Lewis and Grace. As for Pearl, the marriage record of Claude Simpson gives the bride's name as Margaret Huff; and there is a birth record of Margaret Huff giving her father as Lewis, with the birth date matching the age of Margaret in the census. Meanwhile, family sources have given the name of Edith's husband as James Hugh Selman. The list is thus as follows:

+ 1005. Lewis Wisbert Franklin Huff or Hough, 19 October 1867–?.
1006. Edith Mary Huff, 14 November 1869–?; married in March 1895 James Hugh Selman; children Grace, Sadie, and a son, name unavailable; n. f. i.
+ 1007. Herbert Eadus Huff or Hough, 23 September 1871–9 January 1951.
1008. Rosa Hazlitt Huff, 30 December 1873–16 May 1905 (Wilkesport, Lambton County, Ontario); "a working girl"; died of tuberculosis.
+ 1009. Edward Hiram Huff, 6 November 1875–14 April 1951.
1010. Margaret "Pearl" Huff, ca 1879–?; married on 31 December 1902 Claude Simpson; children include a son (name unavailable) and daughters Bernice, Rose, and Vida; n. f. i.

370. William Henry[6] Huff (James[5], Solomon[4], Paul[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 7 February 1854 in Chatham, Kent County, Ontario. He was a farmer. In about 1877 he married Elizabeth F. (Starkweather) Butcher, born about 1855. They lived in Chatham for a time, and then moved to Camden, still in Kent County. William died on 20 August 1892, in Dresden, Kent County; Elizabeth married again, a man named Osborne Neely, born on 27 April 1865. They moved to Frances, Saskatchewan, and raised cattle. Osborne died on 29 May 1930; Elizabeth, on 3 November 1936 in Kitchener, Waterloo County, Ontario.

Both William and Elizabeth are buried in Dresden Cemetery. They had six children:

On 4 July 1860, in Hastings County, Ontario, he married Mary A. Garaghan, born about 1839. They soon moved to Thurlow, Hastings County, Ontario, but returned to Ameliasburgh by 1871 and lived the rest of their lives there. Mary died in 1900, and Gilbert in 1908; they are buried in Simonds Cemetery, Ameliasburgh.

Nothing further is known of him except that he married Alice O. Mercer, born in 1849, the daughter of William and Sarah (Morden) Mercer, and that he died on 18 December 1926. According to his obituary, he moved to Dresden, Kent County, Ontario, as a young man and worked for a lumber company as bookkeeper and salesman. In March 1882 he moved to Grand Forks, Grand Forks County, North Dakota, where he lived the rest of his life. He initially entered the real estate business (and returned to it briefly later in life); he then went into the retail clothing business and was manager of a Grand Forks store. Following a venture in the cigar business, he returned to selling clothing, continuing in that career until he retired in about 1920. He had been active as a volunteer fireman, and was on the Grand Forks polo team; he was a Mason and a Shriner.

He married twice. The name of his first wife is unknown. She had died by 1900, as he is listed as a widower in the 1900 census. His second wife, whom he married in 1908, was Anna Louise Taylor. He died on 26 January 1937; Anna survived him.

Part IV. The Solomon Huff Line

Chapter 18. The Third and Fourth Generations

25. Solomon[3] Huff (William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1751, presumably in Cortland Manor, Westchester County, New York. No record of his birth or baptism has been found. About 1770 or a little later, he married Eva Swade, whose origins are unknown but who is supposed to have been born about 1757. By 1775 they had moved to Orange County, New York, where Solomon signed the Articles of Association in Blooming Grove District, Goshen Precinct. He was listed on the tax rolls in the same year.

Solomon is reputed to have owned a sizable farm in what is now Bronx County, New York, to have joined the British troops as a consequence of a raid on the farm by Patriot forces, to have had his property confiscated because he refused to pledge allegiance to the new government after the war, and to have reached Kingston, Ontario, before the Van Alstine party. There is no basis to be found for this story. In particular, there is no record of his having owned land in Westchester County (from which Bronx County was formed), nor of any property of his (anywhere) having been confiscated; moreover, when he applied for a grant of land in Ontario in 1788, he did so merely as a "settler," and indicated that he had only recently arrived in Ontario. He settled in Adolphustown, in what is now Lennox and Addington County, in association with his brother Paul. He died about 1828; Eva's death date is unknown.

Solomon and Eva had nine children:

+ 66. Jane or Jean Rowena Huff, 8 August 1773–?.
+ 67. Elizabeth Huff, 24 June 1778–9 April 1823.
+ 68. William Huff, ca 1779–?.
+ 69. Catherine Huff, ca 1781–?.
+ 70. Sarah Huff, ca 1785–?.
+ 71. Richard Huff, ca 1788–14 July 1875.
+ 72. Mary Huff, 13 February 1791–23 June 1870.
+ 73. Peter Huff, 25 October 1793–3 June 1870.
+ 74. Solomon Huff, ca 1796–25 March 1872.

66. Jane or Jean Rowena[4] Huff (Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born probably at Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, in 1773, and was baptized on 8 August 1773 in the Presbyterian Church of Rombout and Poughkeepsie. She presumably was taken to Ontario when her father migrated in about 1788. On 2 February 1790, in Adolphustown, in what is now Lennox and Addington County, Ontario, she married Henry H. Hoover, born on 6 March 1763, son of Casper Hoover. They continued to live in Adolphustown, where Henry died on 23 August 1842. The date of Jane's death is unknown.

There were eleven children born to the couple, according to the family Bible:

140. Solomon Hoover, 2 January 1794–?; n. f. i.
141. Elizabeth Hoover, 21 April 1795–?; married on 9 November 1816 Dr. David Wright; children David, Jr., M. D., Jane who married Judge McDonald, Samuel, and Henry, M. D.; n. f. i.
142. Samuel C. Hoover, 11 July 1797–?; married Marian Knapp; n. f. i.
143. Mary Hoover, 3 November 1799–?; married Joseph B. Allison, son of Benjamin and Phoebe (Davidson) Allison; children Edward, Joseph, Jane, Miriam, Elizabeth, Cyrus, Henry, John, David, and Amy; n. f. i.
144. Sarah Hoover, 29 April 1802–?; married Royal C. Hicks; n. f. i.
+ 145. Henry H. Hoover, Jr., 7 November 1804–?.
+ 146. Margaret Hoover, 29 January 1807–12 November 1894.
+ 147. Eva Hoover, 4 September 1809–?.
+ 148. Jane Ann Hoover, 5 October 1812–26 October 1866.
149. Milicent Hoover, 14 January 1816–?; married Peter van Patent; n. f. i.

67. Elizabeth[4] Huff (Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 24 June 1778, probably in Orange County, New York, and presumably traveled to Ontario with the family. In about 1801, she married William Wright, born on 10 June 1776 (apparently no relation to the Jane Wright who married William Hudson after the death of (65) Elizabeth Huff). They reportedly settled in Fredericksburgh, Lennox and Addington County. William died on 11 February 1843, and Elizabeth on 9 April 1823.

Six children are reasonably certain (the order, however, is uncertain):

+ 150. Jane Wright, ca 1800–11 September 1868; married (121) Paul Huff, under whom her children are listed.
+ 151. Eva Wright, 1 December 1802–1 February 1876.
152. William Wright, ?–?; married (1st) _____ Webster, (2nd) _____ Richmond; n. f. i.
153. Paul Wright, ?–?; married Annie Chamberlain; n. f. i.
154. Elizabeth Wright, ?–?; n. f. i.
155. Solomon Wright, 6 April 1808–?; married Ashabah Ham, 24 March 1816–?; n. f. i.

A seventh child, Sarah, is often ascribed to this family. However, her birth date is given as 20 March 1834, which is after Elizabeth's death. Thus she is presumably a member of another Wright family.

68. William[4] Huff (Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1779, probably in Orange County, New York, and presumably traveled to Ontario with the family. He married Maria Cole. PLBQ states that they "settled at Camden," but no record of them has been found either in Camden, Kent County, or in Camden East, Lennox and Addington County.

There were reportedly five children (order incompletely known):

156. Richard Huff, ?–?; n. f. i.
157. Hannah Huff, ?–?; n. f. i.
158. Eva Huff, ?–?; n. f. i.
159. Mary Huff, ?–?; n. f. i.
160. Sarah Huff, 29 August 1818–?; n. f. i.

69. Catherine[4] Huff (Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1781, presumably in Orange County, New York. She married Peter or Pieter Maybee or Mebie, born on 26 February 1774, the son of Abraham and Gerritje (Hogenkamp) Mebie. They settled in Murray Township, Northumberland County, Ontario. Peter died in about 1831, Catherine at an unknown date.

There were eight children:

161. Abram Peter Maybee, 1798–7 February 1883; married in 1827 Mary Campbell, 1805–after April 1881; lived in Murray Township.
162. William Huff Maybee, 1802–8 January 1881; married Julie Ette Harrington, ca 1811–23 November 1870; n. f. i.
163. Peter H. Maybee, 1804–1886; married Mary Ann Maybee, a first cousin, 1810–23 April 1888; n. f. i.
164. Ephraim Maybee, 1809–1872; married (1st) on 15 March 1831 Catherine Gunter, 1814–3 October 1852; (2nd) Jane _____, 1827–?; n. f. i.
165. Solomon Maybee, 10 January 1811–30 October 1862; married Carolina Outendyke, 14 July 1813–21 March 1880; n. f. i.
166. Mary Maybee, January 1814–8 February 1889; married in 1832 John Faul or McFaul; n. f. i.
167. Sarah Maybee, 10 May 1816–14 July 1852; married Samuel Gunter, Jr. ; n. f. i.
168. Mynard Maybee, 1 June 1823–10 October 1863; married Rachel Alley, 24 June 1823–24 January 1863; n. f. i.

70. Sarah[4] Huff (Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1785, presumably in Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County (then simply part of Midland District). On 23 March 1802, in Adolphustown, she married Jacob Dulmage. They settled in Marysburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. Jacob died in 1840; the date of Sarah's death is unknown.[a]

Sarah and Jacob had eleven children (order partly uncertain):

+ 169. Nancy Dulmage, ?–?.
170. Solomon Dulmage, February 1800–10 July 1862; married Ann Zwick, 1803–8 April 1864; n. f. i.
171. David Dulmage, ?–?; n. f. i.
+ 172. Jane Dulmage, 1804–1881.
+ 173. Mary Dulmage, 1807–1847.
174. Elizabeth Dulmage, 1809–1897; married Matthew Pruyn Hicks, 1805–1857; n. f. i.
175. Eva Dulmage, 1817–1878; married (1st) Daniel Snider, (2nd) John Collier, 1811–1878; n. f. i.
176. Sarah Dulmage, 1819–1856; married Lewis Hudgin, 1811–1899; n. f. i.
177. Jonathan Allen Dulmage, ?–31 August 1900; married Christiana Wright; n. f. i.
178. Lydia Dulmage, 1822–1920; married (1st) James McQuoid, (2nd) James Lowery, 1819–1898; n. f. i.
179. Peter Dulmage, ?–?; married Elizabeth Wright; n. f. i.

[a]Sarah is reported to have married Royal C. Hicks. However, Royal appears in the 1851 census in Hillier township, age 54, with a wife Sarah age 48. This fits with Sarah Hoover but not with Sarah Huff.

71. Richard[4] Huff (Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born probably in 1788, in Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. On 17 September 1806, in Marysburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario, he was married to Sophia or Sophronia Snider (born about December 1789), by the Rev. Robert James McDowell. They settled in North Marysburgh, where Richard was a farmer. Richard died on 14 July 1875; Sophia, on 15 July 1879. They are buried in Ross Cemetery, North Marysburgh.

Richard and Sophia had three children:

+ 180. Mary Huff, ?–?.
  181. Eva Huff, ?–?; married John Carr; n. f. i.
+ 182. Jane Huff, ca 1831–after 1875.

72. Mary[4] Huff (Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in Adolphustown on 13 February 1791. On 27 January 1807 she married Henry Coon van Dusen, born on 16 January 1786, son of Conrad and Hannah (Coon) van Dusen. The family lived in Marysburgh. Mary died on 23 June 1870; Henry, on 28 July 1871.

They had one child[b]:

+ 183. David Brown van Dusen, 1 November 1807–?.

73. Peter[4] Huff (Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in Adolphustown on 25 October 1793. On 3 September 1812, he was married by the Rev. Robert James McDowell to Ann Hoald[c] of Marysburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. They settled at South Marysburgh, but lived the last part of their lives in Athol, Prince Edward County, with their son Peter Jr. Peter Sr. was a farmer. He died on 3 June 1870; Ann, on 11 November 1875.

Peter and Ann had nine children:

+ 184. Nathan Huff (twin?), ca 1813–14 March 1859.
  185. Solomon Huff (twin?), ca 1813–ca 1835; n. f. i.
+ 186. William Henry Huff, 18 July 1818–21 October 1871.
  187. Jane Huff, Apr 1821–?; married on 19 May 1842 Benjamin Badgley, and according to PLBQ had John H., Annie, and Frances; n. f. i.
+ 188. John Huff, ca 1823–?.
+ 189. James N. Huff, ca 1827–?.
  190. Anna Huff, ca 1830–?; n. f. i.
+ 191. Peter Huff, Jr., ca 1832–?.

74. Solomon[4] Huff (Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in 1796 in Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. At an unknown date and place, he married Charlotte Lobdell, born in November 1801. They originally lived in Adolphustown, but some time between 1851 and 1861 they

[b]Two other children, Jacob Henry and Mary Hannah, have been ascribed to Henry and Mary. They are actually children of Henry and his second wife, Hannah Hortman.

[c]The name also appears as Head, Heald, and Hale.

moved to North Marysburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. Solomon was a farmer. He died on 25 March 1872; Charlotte was listed as a farmer in the 1881 census. She died on 30 September 1889.

Chapter 19. The Fifth Generation

145. Henry H.[5] Hoover, Jr. (Jane[4] Huff, Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario, on 7 November 1804. He married, first, Mary McLaughlin, born in 1810. Mary died on 26 December 1838, and Henry married, second, Susan Brown, of whom nothing further is known. Henry's death date is also unknown.

146. Margaret[5] Hoover (Jane[4] Huff, Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in Adolphustown, Ontario, on 29 January 1807. She received a grant of 200 acres of land as the daughter of a Loyalist, and traded it for a cow. On 30 January 1830, she married Edward Harris Squire, born in Salem, Washington County, New York, on 4 March 1804, the son of Salmon and Rowena (Harris) Squire. They settled on a homestead in Huntingdon township, Hastings County, Ontario. After clearing the homestead, Edward started a general merchandise store. At different times and places he had three such stores. He would drive back into the hinterland and trade groceries for hides, etc.

The fields of Hastings County were stony, and difficult to cultivate, and so in 1855 the family moved to Ekfrid township, Middlesex County, Ontario, in two wagons and a covered carriage. They settled six miles east of Glencoe, and lived there the rest of their lives. Edward died on 1 July 1880, and Margaret on 12 November 1894.

They had eight children:

148. Jane Ann[5] Hoover (Jane[4] Huff, Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 5 October 1812 in Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. Like her sister, she had a grant of land. On 4 March 1834, in Marysburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario, she married Edward Harrison, born in 1808, son of John and Catherine (Powers) Harrison. They settled in North Marysburgh. Jane died on 26 October 1866, and Edward on 1 January 1890.

On 20 October 1820, in Thurlow, Hastings County, Ontario, she married Isaac Denike, born on 13 September 1802 in Vermont. On 1 January 1838, in Hallowell, Prince Edward County, Ontario, according to the Toronto Christian Guardian, he married Mary McMullen Dyer, born on 27 December 1818. They settled in Brighton, Northumberland County, Ontario. Nathan died on 14 March 1859; Mary, on 23 August 1909, in Merritton, Ontario.

They had nine children, according to PLBQ. Three of them—Sarah, Lucy, and Isabella—do not appear in the 1861 census listing, although PLBQ implies that Sarah was still alive as of about 1904. The nine:

+ 489. Phoebe Anne Huff, 9 June 1840–29 June 1922.
490. Sarah E. Huff, ca 1841(?)–?; married, presumably before 1861, I. H. Allen; n. f. i.

492. Lucy J. Huff, ca 1842–presumably before 1861.

186. William Henry[5] Huff (Peter[4], Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario, on 18 July 1818, according to his death record. On 14 October 1841, he married Lucinda Rilla Cooper, born on 23 June 1819 in Athol township, Prince Edward County, Ontario, second child of James and Hannah Cooper; the marriage, and her parentage, are recorded in their family Bible. Henry, as he was known, was a farmer. They settled in Brighton, Northumberland County, Ontario, and lived out their lives there. Henry died on 21 October 1871, and Lucinda on 7 October 1907.

Unfortunately, one of Henry's sons tore one of the family record pages out of the Bible to send in as proof of his age for a pension; so the record is incomplete. But eleven children are known:

+ 498. Solomon Sanger Huff, 14 September 1844–23 February 1922.

188. John[5] Huff (Peter[4], Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1823, in Adolphustown, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario, according to PLBQ, but more likely in Prince Edward County, possibly in the township of Athol. He married Mary Ann Ferguson, born in 1830, the daughter of James and Mary (Ranney) Ferguson. They settled in Athol, where John was a farmer. Both died in 1923. They had five children:

509. Charles Butler Huff, ca 1851–?, apparently unmarried; n. f. i.

They settled in Cherry Valley, Athol township, Prince Edward County. James was a farmer. His religion was variously listed as Universalist in the 1861 census, Church of England in 1871, and Methodist in 1891. He and Zilpha both died in 1899, and are buried in Cherry Valley cemetery.

[e]The name appears in two sources, both known to be subject to error. The Canadian census records have Tryphonia (1861) or Triphena (1871), assumed to be attempts at the known name used here; the form Parthena is from PLBQ.

191. Peter[5] Huff (Peter[4], Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1832, probably in Prince Edward County, Ontario. On 2 January 1855, he married Anthelia Ogden, of Athol township, Prince Edward County. They lived in Athol until after 1871; between 1871 and 1881—probably after the death of Peter's mother in 1875—they moved to Picton, Prince Edward County. They probably stayed there until the end of their lives, although in the census of 1891 they are recorded both there and in the household of their daughter Anna in Athol. Peter was a farmer. He was also a fishing overseer; and, when the lighthouse at Salmon Point was opened in 1871, he became the first lighthouse keeper. He served as Justice of the Peace beginning in 1870.

Peter died at an unknown date, Anthelia in 1913; both are buried in Cherry Valley Cemetery. They had two children:

+ 520. Berthenia Jane Huff, 1856–1915.
+ 521. Anna Minerva Huff, 1863–1896.

192. Justus Royal[5] Huff (Peter[4], Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1835, presumably in Athol township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. By 1861, he had married Charlotte Matilda Gerow, born about 1845, daughter of John and Esther (Wiggins) Gerow. In the 1861 census they were shown living in a household of their own in Athol. By 1871 they had moved to Port Arthur, Thunder Bay District, Ontario; and in 1880 they were living in San Francisco, California, where Justus held a series of jobs–ropemaker, laborer, and watchman. He evidently died between 1891 and 1894, since he is listed in the San Francisco city directory in 1891, while Charlotte appears as a widow in the 1894 directory. She became a shirtmaker, and continued to live in San Francisco until some time after 1913. She died between 1917 and 1919, and was originally buried in San Francisco, but her remains were later moved to Lafayette, Contra Costa County, California.

The lighthouse at Salmon Point, Athol township, Prince Edward County.

Justus and Charlotte had four children:

+ 522. Walter R. Huff, 2 January 1872–8 January 1930.
+ 523. Norman Peter Huff, 29 February 1872–2 April 1934.
524. John Stanley Huff, ca 1873–before 1911. Stanley lived in Alameda, Alameda County, California, in 1891, and in San Francisco from 1892 until at least 1894; he was employed as a clerk at the San Francisco Bulletin. He later moved to San Jose, Santa Clara County, California, where he owned two theaters and often played the part of the villain himself. He married, at an unknown date and place, Mae Keene, of whom nothing else is known. He died of pneumonia. It is possible that he fathered a child, presumably before his marriage, as a foundling named Stanley Huff is listed in the 1900 census in the Florence Crittenton Home, San Francisco. No further information on this point is available.
525. Hester Huff, probably about 1875–?; died young.

436. David Wright[6] Harrison (Jane Ann[5] Hoover, Jane[4] Huff, Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 17 February 1841 in North Marysburgh, Prince Edward County, Ontario. The following sketch of his life is taken (with some editing) from one written by the late Rev. Ronald Harrison Palmer, one of his descendants.

David migrated to Australia in his early twenties, and decided to become a school teacher. He commenced as a pupil teacher, learning under a headmaster or experienced teacher. He received his first appointment in July 1864, to Five Islands School at Carcoar, New South Wales, about 260 kilometers from Sydney.

He had been at Carcoar only six months when he was appointed headmaster of the Presbyterian School at Campbelltown, New South Wales. Prior to commencing at his new school, he married, on 11 February 1865 at Waverley, Sydney, Jane Wiley, born about 1846 in London, England, the daughter of Joseph and Frances (Dorkins) Wiley. She had come from London in 1858 with her parents, and was a teacher at the Waverley Presbyterian School, where her father was Headmaster. In 1867, David succeeded his father-in-law as Headmaster of the Waverley school, a position he held until 1878. He then successfully applied to be the first Headmaster of the Waverley Public School, where he presided over extensive growth. In 1879, the enrollment was 210; when David left in 1895 to take a new post, it had grown to 975.

In the beginning of 1895, he transferred to Fort Street School, and on 31 August 1896, he became Headmaster of South Strathfield Public School. He introduced French and other subjects into the syllabus, and so enabled the school to be upgraded to a Superior School which could provide education beyond the end of primary school. At the age of 60, he applied for an extension of time as Headmaster, and continued teaching until he was 65. For a time he lived at Drummoyne, and eventually moved to Manly, where he died on 8 January 1932. Jane died in 1910.

David is described as a man who always had the welfare of his pupils at heart. He endeavored to keep the school property in good repair, and often applied for improvements. He also had a deep Christian faith which was expressed in service to his church. He followed his father-in-law as choirmaster of St. John's Presbyterian Church, Paddington, where he was also Sunday School Superintendent. He was one of those responsible for the founding of the Presbyterian Church at Waverley.

David and Jane had nine children:

+ 1133. Eliza Jane Harrison, 1866–1960.

He married Rebecca Jane Ireland, born on 11 June 1847, daughter of George and Ann (Rogers) Ireland and thus sister to the wife of Sanger's brother (501) James. They lived the rest of their lives in Brighton, where Sanger was a farmer. The road on which their farm was located is still known as Huff's Road. Sanger died on 23 February 1922, and Rebecca on 29 January 1930. They are buried in Woods Cemetery, Brighton.

500. Nathan[6] Huff (Henry William[5], Peter[4], Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on December 1846 in Brighton, Northumberland County, Ontario. At the time of his father's death in 1871, he was living in Minnesota. There he married Emma Annetta _____, born in Minnesota in about November 1856. They lived for a time in Wisconsin, then returned to Minnesota, and by June 1896 were living in California. The family appears in the 1900 census in Santa Paula township, Ventura County. By 1910, Emma had apparently died, and Nathan was living with his married daughter Bessie in Orange County; he is described as a carpenter. The date of his death is unknown.

There were five children, all daughters:

+ 1206. Bessie Huff, ca 1877 (Wisconsin)–?.
1207. Nancy Huff, ca 1879–?; n. f. i.
1208. Winnifred Huff, April 1884–?; married William H. Cook, a bean farmer, and was living in Santa Ana township, Orange County, California, in 1919, with one child, Rita; n. f. i.
1209. Myrtle Huff, June 1896–?.
1210. Jessie Huff, August 1899–?.

Myrtle and Jessie were major figures in an incident that became known as the "Saga of Tomato Springs," in which there occurred the first killing of an Orange County law enforcement officer in the line of duty. The Los Angeles Times of 4 October 1981, retelling the story, began this way:

> It was started when a drifter wearing hob-nailed boots and carrying a pack on his back wandered onto the Rancho San Joaquin portion of the Irvine Ranch late in the afternoon of Sunday, Dec. 15, 1912 . . ..

The same newspaper's original account of the event, in the edition of 17 December 1912, describes it this way:

> Nobody here knows who the man was. He appeared on the San Joaquin ranch, eight miles east of Santa Ana, yesterday, carrying a pack and rifle. He was a tall, lithe fellow, 25 or 30 years of age, dark complexioned, wearing a gray suit and heavy half-boots. He stopped at the ranch-house on the land leased by William A. Cook and asked for work, which was not to be had.
> In the yard he eyed Myrtle Huff, sister of Mrs. Cook, and sister of Mrs. Hugh McDonald, wives of well-known ranchers of the San Joaquin. Last evening he bought a meal . . . at Myford, two miles away. At about 7 o'clock he returned to Cook's house, peeked into the windows, where the happy family were addressing Christmas cards. Hearing their pet dog bark and fearing he might follow coyotes away, Myrtle Huff, aged 17, and her sister, Jessie, aged 13, whose home is with Mrs. Cook, went to the barn, fifty yards away, and tied their dog. They carried a lantern. Suddenly a man jumped up in front of them.

"Don't either of you scream," he snarled, "or I'll kill you both."

He fired a bullet into the ground in front of them.

"You see I mean business. Which of you is the older?"

Brave Myrtle Huff instantly replied she was.

"Put out that lantern."

She raised it to his face and saw it was the man who was there in the afternoon.

The man took a rope from his belt and tied Jessie to the fence. He dragged Myrtle around the edge of the barn. Jessie untied herself and ran to the house. Without a gun in the house, Cook ran to the barn, and was met with two bullets from the shadow of the hay stack. Cook had to go back, as ordered. He aroused his employes . . .. Before they could do anything the scoundrel was gone and his victim was back in her home.

It was later determined by a medical examination that Myrtle had not been harmed "in any way."

Cook and his brother started to round up a posse, and the sheriff sent deputies to help, but the men could not trace the fugitive in the hills. The next morning he forced another family to give him breakfast. Within an hour, the posse had found him. In the ensuing fight, he killed an undersheriff and seriously wounded three other men. At this point the National Guard was called out. Eventually an intense volley of shots was fired toward the man's hiding place, and then the troops rushed him. As they began moving in, they heard a single shot, and when they reached the man, they found that he had killed himself. It was subsequently learned that he was the son of a former mayor of Eugene, Oregon; that he had fled that state after posting $1,500 bail on charges of attacking a young girl; and that he was dying of tuberculosis, and so felt that he had nothing to lose.

502. George Albert[6] Huff (William Henry[5], Peter[4], Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 1 November 1848 in Athol township, Prince Edward County, Ontario. By 1871 he was in Penetanguishene, Simcoe County, Ontario, situated on an arm of Georgian Bay; there he married, on 20 March 1871, Ann Elizabeth Hoar, born about 1849 in Penetanguishene, daughter of William and Jane Hoar. She evidently died soon afterward, and George married Eliza Jane Gillis, born on 6 June 1845 in Ontario, the daughter of George and Eliza (McKittrick) Gillis. He continued to live in Ontario, presumably in Penetanguishene, until about 1885, when he migrated to British Columbia and settled in the town of Alberni, on Vancouver Island. There he became a merchant and a steamboatman. By 1892 he owned the wharf, and a nearby building that housed a general store (which he operated) and a few rooms to accommodate travelers. In 1897 he was operating a small steamboat, the Hollybank; that same year he bought the Willie, a stern-wheeler.

Meanwhile he had been elected to the provincial legislature from 1894 through 1898. He continued to be a prominent citizen until his death on 20 September 1934. Eliza had predeceased him, on 25 August 1928.

George and Eliza had only one child:

1211. Minnie Ann Huff, ca 1877–4 June 1911; married Thomas Paterson; seven children, only names known Thomas and Belle.

Thomas Paterson was the keeper of Cape Beale lighthouse, and Minnie was involved in two incidents of rescue of wrecked ships, both in 1906. In one, the Valencia had gone ashore in the fog; Minnie spent 36 hours at the telegraph key, and helped feed and comfort the few survivors.

The second involved outstanding heroism. On 6 or 7 December, Tom saw through a towering storm a dismasted ship offshore, with men aboard. The only chance to help them was the tender Quadra, in Bamfield Inlet six miles away. The telegraph and telephone were both dead, and Tom could not leave his post. So Minnie put on some of his heavy clothing and set off for Bamfield. The trail was little more than blazes on trees, and the storm made going nearly impossible; often she had to feel her way around broken telegraph wires that could easily trip her. To add to the difficulty, Bamfield Creek had washed out part of the trail. When she reached this point, she moved downstream and started to wade; she barely made it. She then struck out cross country, and four hours after leaving the lighthouse, she reached the home of a friend. The friend's husband had been out all night trying to repair the telegraph, and so the two women took a small rowboat and headed for the tender.

The captain of the tender spotted them, and went in his longboat to meet them. As soon as they were within speaking distance, Minnie shouted to him the word of the stricken vessel. The captain had kept steam up during the night, and so was able to cast off immediately; the two women rowed back to shore and returned to the friend's home. The friend urged Minnie to come in for some tea and to get dry clothes, but Minnie said that her baby needed her and set off on the return trip to the lighthouse.

The Quadra reached the other vessel, the Coloma out of Port Townsend headed for Australia, and managed to rescue all of the men aboard. Minnie returned safely to the lighthouse, but as a result of the exposure and strain she was to suffer from poor health for the few remaining years of her life.

508. Stiles Henry[6] Huff (Henry William[5], Peter[4], Solomon[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]), known as Harry, was born on 18 February 1862 in Brighton, Northumberland County, Ontario. He married Harriet E. Craig, daughter of William and Fanny (Rodgers) Craig, born in 1864. She died in 1933, and he on 26 March 1956; they are buried in Woods Cemetery, Brighton.

They had only one child:

+ 1212. Charles Edwin Huff, 1888–1964.

William founded a general insurance business on Main Street in Picton, Prince Edward County, Ontario, that was still in operation near the end of the 20th century. Henrietta died in 1941, and William in 1932; they are buried in Glenwood Cemetery, Picton, Prince Edward County, Ontario.

In March 1896, in Los Angeles, Los Angeles County, California, he married Frances Julia Chaffey; they lived in Winnipeg. John was a barrister, and was named Queen's Counsel in 1893. "Fannie" Collier, born about 1868, daughter of John and Esther Collier. Until about 1890, they lived in Cherry Valley, Athol township. Then Hosea decided to move to Brighton, Northumberland County, Ontario. Fannie did not want to move, and so Hosea left his wife and children behind. How long this arrangement lasted is not known; Fannie and the children are listed in the 1891 census in Athol township. Eventually Hosea and Fannie moved to Manitoulin Island, Ontario, where she died in 1930 and he in 1934.

Part V. The Shadrack Huff Line

It cannot be definitely established that the Shadrack Huff who came to Ontario in 1787, raised a family there, and returned to the United States in 1820 is the Zadrach Huff who was baptized in Hopewell, New York, in 1767. Nor is it certain that the Shadrack Huff who appears in the 1820 census in the town of Richland, Oswego County, New York, is identical with either of the others. However, the circumstantial evidence—primarily the fact that a study of Huff families in the United States has revealed no other person named Shadrack at that time, together with the fact that he turns up in the neighborhood of where three brothers of Zadrach are known to have settled—is fairly strong, and the assumption will be accepted here that all three of these are the same man.

29. Shadrack[3] Huff (William[2], Engelbert[1]) was baptized, probably shortly after his birth, on 28 May 1767 in the First Reformed Church of Hopewell, Dutchess County, New York. He was undoubtedly living in Orange County, New York, in 1775, when his father and two brothers were listed on the assessment rolls there. Nothing further is known of him until 1787, when he appeared in Ontario petitioning for a grant of land for himself, his wife, and an infant daughter. He was granted 200 acres in Richmond township, Lennox and Addington County (then merely part of the Midland District). Later evidence gives the name of his wife as Susannah Reed; she may be a daughter of William Reed, who had settled in Wawayanda, Orange County, New York, some time before the War of Independence. On 11 October 1796, the Court of Quarter Sessions in Kingston granted Shadrack a licence for keeping a Public House of entertainment and retailing spirituous liquors.

It appears that Susannah may have died some time before 1813, and that Shadrack may have married a second time, since, according to a deposition later by his son Samuel, Shadrack "previous to 1813 . . . had married an American, who persuaded [him] to go with her to U. S. after spending 23 years in Richmond." As a consequence of this "inconsiderate and improper conduct," Shadrack's property was confiscated by the Sheriff. Samuel petitioned for its return to him, but was refused. It appears that the family likewise considered Shadrack's action highly improper, also, as his descendants all seem to have thought themselves descended from other brothers.[a] Shadrack evidently moved to New York State, and settled in the township of Richland, Oswego County. He apparently died between 1820 and 1830.

Shadrack and Susannah appear to have had at least three children; there may have been others. The three:

75. A daughter, possibly named Elizabeth, b before 1787–?; known with certainty only through Shadrack's having mentioned a daughter in his petition for land; may have married a Mr. Wagar; n. f. i.

+ 76. Samuel Huff, 10 January 1789–3 June 1869.

77. (presumably) Nancy Huff, 10 December 1799–28 June 1882; married on 28 July 1818 Thomas Clapp, son of Benjamin and Eustacia (Leavens) Clapp; n. f. i.

In addition, Samuel seems to have had a child by whoever was his wife in 1820:

78. A daughter, ca 1817–?; n. f. i.

76. Samuel[4] Huff (Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 10 January 1789, in Richmond township, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. At an unknown date, probably about 1810, he married Jane Norton, who was born about 1795. Some time between 1813 and 1819, the family moved to the village of Napanee, in the same county, and lived the rest of their lives there. As of the 1861 census, Samuel and Jane were living with their son Samuel, Jr., and he was categorized as "gentleman"; he had presumably been a farmer. He died on 3 June 1869, and Jane died at an unknown date; both are buried in Riverview Cemetery, Napanee. Samuel's tombstone gives a death date of 13 June, but an obituary had appeared before that in the Napanee newspaper giving the earlier date. Jane's tombstone is broken, and so the date is not available.

[a] One of Shadrack's grandsons impressed his own granddaughter with his repeated statement, "I am Samuel, the son of Samuel, the son of Solomon."

Seven children are known, and an eighth is probable, as follows:

+ 202. William Huff, ca 1812–17 January 1887.
+ 203. Joseph Huff, ca 1813–?.
+ 204. Thomas Clapp Huff, 15 August 1819–9 May 1888.
+ 205. Eliakim Huff, 1822–14 August 1898.
+ 206. (probably) Nancy Huff, 1822–1856.
+ 207. Samuel Huff, ca 1825–6 May 1898.
+ 208. Mary Huff, ca 1829–9 December 1898.
+ 209. Amelia Huff, ca 1839–?.

Chapter 27. The Fifth Generation

202. William[5] Huff (Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about July 1812 in Richmond township, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. By 1842 he had married Sarah Carter, born in about 1826, and had moved to Napanee, in the same county, where he lived the rest of his life. He was a cooper by trade. He died on 17 January 1887, and Sarah died on 14 September 1890. Both are buried in Riverview Cemetery, Napanee.

They had eight children:

526. Samuel Huff, ca May 1843–5 November 1856; buried in Riverview Cemetery, Napanee.
527. Jane Ann Huff, 25 August 1844–10 May 1862. Jane Ann was apparently the victim of a botched abortion, according to the inquest report. The doctor who had attended her, a Dr. Rowe, was charged with murder, and her mother with being an accessory. Both of the physicians who had performed the post mortem (one of whom was the noted Mohawk Indian physician, Dr. Oronhyateka) testified at the trial of Dr. Rowe that there was extensive laceration of the womb. Dr. Rowe did not testify in person, but claimed in a deposition that he had been present alone with the girl in Napanee when she had a miscarriage, which he maintained was brought on by medicine that she had had in her possession "which I thought was smart rye." The other physicians testified that in their judgment, she could not have survived the trip from Napanee to Frankford (where the death occurred) in her condition. In addition, a witness testified that he had seen a fetus in a pail at Dr. Rowe's house on the Monday following the incident. Nevertheless, Dr. Rowe was acquitted, and, of course, there was then no cause of action against Jane Ann's mother.
528. Henrietta Huff, ca 1848–?; n. f. i.
529. Viola R. Huff, ca September 1855–7 November 1867; buried in Riverview Cemetery.
530. John Huff, ca February–25 July 1857.
531. Mark Huff, ca 1859–?; listed as a teamster in the census of 1881, at which time he was still living with his parents; n. f. i.
532. Frank Huff, ca October 1860–15 September 1861.
533. Kenneth McK. Huff, ca 1864–?; listed as a livery helper in the census of 1881; n. f. i.

203. Joseph[5] Huff (Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1813 in Richmond township, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. By 1837 he had married Jerusha Hearns, and had moved to the township of Fredericksburgh, in the same county. In 1861 he had moved to Napanee, still in the same county, where his children also lived. He was a cooper. He apparently died between 1861 and 1871, while Jerusha seems to have died between 1871 and 1881.

Joseph and Jerusha had four children:

+ 534. William Darias Huff, ca 1839–?.
+ 535. Clarinda Huff, 7 April 1841–?.
536. Jerusha Lucinda Huff, 4 December 1845–?; married on 11 November 1862 John McCall; n. f. i.
+ 537. George Nelson Huff, 23 August 1847–8 December 1908.

204. Thomas Clapp[5] Huff (Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 15 August 1819 in Napanee, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. He was apparently named after the husband of his father's sister Nancy. He married Isabelle Sills. They lived all their lives in Napanee, where Thomas was a farmer. Thomas died on 9 May 1888, and Isabelle on 7 January 1901. Thomas's will names his sons Thomas Marshall, Charles Solomon, and Herbert Wesley, and his grandchildren Thomas and Addie Bell Sharp. Both he and Isabelle are buried in Riverview Cemetery, Napanee.

They had eight children:

+ 538. Mary Jane Huff, 13 October 1844–?.
+ 539. George Wellington Huff, 17 October 1846–1920.
+ 540. Samuel Nelson Huff, 31 August 1849–3 March 1918.
541. Thomas Marshall Huff, ca 1853–1925, apparently unmarried; a farmer; his will leaves property to brothers Charles Solomon and William Anson.
+ 542. Charles Solomon Huff, 1857–14 August 1934.
543. Sarah Ellen Huff, 7 May 1859–14 October 1853; married W. W. Sharpe; children Thomas and Addie Bell.
+ 544. William Anson Huff, 5 November 1861–3 April 1946.
+ 545. Herbert Wesley Huff, ca 1863–?

205. Eliakim[5] Huff (Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in 1821 in Napanee, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario, and lived all his life there. Presumably in Napanee, he married Nancy Janes, born in February 1824. Eliakim was listed as a cooper in the 1861 census, and as a brickmaker in the censuses of 1871–1891. He died on 14 August 1898, and Nancy died on 23 October 1897; they are buried in Riverview Cemetery, Napanee.

Eliakim and Nancy had seven children:

+ 546. Wilson Huff, 18 September 1843–27 October 1924.
+ 547. Hiram Wesley Huff, ca 1846–1938.
+ 548. Nancy Adeline Huff, 26 March 1847–?.
+ 549. Mary Jane Huff, 15 May 1849–27 March 1899.
550. Martha Ann Huff, ca 1855–?; n. f. i.
551. Agnes Huff, ca 1858–?; n. f. i.
552. Cinderetta Huff, ca 1863–?; n. f. i.

206. Nancy[5] Huff (Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in 1822 in Napanee, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. She married William Tewksbury. She died in 1856, having had five children:

553. Melissa Tewksbury, ?–?; married _____ Snyder; n. f. i.

+ 554. Jane Tewksbury, ?–?; married on 25 November 1856 (464) Conrad Bongard. Their children are given at his entry.

555. Catherine Emily Tewksbury, 23 February 1845–28 July 1846.

556. John William Tewksbury, ?–?; n. f. i.

557. Frank Tewksbury, ?–?; n. f. i.

208. Samuel[5] Huff (Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in 1825 in Napanee, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. He was a carpenter. Probably in about 1845, he married Isabel Williams, born on 5 July 1827 in County Armagh, Ireland. Shortly before 1864, Samuel and his son John went to Titusville, Crawford County, Pennsylvania, where they built oil derricks. When the Titusville oil field failed, they moved to Bradford, McKean County, Pennsylvania, where a new field had come in; the family joined them there, and they lived there for the rest of their lives. Samuel died on 6 May 1898, and Isabella on 30 June 1919.

Samuel and Isabelle had eight children, all born in Napanee:

558. Eliza Adelaide Huff, 6 September 1847–5 May 1899, unmarried; described as a tailoress in the census of 1871.

+ 560. John Luman Huff, 20 November 1851–April 1923 or 26 May 1926.

561. Isabella Jane ("Jennie") Huff, 14 January 1854–28 March 1922 (Bradford, McKean County, Pennsylvania) as a result of burns; married in 1914 Lucien Bullard, 1844–1918, a jeweler from Vermont who had served in the U. S. Civil War; no issue.

+ 562. William Thomas Huff, 1 December 1855–23 September 1942.

208. Mary[5] Huff (Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in 1829 in Napanee, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario, and lived all her life there. She married James Benn, born in 1825. He died on 15 October 1883, and Mary died on 3 December 1898; they are buried in Riverview Cemetery, Napanee.

They appear to have had seven children (order somewhat uncertain):

566. John W. Benn, 1849–before 1898; n. f. i.
567. Jane Benn, ca 1851–?; married Philip Barton; n. f. i.

209. Amelia[5] Huff (Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1839 in Napanee, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario, and presumably lived all her life there. She married David York(e), a cooper, born about 1838. Their death dates are not known, but were after 12 August 1898.

According to the 1881 census and the obituary of the older son, there were two children; family sources list two more:

573. William S. York, ca 1854–12 August 1898; married, wife's name unavailable; children Harry and Percy; n. f. i.
574. Jane York, ?–?; n. f. i.

534. William Darias[6] Huff (Joseph[5], Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1839 in Napanee, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario, and presumably lived all his life there. He was a blacksmith by trade. On 22 July 1861, he married Lana van Alstine, born about 1837, the daughter of James J. and Sarah van Alstine. It appears that she died fairly young, and on 3 October 1867 William married Catherine Elizabeth Edgar, born about 1842, the daughter of Philip and Elizabeth (Quackenbush) Edgar. Both William and Catherine were still living as of the 1891 census.

William had one child by Lana:

On 5 March 1859, she married Alexander Lewis, born about 1838 in Simcoe, Haldimand County, Ontario. Alexander apparently died between 1866 and 1871; as of the 1871 census, Clarinda and her children were living with her mother in Napanee, without Alexander.

There were four children:

1250. Emma Lewis, ca 1859–?; n. f. i.
1251. Mary Lewis, ca 1860–?; n. f. i.

He died on 8 December 1908 and Anna on 24 February 1914; both are buried in Riverview Cemetery, Napanee.

Only one child is known:

1254. Emma or Eva V. Huff, 1870–1935; married Oswald Robert Laidley, 1866–1939; both buried in Riverview Cemetery, Napanee; n. f. i.

538. Mary Jane[6] Huff (Thomas Clapp[5], Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1844 in Fredericksburgh, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. Probably about 1871, she married John Clancy. When they died is unknown.

They had three children:

1255. Addie Belle Clancy, ca 1873–5 October 1948; married George Tomilson; children George Albert, Frederick, and Ethel; n. f. i.
+ 1256. George Nelson Clancy, 1874–11 March 1949.

1258. Jane Huff, ?–?; n. f. i.

In 1871 he migrated to the United States, and settled in Ingham County, Michigan. In 1876 he married Lavina Strayer. She died on 17 January 1878, and in 1879 Nelson married Mary Ann Button, born in New York about 1850. Nelson died on 3 March 1918.

Nelson had one child by Lavina (an older child listed with the family in the 1880 census was his second wife's by a previous marriage):

1259. Mary Jane Huff, ca 1877–?; n. f. i.

He had two more by Mary Ann:

1260. Margaret Huff, 23 August 1883–1945; married Lawrance Guile; n. f. i.
1261. Bessie Huff, 30 August 1889–1977; married Ford Smith; n. f. i.

Charles was still living with his parents as of the 1881 census. On 1 November 1900, in Toronto, York County, Ontario, he married Frances Bowyer, who was born in about 1868. They lived in Toronto. Charles died there on 14 August 1934, and Frances some time later.

They had two children:

+ 1262. Charles Frederick Huff, 10 July 1902–10 November 1985.
+ 1263. Thomas Herbert Huff, 4 November 1904–10 November 1985.

Probably shortly after 1900, he married Lillian Elizabeth Alice Noakes, born on 17 December 1881 in Tunbridge Wells, County Kent, England. He operated a shipping firm and a dock in North Fredericksburgh, Ontario, including a ferry across the Long Reach of the Bay of Quinte. William died on 3 April 1946, and Lillian on 3 October 1957.

They had twelve children:

+ 1264. Isabelle Lillian Huff, 23 September 1906–.
+ 1265. George Frederick Huff, 11 December 1907–.

+ 1275. Francis Ilean Huff, 15 January 1925–.

545. Herbert Wesley[6] Huff (Thomas Clapp[5], Samuel[4], Shadrack[3], William[2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 1863 in South Fredericksburgh, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario. He moved to Michigan, and bought a farm in Meridian township, Ingham County, in February 1898. On 12 April 1909, in Lansing, Ingham County, he married Lettie Butler, born on 2 January 1873, the daughter of George and Emeline Butler. He died on 21 September 1922, and Lettie on 5 December 1966.

Herbert and Lettie had one child:

She married Anthony Gabler, a construction worker. As of 1991, they were living in Olean, Cattaraugus County, New York; they had one child:

4638. Nicholas Gabler, October 1989–.

Part VI. The John Huff Line

As discussed in Part I, it cannot be proved that the Huff line descended from John Huff of Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York,;Ferrisburgh, Addison County, Vermont; and Hamburgh, Erie County, New York, is definitely part of the Engelbert Huff family. However, a biographical sketch of his great-grandson (241) Sanford gives an outline of the family history to that time, and the description of the immigrant ancestor, though distorted by time, evidently refers to Engelbert. It is therefore assumed here that John is indeed a descendant of Engelbert. His death record in the records of the Hamburgh Monthly Meeting of Quakers gives the name of his parents as John and Martha. The only way that this can fit with known dates is for Engelbert's son John to have married a woman named Martha, by whom he had the John Huff whose line is given here.

Chapter 33. The Third and Fourth Generations

38. John[3] Huff (John[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, on 25 March 1751. On 2 December 1779, in the First Reformed Church of Rhinebeck, Dutchess County, New York, he married Elizabeth Wilde, born on 15 March 1757, daughter of Obadiah and Sarah Wilde of Clinton Township, Dutchess County, New York.

Little is known of John's early years. He is said to have served for six years in the Revolutionary Army, and to have participated in the battles of Saratoga and Brooklyn. There is a record of a John Houff, a private in the 1st Battalion, 1st New York Regiment of militia, the only man of a similar name from New York whose service was of such length. He enlisted on 27 October 1777; muster rolls show him at various places in New York from then until 7 June 1782, on which date he deserted.[a] Apart from that possibility, the first record pertaining to him is that of his marriage.

John and Elizabeth lived in Fishkill until about 1790, and their first six children were born there. Then, probably influenced by Elizabeth's brother-in-law, Timothy Rogers, they moved to Vermont. On 19 April 1790, John bought 50 acres of land in the township of Ferrisburgh, Addison County; on 18 May 1891, he bought another 20 acres, in two plots adjoining the first; and on 16 August 1797 he bought still another 50 acres in another part of the township.

Meanwhile, John and Elizabeth had become attracted to the Society of Friends. Elizabeth's family had, for several generations, been "borderline" Quakers; and Timothy Rogers was a strong Quaker. In July of 1790, the minutes of the Men's Meeting of Saratoga (New York) Monthly Meeting, which at the time included northwestern Vermont, reported that John was desirous of becoming a member. The committee appointed to visit him repeatedly failed to report through October; subsequent minutes are missing. It appears that there was considerable delay, for reasons unknown (perhaps related to the fact that at about that time, the Saratoga Meeting was splitting to give rise to Danby Meeting, which later, in turn, split to form Ferrisburgh Meeting), and that John was not accepted as a member until after the birth of his seventh child, in 1792. Elizabeth was accepted in February 1794; and in March 1796, their sons John, Timothy, Jacob, and David were likewise accepted as members. The subsequent children were Quakers by birthright; it appears that Obadiah and William did not become Quakers, and Sarah did so only later.

Beginning about 1803, the children, again under the influence of Timothy Rogers, began migrating to the area around the western end of Lake Ontario—some to the Canadian side of the border, others staying in the States. Finally, in 1828, John and Elizabeth themselves moved west. John had already sold his property to his son Joseph in 1826; a deed of return sale was executed, with the stipulation that it would be null and void if Joseph would take care of his parents for the rest of their lives. They moved to Joseph's home in Hamburgh, Erie County, New York, and John died there on 26 June 1834. Elizabeth moved to Rochester, Monroe County, New York, in 1839, and was under care of Shelby Monthly Meeting when she died in 1841.

There were a total of eleven children:

+ 82. Obadiah Huff, ca 1782–9 May 1822.

---

[a]It should be noted that desertion did not carry the stigma then that it does now; soldiers deserted because they were not paid, or because they were needed on their home farms, etc.

+ 83. Sarah Huff, 4 June 1783–14 May 1847.
+ 84. John Huff, 7 September 1784–9 December 1872.
+ 85. William Huff, 7 September 1784–after 1850.
+ 86. Timothy Huff, 13 December 1786–12 September 1856.
+ 87. Jacob Huff, 15 December 1788–?.
+ 88. David C. Huff, 17 April 1792–29 September 1857.

89. Joseph Huff, 13 October 1794–5 September 1867; a farmer and a tanner. In 1818 he received clearance for transfer to Hamburgh Monthly Meeting. He evidently returned to Ferrisburgh, at least to visit, as in 1828 he was disowned by Ferrisburgh Monthly Meeting for deviation from plainness and attending a horse race; notice of the disownment was sent to Hamburgh. Some time before March 1829, he married Lydia Potter, daughter of Nathaniel and Ruth (Palmer) Potter and sister-in-law of Joseph's brother Timothy. Lydia, unlike her sister, had been in good standing with the Quakers, but was disciplined for marrying out of meeting; she made acknowledgment, and was retained in membership. They lived in the town of Evans, Erie County, from 1833 on. They had no children of their own, but provided a home for several foster children. In the census of 1850, there is listed an Augustus W. Huff, age 16, in their household. The name may be an error; no person by that name is known in the family. Joseph died of cholera on 5 September 1867 in the town of Hanover, Erie County, having been taken ill during a trip; he is buried in the East Hamburgh Friends Cemetery. Lydia died on 13 June 1876, and is buried in the same cemetery.

90. Rachel Huff, 2 October 1796 (Ferrisburgh, Vermont)–?; n. f. i.

91. Elizabeth Huff, 20 February 1803 (Ferrisburgh, Vermont)–?; disowned by Ferrisburgh Monthly Meeting 30 January 1828, offense unknown (possibly marrying out of meeting); married before 1839 Ezra Annis; n. f. i.

92. Margaret Huff, ca 1805 (Ferrisburgh, Vermont)–?; n. f. i.

82. Obadiah[4] Huff (John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 10 October 1781, in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York. On 23 January 1806, he married Eunice Willard of Ferrisburgh, Addison County, Vermont, born on 27 October 1783; she was disowned by Ferrisburgh Monthly Meeting of Quakers for having married out of meeting.

In 1803, under the sponsorship of Timothy Rogers, Obadiah was given a grant of land in the township of East Gwillimbury, York County, Ontario, in the community of Holland. He kept the land until his death, and farmed it. There is reason to think that he may also have been a carpenter. He and his brother William are on record as having served on a jury in East Gwillimbury in 1803. At a General Quarter Sessions, York, 8 April 1806, he was appointed Constable for The Gwillimburys.

Eunice died some time between 1 June 1810 and 1812, and on 20 November 1813, in St. James' Anglican Cathedral, Toronto, York County, Ontario, Obadiah married Ann Mills, born on 19 September 1792. He died 9 May 1822, and was buried in a graveyard on his farm. Some time after his death, Ann married George Wright. George was evidently a good stepfather, as some of Obadiah's sons named children after him.

Obadiah and Eunice had two children:

210. Eli Huff, 2 December 1806 (East Gwillimbury)–17 November 1835 (ibid.); married on 19 November 1834 Agnes Goodfellow; no issue. His will names his sister and his five half brothers. Agnes survived him and married Gavin Allan.
211. Eunice Willard Huff, 1 June 1810 (East Gwillimbury)–?; married on 14 March 1834 John R. Clark; n. f. i.

By Ann, Obadiah had five sons, all born in East Gwillimbury:

+ 212. James Huff, 18 June 1814–ca 1875.
+ 213. John A. Huff, 14 January 1816–23 June 1864.
+ 214. Peter V. Huff, 13 February 1818–?.
+ 215. Henry M. Huff, 21 October 1819–buried 2 November 1864.
+ 216. David Cullen Huff, 28 September 1821–2 November 1898.

83. Sarah[4] Huff (John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 4 June 1783 in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York. She became a Quaker on her own conviction, being accepted by Danby Monthly Meeting on 10 September 1795. Some time before 9 May 1799, she married Peter Van Vliet, born on 30 October 1775. She was disowned on 7 November 1799 for marrying out of meeting; she evidently acknowledged her error and was reinstated, as on 1 May 1804 she applied for a certificate of clearance to Ferrisburgh Monthly Meeting. Sarah died on 14 May 1847, and Peter on 13 September 1853, both in Ferrisburgh, Addison County, Vermont.

The births of Sarah and Peter's ten children are recorded in the records of the Ferrisburgh Monthly Meeting (implying that Peter also became a Quaker):

217. Amy Van Vliet, 10 December 1804–?; n. f. i.
218. Hannah Van Vliet, 27 August 1806–?; n. f. i.
219. Anelidan (?) Van Vliet, 9 March 1808–?; n. f. i.
220. Obadiah Van Vliet, 8 October 1809–?; n. f. i.
221. Sarah Van Vliet, 7 February 1812–16 December 1825.
222. Eli Van Vliet, 2 May 1815–?; n. f. i.
223. Jane Ann Van Vliet, 8 October 1815–?; n. f. i.
224. Cornelia Van Vliet, 8 May 1819–?; n. f. i.
225. Christiana Van Vliet, 1 July 1821–?; n. f. i.
226. Jemima Van Vliet, 8 July 1823–?; n. f. i.

84. John[4] Huff (John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 7 September 1784 in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York. He was one of four brothers brought into membership in the Society of Friends by their parents in 1796. In December 1806, he and his brother Jacob received certificates of clearance to Yonge Street Monthly Meeting, in the area of Toronto, York County, Ontario. However, he was disowned for distilling spirituous liquors, and apparently left the area within a short time. On 8 October 1809, in Clinton township, Dutchess County, New York, he married Sarah "Sally" Wilde or Wiley, born on 21 September 1787, daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth Wiley. He evidently became a Methodist: One of his sons wrote, at the time of the engagement of his son, "We have always been Methodists."

In the 1810 and 1820 U.S. censuses, John is recorded in Ferrisburgh, Addison County, Vermont. He has not been found in the 1830 census, but in the 1835 state census of New York, he is listed in the township of Jay, in Essex County. By 1836, he was in the town of Franklin, in Franklin County, New York, and was on the juror list there. In March 1838 he was voted Overseer of Highways and Constable; in March 1839, Collector; in March 1840, Commissioner of Highways; in March 1842, Pathmaster of District No. 5; and in March 1843, Pathmaster of District No. 6. In the U. S. census of 1840, he is listed with his wife, two sons, and a daughter; in 1850, he is still there, with his wife and sons Joseph and Sanford. Sarah died on 30 May 1851, and is buried in Franklin Falls. On 17 February 1853, John married, in Ferrisburgh, Mary (Siple) Ball, born about 1766, daughter of Michael Siple and widow of Alvin Ball. He lived the rest of his life in Ferrisburgh; he died on 9 December 1872, and Mary on 18 August 1874, and they are both buried in North Ferrisburgh cemetery.

All of John's children were by Sally, and all but the last were born in Ferrisburgh. The birth dates, together with the birth and marriage dates for Sarah Wiley and the names of her parents, are from a family Bible in the possession (as of 1988) of Mrs. Mildred Hough Singleton of Albany, New York. The actual family record pages have been removed from the Bible, but someone had copied the family record:

227. Lavenia Huff, 7 September 1810–?; n. f. i.
+ 228. Jacob Wiley Huff, 6 March 1813–28 June 1886.
229. Angelina Huff, 2 November 1815–?; n. f. i.
+ 230. William Davis Huff, 14 November 1819–1895.
+ 231. Joseph Laurence Huff, 19 March 1823–23 September 1900.
232. Luisa Huff, 16 June 1825–after 1885, at which time she was living with her brother Reuben in Jasper County, Iowa; married _____ Dillon, who was dead by 1885; n. f. i.
+ 233. Reuben Sanford Huff, 9 March 1829–1898.

85. William[4] Huff (John[3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born 7 September 1784, in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, the twin of (84) John. Some time before 1806, in Ferrisburgh, Addison County, Vermont, he married Anna (Bartlett) Rogers, a Quaker, widow of Agustus Rogers; she had three children by her first husband. In 1803, under the sponsorship of his uncle by marriage, Timothy Rogers, William was given a grant of land in East Gwillimbury Township, York County, Ontario, which he promptly sold. In 1806, Anna and her three children received clearance from Ferrisburgh Monthly Meeting to Pelham Monthly Meeting; this was in Ontario, and its jurisdiction included York County. The family may have lived in Toronto for a period; a William Huff founded the Wayside Inn on the Toronto waterfront. In 1834 he leased land in East Gwillimbury, in the community of Sharon. The course of the remainder of his life is not known. He and Anna died at unknown dates, and are buried in unmarked graves in a Quaker burying ground near Bond Head, Simcoe County, Ontario.

William and Anna had three children, all born in East Gwillimbury:

+ 234. John Huff, ca 1807–30 March 1882.
+ 235. Henry Huff, ca 1809–before 1891.
+ 236. Alvah Huff, ca 1817–16 December 1895.

86. Timothy[4] Huff (John[3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born presumably in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, on 13 December 1786. He moved with the family to Ferrisburgh, Addison County, Vermont, where he was one of the four children of the family accepted into the Society of Friends in 1796. On 28 February 1811 he received clearance to transfer to Pelham Black Creek Monthly Meeting, which was headquartered in Ontario but which had authority over the area near Buffalo, Erie County, New York, known as the Holland Purchase, to which Timothy was moving. He settled near what is now the town of Hamburgh, Erie County, New York.

A biographical sketch of his son Sanford states that Timothy was six feet one inch tall, with dark eyes and black hair; that he was "renowned for his integrity of character," and "often called upon to perform important public duties"; and that for many years he held a magistrate's commission. It also states that he became the custodian and librarian of the circulating library in the local school district when state law provided for the establishment of such operations. He was an industrious farmer; he was Town Justice in 1847–1848.

Early in 1813, he married Phebe Potter, born on 22 January 1790, daughter of Nathaniel and Ruth (Palmer) Potter; news of the marriage was carried in the Buffalo Gazette of 26 January 1813. Nathaniel was a Quaker, and Phebe may have been; if so, there was some aspect of the marriage that was not according to Quaker rule, and Timothy was disowned for marrying out of meeting. There is no indication that he ever made acknowledgment. He died on 12 September 1856; Phebe had predeceased him, on 19 October 1849.

Timothy and Phebe had five children:

+ 237. Levi Potter Huff, 6 October 1813–6 October 1885.
238. Alonzo Huff, 25 September 1816–?; married S. _____, born about 1815 in Washington County, New York; listed in 1855 state census in Hamburgh; n. f. i.
+ 239. Charlotte W. Huff, 15 December 1819–17 July 1893.
+ 240. Adelia Huff, 25 June 1822–?.
+ 241. Sanford William(s) Huff, 25 December 1826–7 November 1879.

87. Jacob[4] Huff (John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 15 December 1788, presumably in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, and went with the family to Vermont. He was received into the Society of Friends in 1796. In December 1806, he received clearance to Yonge Street Monthly Meeting, in Ontario north of Toronto; his transfer was received there in March 1807. In 1812, he was disowned for operating a still.

At an unknown date, but probably not long after 1812, he married Phebe Wilde or Wiley, daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth Wilde and sister-in-law of his brother (84) John. In 1820 he was living in the town of Eden, Niagara (now Erie) County, New York, not far from Hamburgh, with his wife and four daughters under 10 years old. His fifth daughter had been born by 1830. In 1832, he was living in Collins, Erie County. In 1835, he sold his property in Collins, and evidently moved to Cattaraugus County, New York, as he was described as living there when he sold his rights in the estate of his father-in-law; as of 27 April 1835, Phebe was deceased. It is not known when Jacob died.

Jacob and Phebe had five children (order unknown, except that Harriet was last):

242. Paulina Huff, before 1820–after 1843; married John H. Knowlton; n. f. i.
243. Pamelia Huff, before 1820–after 1843; married John Van Ness; n. f. i.
244. Eliza Huff, before 1820–before 1843; married _____ Buck; no issue.
245. Sarah Mariah Huff, before 1820–before 1843, unmarried.
246. Harriet Huff, after 1822 (minor at the time of her grandmother's death)–after 1843; n. f. i.

88. David Cullen[4] Huff (John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born about 17 March 1792 in Ferrisburgh, Addison County, Vermont. He may be the David Hough who married, on 31 October 1817 in Monk-ton, Addison County, Vermont, Laura Barnum. If so, Laura apparently died not long afterward. David seems to have moved to Rutland, Rutland County, Vermont, where he married Lucretia Ruggles, born on 2 August 1799, daughter of Thomas and Alitheah (Smith) Ruggles. In the 1830 census, David was recorded in the town of Jay, Essex County, New York. By 1838 he had moved to Hamburgh, Erie County, New York, and was an elder in the First Presbyterian church of Orchard Park, which at the time was a part of Hamburgh. Also, he had become a doctor.

He and Lucretia continued to live in Hamburgh until their deaths. David died on 29 September 1857, and Lucretia on 25 May 1875; they are buried in Hillcrest Cemetery, Armor, Erie County, New York.

They had only one child:

247. Esther Elizabeth or Elizabeth Esther Huff, ca 1830 (Vermont)–after 1875; characterized as imbecile in probate record of Lucretia's estate.

Chapter 34. The Fifth Generation

212. James[5] Huff (Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 18 June 1814 in East Gwillimbury, Ontario. He was a tinsmith. On 12 November 1839, in St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, he married Mary Anne Waldron, born about 1824 in England. He settled in Collingwood, Simcoe County, Ontario, and appears there in the 1861 and 1871 censuses. He evidently died between 1871 and 1881, as Mary's household as listed in the 1881 census included only herself and daughters Sarah and Elizabeth.

There were six children:

577. J.(?) M.(?) Huff (male), ca 1843–?; possibly the Thomas W. Huff who married, on 1 January 1869 in Thornbury, Grey County, Ontario, Maria Burns, born about 1847, daughter of Patrick and Ann Burns; n. f. i., except that a Thomas W. Huff is listed in Lovell's 1871 directory in Collingwood, described as a painter.

578. C. J. Huff (female), ca 1845–?; n. f. i.

579. Ellenor M. Huff, ca 1850–?; married on 16 October 1865, presumably in Collingwood, John W. Brooks, born about 1836 in Ireland, son of George and Jane Brooks; n. f. i.

+ 580. James Huff, ca 1851–?.

581. Sarah Ann Huff, ca 1853–?; n. f. i.

582. Elizabeth Huff, ca 1857–?; n. f. i.

213. John A.[5] Huff (Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 14 November 1816 in East Gwillimbury, Ontario. He was a carpenter. On 3 July 1841, in Royalton, Niagara County, New York, he married Abigail B. Cutler. By January 1852, they had moved to Parma, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, where their fifth child was born; in August 1853, when the next child was born, they were in Brooklyn, Cuyahoga County, Ohio. By 1859, the family had moved to Armada, Macomb County, Michigan, where they remained until after John's death.

In the late summer of 1861, John qualified for enlistment in Company B, 2nd Regiment, U. S. Sharpshooters. The company was mustered into service on 4 October 1861, and was sent to Washington and from there into Virginia, where it served in the Army of the Potomac under McClellan. John probably spent little time in active service, however, as he was almost continuously in hospital from August 1862 until 17 January 1863, at which time he was given a medical discharge and returned to Armada.

Evidently he recovered, as on 27 January 1864 he enlisted again, this time in Company E, 5th Michigan Volunteer Cavalry, which formed part of Custer's Michigan Cavalry Brigade; and on 10 February he reported to the regiment at Stevensburg, Virginia. In March 1864, all cavalry operations were placed under the command of Major General Philip Sheridan, who in May initiated a march toward Richmond. Confederate General J. E. B. Stuart immediately began to parallel their route, hoping either to gain a strong position ahead of Sheridan or to strike their flank. On 11 May, at Yellow Tavern, Hanover County, Virginia, he struck. The 5th and 6th Michigan attempted to pierce the Confederate line, but met a withering blast of fire which forced many of them to dismount and seek cover. Meanwhile Stuart himself had moved to the most advanced point of the Confederate line, and sat on a fence only a few yards from where John Huff had taken refuge. As John ran, he saw Stuart sitting there and, on the run, shot and mortally wounded him.[b]

John himself was wounded on the last day of the same month, struck in the head by a rifle ball. After a spell in Campbell Hospital in Washington, he was sent home, supposedly to recuperate. But the wound grew worse, and he developed pneumonia, and died on 23 June 1864. Except for a period when she lived in Ludington, Mason County, Michigan, Abigail continued to live in Armada until her death on 25 March 1902.

John and Abigail had seven children:

+ 583. Henry Clinton Huff or Hough, 1 July 1842–19 March 1915.
584. Susan Huff, ca 1845–?; n. f. i.
585. Mary Huff, ca 1848–?; n. f. i.
586. Elizabeth Ann Huff, 20 August 1849 (New York)–?; n. f. i.
587. Sarah A. Huff, 29 January 1852 (Parma, Ohio)–?; n. f. i.
588. Frances A. Huff, 26 August 1853 (Brooklyn, Ohio)–?; n. f. i.
589. Edward Sanford Huff, 24 May 1859 (Armada, Michigan)–?; n. f. i.

214. Peter V.[5] Huff (Obadiah[4], John[3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 13 February 1818 in East Gwillimbury, Ontario. He became a cooper by trade. On 14 January 1846, presumably in East Gwillimbury, he married Mary Gilroy, born about 1826. In 1851, the family was listed in the census in Scott township, Ontario County; in 1861, in Holland Landing, East Gwillimbury Township, York County.

Nine children are known:

+ 590. William John Huff, ca 1846–?.
591. Mary Ann Huff, ca 1848–?; married Jacob Schell; n. f. i.
592. George Huff, ca 1850–apparently before 1861; n. f. i.
593. Elizabeth Huff, ca 1855–?; married James Johnson; n. f. i.
+ 594. Edward Wright Huff, ca 1858–22 April 1915.
+ 595. Robert Huff, ca 1862–ca 1949.
+ 596. Sarah Ellen Huff, 22 May 1868–12 July 1949.
+ 597. James Nelson Huff, November 1870–?.
598. Nelley Huff, ca 1873–?; n. f. i.

215. Henry M.[5] Huff (Obadiah[4], John[3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 21 October 1819. Circumstantial evidence identifies him with the Henry Huff who was living in Cobourg, Northumberland County, Ontario, in 1861. He was a member of St. Peter's Anglican Church in Cobourg, and the parish registers reveal that he had married, on 5 May 1846, Jane Swayne, born in about 1825 (baptized on 22 August 1825), the daughter of Joseph and Mary Swayne. Henry was a cabinet maker. He died in late October or on 1 November 1864, and was buried on 2 November of that year. Jane survived him, and moved to Brooklyn, Kings County, New York.

Henry and Jane had six children:

[b]It cannot be proved that the shot that killed Gen. Stuart was fired by John Huff. The assumption is generally accepted, however, by authorities who have studied the incident.

599. Mary Jane Huff, 4 September 1847–buried 21 April 1873; married on 24 August 1870 William Black; n. f. i.
600. George Henry Huff, 30 July 1850–?; married ca 1887 Susan _____, born in January 1863; living in Brooklyn, childless, as of the 1900 census; a compositor for a printer; n. f. i.
601. William James Huff, 16 December 1852–buried 17 May 1858.
602. Robert Francis Huff, 23 October 1855–?; married ca 1905 Alice L. _____, born ca 1865; a sheet metal salesman; living in Brooklyn, childless, as of the 1910 census; n. f. i.
603. John Bigger Huff, 16 May–25 September 1859.
604. Charles Arthur Huff, 12 September 1862–buried 5 August 1885 in Cobourg; an epileptic; died in Brooklyn, presumably unmarried.

216. David Cullen[5] Huff (Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 28 September 1821 in the community of Holland Landing, in York County, Ontario. By 1844 he had moved to Lockport, Niagara County, New York, and had married Hannah _____, born on 6 December 1823. They lived in Lockport until 1897, and then moved to Buffalo, Erie County, New York, where their son Charles was living. David was a machinist. He died on 2 November 1898, and Hannah on 31 December 1902; they are buried in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Buffalo.

According to the 1900 census, David and Hannah had four children. Only three are known, however:

+ 605. Charles D. Huff, ca November 1844–8 January 1898.
+ 606. Sanford E. Huff, 2 December 1854–20 November 1906.
+ 607. Elmer C. Huff, ca 1862–14 July 1903.

228. Jacob Wiley[5] Huff (John[4,3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 6 March 1813, presumably in Ferrisburgh, Addison County, Vermont. He probably moved to New York in his teens, and lived in Essex County. Probably about 1835, he married Emily Merrifield, daughter of Samuel and Hannah (Barton) Merrifield of the town of Lewis, Essex County, born about 1820. They soon moved to Franklin Falls, Franklin County, New York, where they lived until some time between about 1845 and 1850. In March 1837, Jacob was voted Constable of the Town of Franklin, but he did not accept. In March 1839, he was voted Commissioner of Common Schools, and Pathmaster of District No. 6.

Emily died some time before 1850. The children were evidently placed with various relatives, and Jacob moved to Massachusetts. There were four children:

+ 608. Henry Herbert Hough, 10 September 1836–5 April 1920.
609. Elizabeth Hough, ca 1839–?; n. f. i.
+ 610. Mary S. Hough, ca 1841–?.
611. William Davis Huff, ca 1843–1864. As of the 1850 and 1860 censuses, he was living with a great-uncle and -aunt, Samuel and Sophronia (Merrifield) Burpee, presumably sent there on the death of his mother. He served in the Union forces in the Civil War, and died in service of wounds received at the Battle of Drury's Bluff.

In Massachusetts, Jacob married Ellen Wallen, born on 8 November 1833 in England, the daughter of John and Ellen (Mepham) Wallen. By 1850, they were living in the town of Ontario, Wayne County, New York. They appear to have spent some time in Michigan, as their first child was born there. But they returned to the town of Ontario, and lived the rest of their lives there. Jacob had originally been a farmer, but he later became a collier, and at one time was a coal dealer. He died on 28 June 1886. Ellen lived for a few years in Rochester, Monroe County, New York, but returned to Ontario, where she died on 23 July 1908.

Jacob had six children by Ellen:

+ 612. George Huff, 29 August 1853–2 April 1934.
613. Emma Huff, ca 1859–?; n. f. i.
614. Ida Huff, ca 1862–?; n. f. i.
615. Madora Huff, ca 1864–?; n. f. i.
616. John W. Huff, ca 1866–?; n. f. i.
617. Isabella Huff, ca 1869–?; n. f. i.

230. William Davis[5] Huff (John[4,3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 14 November 1819 in Ferrisburgh, Addison County, Vermont. The following account of his life is taken from an anonymous History of Franklin, Jefferson, Washington, Crawford, and Gasconade Counties, Missouri, published in 1888 by Goodspeed:

> William D. Huff was born in Vermont, near Burlington, in 1819, and when about ten years of age was taken to Essex County, N.Y., where he grew up and received a common-school education. Upon reaching manhood he began working as a collier in New York, and soon rose to the position of superintendent, and for several years followed this calling. In 1846 he married Sophronia Merrifield, a native of New York, and in 1857 they came to Missouri, and settled at Iron Mountain. For over twenty-three years he was superintendent of the coaling department for that [sic] company. When the furnace abandoned the use of charcoal Mr. Huff moved to the farm where he now lives near Irondale, which consists of 220 acres. In 1886 his wife died at the age of fifty-nine. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, Mr. Huff being also a member of the same. He is a Democrat in politics, and in 1857–58 represented St. Francois County in the State Legislature. He is also a member of the Masonic Fraternity.

William Davis[5] Huff.

This material is true, as far as it goes, with one exception. That is the matter of William's schooling; he himself stated, in a letter to a grandchild, that he probably had "no more than about six months all together." It also fails to mention that Sophronia was the daughter of Samuel and Hannah (Barton) Merrifield, and thus sister to the wife of William's brother Jacob. In addition, the exact date of her death is known: 16 March 1886.

Moreover, the account passes lightly over the interval between William's marriage and his migration to Missouri. He is known to have lived in Port Henry, Essex County, New York, as there exists a letter from Sophronia to a sister (not Emily) datelined from there in 1848. In 1850, the family is recorded in the census in Lee, Berkshire County, Massachusetts; two of the children were born during the sojourn there. The account also fails to mention that Sophronia was a charter member of the Methodist Church of Irondale, Missouri.

William himself died in 1895. He and Sophronia were buried on their farm near Irondale. They had five children:

+ 618. Emily Abigail Huff, 30 July 1848– 1900.
619. Frances Sophronia ("Fanny") Huff, 1851–?; married Jesse McFarland of Irondale; children Percival, Jesse, Jr., Nellie, Emily, and Ada.
+ 620. Merrifield William Huff, 5 March 1853–10 August 1906.
621. Katie (Katherine?) Huff, ca 1855 (?)–?; died young, reputedly from eating green apples.
622. Ada Huff, ca 1860–?; married Marion Bigley, and lived in Joplin, Jasper County, Missouri; children Marion, Jr., Ada, and Arthur, none of whom had issue.

231. Joseph Laurence[5] Huff or Hough (John[4.3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 19 March 1823, probably in Ferrisburgh, Addison County, Vermont. He was presumably taken to New York in about 1829. In 1850 he was living with his father and mother in Franklin Falls, Franklin County, New York. Probably in about 1851, he married Candace Ling, born in about 1830. They settled in Union Falls, Clinton County, New York. It is said that his daughter Sarah thought that the spelling Huff was "too plebeian," and persuaded her father to change to Hough. Candace seems to have died about 1896; Joseph died on 23 September 1900.

Joseph and Candace had three children:

+ 623. John Bertice Hough, 13 December 1852–12 October 1928.
+ 624. Sarah E. Hough, ca 1854–27 January 1929.
625. Elizabeth Hough, ca 1863–?; n. f. i.

233. Reuben Sanford[5] Huff (John[4.3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 9 March 1829. The place of his birth is uncertain. In later census records, he gives it as Vermont. But a history of Franklin County, New York, notes that Sanford Huff was the first white child born in the town of Franklin. In 1850, he was still living with his father in Franklin Falls. By 1863 he had moved to Wisconsin where he married Margaret Johnson, born in that state in about 1841. He enlisted in the 48th Wisconsin Infantry on 15 February 1865, but was discharged for disability on 16 May of the same year; at the time of his enlistment he was living in Merton, Waukesha County. He and Margaret were living in the city of Waukesha as of the census of 1870. By 1880 they had moved to Jasper County, Iowa, where they lived in Hickory Grove township, in the post office area of Gilman. Reuben died in 1898; his will was dated 12 March and probated on 15 April. Margaret seems to have maintained her home for a time; but after her daughter Florence married, in about 1908, Margaret lived with her. She continued to live with her son-in-law after Florence died; she herself died in 1917. Reuben and Margaret are buried in Prairie View Cemetery, Gilman.

Reuben and Margaret had four children:

+ 626. William Henry Huff, ca 1863–?.

627. Albert Louis Huff, 20 June 1865 (Waukesha, Wisconsin)–20 January 1931; a druggist; lived from at least 1910 in Omaha, Douglas County, Nebraska, where he became manager of a drug store and then owner of his own; married, apparently shortly before his death, Carrie _____, who survived him.

+ 628. Cora M. Huff, ca 1871–?.

629. Florence Viola Huff, ca 1888–1911; married ca 1908 William Wiseman; no issue.

234. John[5] Huff (William[4], John[3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1807 in Sharon, York County, Ontario. On 8 December 1836, in West Gwillimbury, Simcoe County, Ontario, he married Ann Howe, born about 1821, daughter of Daniel Howe of West Gwillimbury. They settled in West Gwillimbury and raised their family there; they are listed there in the Canadian censuses of 1861, 1871, and 1881. John was a farmer. He died on 30 March 1882; when Ann died is not known.

The record of John's family is quite confused. The 1861 census, in particular, gives ages for the children that are impossible to reconcile with other data. For example, Johannah is listed as one year old; but she is known to have married in 1867. The number and names of the children are known. The birthdates of Jacob Bartlett Huff, Daniel Howe Huff, Jeremiah Bartlett Huff, and Mary Caroline Huff are known; the rest are best guesses in the light of all known data:

+ 630. Jacob Bartlett Huff, 2 June 1839–16 November 1911.

631. Johannah Huff, ca 1841–?; married 10 October 1867 Daniel Bridges; n. f. i.

+ 632. Daniel Howe Huff, 15 January 1843–27 September 1897.

+ 633. John Wesley Huff, ca 1847–?.

634. Anne Huff, ca 1850–?; n. f. i.

+ 635. Jeremiah Bartlett Huff, 1 November 1854–1930.

+ 636. Mary Caroline Huff, 26 November 1858–22 November 1944.

637. William Huff, ca 1863–?; described as "a weakling from birth"; suffered from a heart ailment, possibly congenital; worked as a hostler; after death of brother Daniel, lived with brother Jeremiah; died unmarried.

638. George Huff, ca 1870–?; n. f. i.

235. Henry[5] Huff (William[4], John[3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1809 in Sharon, Ontario. On 20 October 1851, in East Gwillimbury, York County, he married Ellen Dickenson, born about 1829. They settled in West Gwillimbury, and lived the rest of their lives there. They are buried in the cemetery of Ebenezer United Church, as are all three of their children; unfortunately, the records of that church are said to be in private but unknown hands, so that even the dates of death, which are not shown on the gravestones, are not determinable.

They had three children:

639. Alvah Huff, 19 November 1852–?; n. f. i.

640. Robert J. Huff, 3 August 1855–?; n. f. i.

641. Bartlett Huff, 12 July 1857–?; n. f. i.

236. Alvah[5] Huff (William[4], John[3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1817 in Sharon, Ontario. He was a farmer. On 12 January 1852, in West Gwillimbury, Simcoe County, Ontario, he married Jane Hughes, born in about 1837, the daughter of James and Mary Ann (Shannon) Hughes, and settled in West Gwillimbury, not far from his brother (234) John. They had five children:

+ 642. Samuel Huff, 10 January 1853–9 March 1928.
+ 643. John Huff, ca November 1855–23 May 1912.
+ 644. Ellen Huff, 8 December 1858–25 March 1936.
+ 645. Thomas Hughes Huff, ca 1863–?.
646. Anne Huff, ca 1869–; married Herbert Graham; n. f. i.

237. Levi Potter[5] Huff (Timothy[4], John[3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 6 October 1813 in Hamburgh, New York. On 13 April 1854, he married Frances W. Abbott, born on 27 February 1825 in New York, the daughter of Chauncey and Harriet (Barnard) Abbott. Levi was a carpenter. He and Frances lived in Hamburgh at least between 1856 and 1860; from 1867 to 1876, they lived in Corry, Erie County, Pennsylvania; and from about 1878 on, they lived in Buffalo, Erie County, New York. Frances died on 4 November 1884, and is buried in Prospect Lawn Cemetery, Hamburgh. Levi died on 6 October 1885 in Springview, Keya Paha County, Nebraska, while visiting his son Alonzo.

Levi and Frances had four children:

647. Dwight A. Huff, 28 April 1856–19 September 1882, unmarried; buried in Prospect Lawn Cemetery, Hamburgh, New York; n. f. i.
648. Alonzo T. Huff, 12 December 1857–?; living in Talmage, Otoe County, Nebraska, in 1884; in Springview, Keya Paha County, Nebraska, in 1885; and in Norfolk, Madison County, Nebraska, in 1899; married on 4 July 1884, in Talmage, Eva I. Richardson; n. f. i.
649. Joseph Edgar Huff, 23 January 1860–28 October 1884, unmarried; a laborer and sawyer; n. f. i.
650. Harriet P. Huff, 27 September 1862–5 September 1866.

239. Charlotte W.[5] Huff (Timothy[4], John[3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 15 December 1819 in Hamburgh, Erie County, New York. On 21 April 1839, she married Royal V. Gould, born on 27 April 1809 in Vermont, the son of Asa and Anna Gould. Royal was a farmer. The family lived all their lives in Hamburgh. Royal died on 31 July 1888 in Hamburgh, and Charlotte on 17 July 1883 in Buffalo. Both are buried in Hillcrest Cemetery, Hamburgh.

They had eight children:

651. A child, name and sex unknown, ca 1840–before 1850; buried with parents.
652. Ruby M. Gould, ca 1844–between 1850 and 1860.
+ 653. Phebe Maria Gould, ca 1844–1909.
+ 654. Royal A. Gould, 19 January 1846–22 August 1909.
655. Russell Gould, ca 1846–before 1860; possibly twin of Royal A. Gould; n. f. i.
656. Sarah L. Gould, ca 1848–?; married _____ Saunders; n. f. i.
657. Alonzo H. Gould, ca 1851–before 1893; not mentioned in father's estate; presumably no issue; n. f. i.
658. Charlotte Gould, ca 1856–before 1893; not mentioned in father's estate; presumably no issue; n. f. i.

240. Adelia M.[5] Huff (Timothy[4], John[3.2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 25 June 1822 in Hamburgh, Erie County, New York. On 1 November 1853 she married John Scott, Jr., born in about 1826 in Vermont, the son of John Scott. John was a merchant; he was a business partner of Levi Potter, a brother of Adelia's mother, until about 1870. Then the family moved to Indianapolis, Marion County, Indiana, where his father lived.

There were at least four children:

659. Charles Scott, ca 1855–?; n. f. i.
660. Harriet Scott, ca 1857–?; n. f. i.
661. John P. Scott, ca 1858–?; n. f. i.
662. _____ Scott (female), ca February 1860–? (apparently in infancy).

241. Sanford Williams[5] Huff (Timothy[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 25 December 1826 in Hamburgh, Erie County, New York. The following account of his life is adapted from The United States Biographical Dictionary, pages 474–477.

Sanford spent much of his time during childhood in the library of which his father was librarian, and appears to have benefitted from this self-education. The family was not financially able to provide for a college education, but he managed to earn a medical degree from the University of Buffalo in 1851. He became the partner of a renowned physician in Buffalo, but his health obliged him to move out of the city, and he settled in North Evans, in Erie County. In 1857 he moved to Iowa City, Johnson County, Iowa. There, in addition to his medical practice, he engaged in financial speculation, without notable success, and in about 1859 he ceased such outside activities. In 1862 he accepted the surgeoncy of the 12th Iowa Infantry. He eventually became surgeon-in-chief of the division, and later of the Department of Alabama. Shortly after the surrender of the Confederacy, he was ordered to take possession of the Confederate general hospitals in the vicinity and convert such of their stores as were available to the use of the Union troops. Immediately afterward, he was put in charge of the central supply depot for the Department. He was mustered out in the winter of 1865–1866, and returned to Iowa City to rebuild his practice.

Soon after his return, he was elected secretary of the State Historical Society and editor of its Annals. Under his ministrations the journal grew to be a respectable quarterly. He also persuaded the state legislature to fund the printing and preserving of the records and accumulations of the Society. He held these offices for three years. Soon afterward, he became involved in the founding of a newspaper, the Iowa Tribune, and later became managing editor, but had to relinquish this activity in favor of his medical practice.

During his residence in Iowa City, he was for several years president of the county medical association. He was also active in the state medical association, and in 1877 served as a delegate to the annual meeting of the National Medical Association.

In 1872 he moved to Sigourney, Keokuk County, Iowa, where he lived the rest of his life. There he became involved in politics, supporting the greenback movement; he wrote a series of articles, published in the Sigourney News, which attracted much attention, and was nominated by the party for the office of state senator. He died in Sigourney on 9 November 1879. He is described as "a man of fine physical proportions," six feet tall and weighing over 200 pounds, with dark hair and fair skin.

In 1853, in New York, he had married Harriet E. Borland, born in about 1835. She died in 1863, after having borne one child:

663. Alice Adelia Huff, 18 April 1854–?; attended State University of Iowa, and studied music "at an eastern institution"; married on 22 October 1879 Harry G. Sheldon; n. f. i.

In 1870, Sanford married Laura S. Nickerson, born in Ticonderoga, Essex County, New York; her dates are unknown, except that she was living as of the 1900 census, at which time she was enumerated in Concord, Merrimack County, New Hampshire. Sanford had three children by her:

664. Wirt Sanford Huff, 3 October 1871–26 July 1873; killed "at his father's gate" by a runaway team.
665. Laura Charlotte Huff, 16 September 1875–?; as of 1900, resident in a mental institution in Concord, Merrimack County, New Hampshire.
666. Frances Howe Huff, 18 April 1878–19 February 1878, of diphtheria.

Chapter 35. The Sixth Generation

580. James[6] Huff (James[5], Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1851 in Collingwood, Simcoe County, Ontario. He married Theressa _____, born about 1860. The family appears in the 1881 census in Collingwood; James is described as a painter. Nothing further is known of them, except that there was one child as of the time of the census:

1304. James Henry Huff, 1881–?; n. f. i.

583. Henry Clinton[6] Huff (John A.[5], Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 1 July 1842 in Niagara County, New York. He presumably moved with his family, ending up in Armada, Macomb County, Michigan, in 1859. On 15 June 1861, he enlisted in the army, and served (off and on! He was listed as a deserter twice, from two different companies) until 8 November 1865. For the next two years he wandered around the country, visiting Texas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Ohio; he reported in a pension application that during that time he had no fixed address except for a period of two months in 1866 when he worked for a cotton press company in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee. Then for a few months he returned to Armada (then known as Buck's Corners), and then moved to Ludington, Mason County, Michigan, where he lived for nine years. He then went to Chester, Randolph County, Illinois, for eight months, and to Hickman, Fulton County, Kentucky, for a little over two years; he finally settled in Oquawka, Henderson County, Illinois. He gave his occupation as day laborer.

He was married twice. Nothing is known of the first marriage—date, place, nor wife's name, nor how it ended. The second marriage was to Trancalina Goff, in Oquawka, on 23 April 1882. He died on 19 March in either 1912 or 1915; the year is in dispute between two of his children. Trancalina had died on 27 January 1911, of tuberculosis.

There were three children, all by Trancalina:

+ 1305. Sarah Abigail Huff, 16 September 1885–29 September 1961.
1306. James Walter Huff, 4 April 1887–13 September 1888.
+ 1307. Perry Franklin Huff, 18 August 1890–2 March 1933.

590. William John[6] Huff (Peter V.[5], Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1846, presumably in Holland Landing, York County, Ontario. In the census of 1871, he is listed in the township of East Gwillimbury, York County, and described as a cooper; in that of 1881, he was in West Gwillimbury, Simcoe County, and described as a mason. By 1891, he had moved to Toronto, where he is listed as living in St. Lawrence Ward (the city directory gives his address as 221 Logan), and his occupation was plasterer. One of his grandsons recalls him as a carpenter and handyman for a factory. He died about 1944.

L to R: Sarah Abigail[7], Trancalina (Goff), Henry Clinton[6], and Perry Franklin[7] Huff.

At an unknown date he married Mary Ann _____,[c] born about 1855. Nothing further is known of her. The couple had three children:

+ 1308. Clotilda A. Huff, ca 1872–?.
+ 1309. Lewis Ellsworth Huff, ca 1878–?.
1310. Alice Huff, ?–?; married, but nothing known of the husband; daughter Otha married _____ Vandewater; n. f. i.

594. Edward Wright[6] Huff (Peter V.[5], Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1858, presumably in Holland Landing, York County, Ontario. At an unknown date he married Margaret May McColl, dates and origins unknown. He eventually moved to Gooderham, Haliburton County, Ontario, where he died on 22 April 1915. He was survived by his wife and three children:

+ 1311. William Herbert Huff, 28 October 1905–28 August 1971.
+ 1312. Mary Helena Huff, 30 August 1907–.
+ 1313. James Wesley Newton Huff, 3 September 1911–.

595. Robert[6] Huff (Peter V.[5], Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1862, probably in Holland Landing, York County, Ontario. He worked most of his life as a lumber camp cook in the neighborhood of Lake Baptiste, Hastings County, Ontario. For his last few years he worked as a bartender in Toronto, York County, Ontario. He married Florence Adams, whose birthdate and origins are unknown, and had five children. Florence died on 21 October 1917 in Gooderham, Haliburton County, Ontario. Robert is said to have had a second wife, an Indian woman, but this is not corroborated. He died in about 1949, reportedly in Bancroft, Hastings County, Ontario.

The five children:

+ 1314. Meta Huff, 10 June 1901–7 April 1940.
1315. Rhoda Huff, ?–?; married David Covert; child Lewis and another that died in infancy; n. f. i.
1316. Delilah Huff, ?–? (Watertown, New York); married Herbert Holman; n. f. i.
1317. Laura Huff, ?–?; married George Dean; child Lorraine, living in Oshawa, Ontario, as of 1990; n. f. i.
+ 1318. Robert Earl Huff, 18 October 1912–.

596. Sarah Ellen[6] Huff (Peter V.[5], Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 22 May 1868, in Holland Landing, York County, Ontario. On 7 March 1883, in Victoria County, Ontario, she married John Ward, born on 4 March 1858 in Cartwright, Durham County, Ontario. At various times they lived in Laxton township, Cambray (Fenelon township), and Lorneville (Eldon township), Victoria County, in Bellhaven (not otherwise located), Ontario, and in Markham township, York County, Ontario. John died on 22 May 1936, and Sarah on 12 July 1949.

They had twelve children:

+ 1319. Mary Lillian Ward, 27 July 1884 (Laxton township)–3 January 1952.
1320. Alfred Nelson Ward, 19 January 1886 (Cambray)–21 March 1980, unmarried; n. f. i.

597. James Nelson[6] Huff (Peter V.[5], Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born in November 1870, in East Gwillimbury, York County, Ontario. Nothing is known of him until 1928, at which time he was living in Tonawanda, Erie County, New York. He had married Anna Culley, born in 1871 in Lindsay, Victoria County, Ontario. He was a carpenter and handyman; in 1935 he had become a coal dealer. In 1950 they moved to Gowanda, Cattaraugus County, New York, where Anna died on 12 October 1950; she was buried in Elmlawn Cemetery, Tonawanda. James survived her. The date of his death is not known.

They had only one child:

1331. Pearl Huff, ?–; married James Scott; n. f. i.

605. Charles D.[6] Huff (David Cullen[5], Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1844 in Lockport, Niagara County, New York. He worked as a currier and tanner. He married Eleanor Simpson, born in about 1847, the daughter of Joseph T. and Margaret Simpson. At some time during the period 1880–1898, the family moved to Buffalo, Erie County, New York; Charles does not appear in Lockport city directories after 1867, but he does not appear in Buffalo directories at all. On the other hand, one son was in Buffalo by 1885. In any case, Charles died in Buffalo on 8 January 1898. Eleanor survived until 7 February 1926.

There were three children:

+ 1332. David C. Huff, May 1871–6 February 1943.
+ 1333. Charles D. Huff, ca 1874–?.

+ 1334. Stanley Stanton Huff, ca October 1883–?.

606. Sanford E.[6] Huff (David Cullen[5], Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 2 December 1854 in Lockport, Niagara County, New York. He worked as a millwright and brass finisher. Probably about 1880, he married Catherine Fox, who had been a servant in his parents' household. She was born in Ireland in about November 1847, the daughter of W. J. and Ann (Tieg) Fox. Presumably as a consequence of this attachment to Catherine, Sanford became a Roman Catholic.

In 1892 the family moved from Lockport to Buffalo, Erie County, New York, where they lived for the rest of their lives. Sanford died on 20 November 1906, and Catherine on 29 November 1911.

They had two children:

+ 1335. Hazel M. Huff, November 1885–?.
+ 1336. Eugene E. Huff, 15 February 1891–16 August 1984.

607. Elmer C.[6] Huff (David Cullen[5], Obadiah[4], John[3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born in 1862 in Lockport, Niagara County, New York. He moved to Buffalo, Erie County, New York, by 1880, where he originally worked as a laborer. He worked for the predecessor of the Erie Railroad, and by 1883 was a tallyman, later a clerk, then a car reporter, and eventually a foreman.

Probably in about 1885, he married, but nothing is known of his wife; she died before 1900, according to the 1900 census. He died on 14 July 1903.

He had two children:

1337. Inez Huff, ca October 1886–?; described as "forewoman" in the 1906 Buffalo city directory; n. f. i.
1338. Edna B. Huff, ca January 1889–?; n. f. i.

608. Henry Herbert[6] Huff or Hough (Jacob Wiley[5], John[4,3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 10 September 1836 in Franklin Falls, Franklin County, New York. Fairly early in life, he moved to the neighborhood of Burlington, Chittenden County, Vermont. It appears to have been the public officials there that imposed the change of spelling of his name from Huff to Hough; he himself continued to use the spelling Huff.

At least one early occupation was that of Inspector of Customs. On 11 September 1861, he enlisted in Co. F, 1st Regiment, U. S. Sharpshooters. He was discharged on 20 November 1862. On 23 August 1868, he married Aberdine Harrington or Herrington, born on 24 August 1846 in New Haven, Addison County, Vermont, the daughter of William Hiram and Eliza S. (Rowley) Harrington. He later became a laborer in a soap factory, then a mechanic; there is some suggestion that he eventually reached the executive level in the soap manufacturing business. He lived most of his Vermont life in South Burlington. He died on 5 April 1920, and Abbie died on 4 February 1930.

They had four children:

1339. Reba Hough, November 1868–18 April 1871, of inflammation of the brain.
1340. Walter Herbert Hough, 28 May 1870–14 December 1950. Little is known of Walter's life. By 1900 he had moved to Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, and, according to the 1900 census, had married twice. Nothing is known of his first marriage; his second wife's given names were Una Ida, and she was known as Ida. She had been married before, to John Simpson, and had two children. Walter apparently had no children of his own. His career appears, from city directory entries, to have consisted of a variety of clerical jobs, including with the Probate Court and with the County Recorder; his death record describes him as a shipping clerk in the jewelry business. He died in a charity hospital in Chicago, and is buried in Mt. Hope Cemetery, Blue Island, Illinois.

1341. Emma or Emily May Hough, 23 April 1872–18 January 1954, unmarried. Her death record describes her as a nurse. As of 1936, she and her sister Henrietta ran a guest house in South Burlington.

1342. Henrietta Hough, 28 May 1879–18 January 1954, unmarried; ran a guest house in South Burlington.

610. Mary S.[6] Hough (Jacob Wiley[5], John[4,3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1841, presumably in Franklin Falls, Franklin County, New York. Probably on the death of her mother, she was sent to live with her maternal grandparents, Samuel and Hannah (Barton) Merrifield, in Lewis, Essex County, New York. However, as of 1860 she was living with her uncle, (230) William Davis Huff, in Missouri; presumably she had traveled west with him and his family, which included Hannah Merrifield. In Missouri, she entered into what proved to be a bigamous marriage with a man whose name is unknown, and had by him a son. She later returned to the east, possibly in company with her grandmother, and nothing more is known of her.

1343. Eugene Huff (?), ca 1865–?; n. f. i.

612. George[6] Huff (Jacob Wiley[5], John[4,3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 29 August 1853, reportedly in Wyandotte, Wayne County, Michigan, and returned with the family to the town of Ontario, Wayne County, New York. Probably in about 1875, he married Rosalind Grimes, born on 12 June 1854 in Walworth, Wayne County, New York, the daughter of John N. and Louisa (Graham) Grimes. He worked as a highway laborer. He died on 2 April 1934, and Rosalind died on 17 October the same year.

There are known to have been four children, but records are available for only three:

1344. Myrtie L. Huff, ca 1879–2 January 1896, of diphtheria; unmarried.

+ 1345. Irving E. Huff, August 1891–2 February 1953.

1346. A son, name and dates unknown except that he died shortly after birth, probably late in 1892.

1347. Elizabeth Huff, 17 April 1894–22 July 1906, of appendicitis, unmarried.

618. Emily Abigail[6] Huff (William Davis[5], John[4,3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 30 July 1848 in Port Henry, Essex County, New York. She moved to Massachusetts and to Missouri with the family. Probably in about 1868 or 1869, she married Frank Matkin, of Irondale, Washington County, Missouri. They lived the rest of their lives in Irondale, where Frank was a farmer. When Frank died is unknown; Emily died in 1900.

They had three children:

+ 1348. William Elisha Matkin, 14 March 1870–10 February 1939.

1349. Walter Matkin, ?–?; n. f. i.

1350. Sophronia Matkin, ?–?; n. f. i.

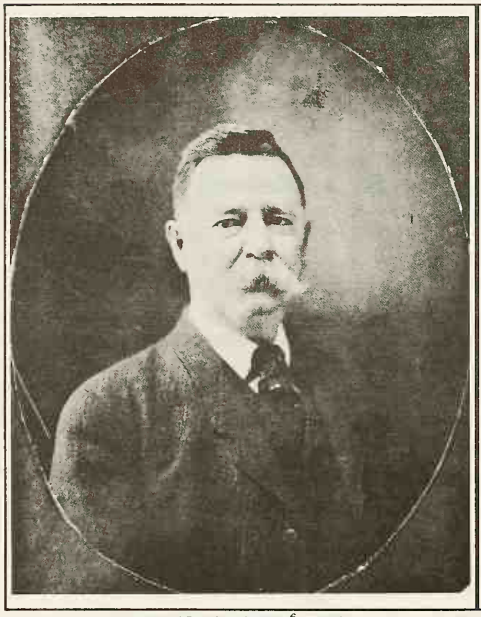
620. Merrifield William[6] Huff (William Davis[5], John[4,3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 5 March 1853 in Stockbridge, Berkshire County, Massachusetts, and was brought to Missouri with his family in 1857. He attended elementary school in Iron Mountain, St. Francois County, and then went to St. Louis to high school. He graduated from the School of Law of Washington University in St. Louis, and entered private practice. On 10 June 1883, he married Charlotte Maria Martling, born on 17 March 1857, daughter of James Abraham and Jane Amelia (Ells) Martling, of Webster Groves, St. Louis County, Missouri. Charlotte was a charter member of the First Congregational Church in St. Louis, and Merrifield joined that church, even though, according to his father, "We have always been Methodists." He eventually became superintendent of the Sunday School. All the children were born in St. Louis.

Merrifield's health was not good—it has been speculated that he had diabetes—and he decided to return to St. Francois County. He bought a home in Farmington, the county seat, which in the 1920's became known as "the House of Surprises." It was to remain in the family for over 80 years, and would be a focus for four generations of the family.

As was not uncommon at the time, the family was beset by various outbreaks of illness. Diphtheria took the life of one daughter in 1901, and most of the children contracted typhoid fever in 1904. Nevertheless, they were reasonably prosperous, and well known in the community.

Merrifield sufferred an apoplectic stroke at a church picnic and died on 10 August 1906. Charlotte, or "Lottie," as she was known, died in St. Louis on 23 March 1923.

There were nine children:



Merrifield William[6] Huff.

Charlotte Maria (Martling) Huff.

The "House of Surprises."

1351. Louise Howard Huff, 24 August 1884–28 February 1980. Louise attended Drury College, Springfield, Greene County, Missouri, graduating in 1906 "as of 1903," and became a teacher. She never married. She spent most of her career in the public school system of St. Louis, Missouri, where she taught mathematics; early in her career, she also taught Latin. She was quite sensitive to art, and prepared a booklet for her nieces and nephews entitled "Beautiful things and how to look at them." During several summers, she supervised a daily session in which her visiting nieces and nephews made various handcrafted objects. She was also a traveler; she made at least two trips to Europe, and, together with Lottie, she took several of their nieces and nephews on rather extensive trips in the United States.

Louise Howard[7] Huff.

In St. Louis, she lived with her sisters Lottie and Emily (the latter moving out, of course, after her marriage); they spent the summers, apart from traveling, in the House of Surprises. After Lottie retired, the two returned to the family home. Louise eventually became debilitated with age, and moved to a retirement home in Farmington, where she died. She was a lifelong member of the First Congregational Church in St. Louis.

+ 1352. Merrifield Martling Huff, 25 July 1886–September 1967.

1353. Margaret Weston Huff, 24 August 1887–8 July 1901, of diphtheria.

1354. Ruth Hereford Huff, 14 July 1889–November 1967. Ruth attended Southeast Missouri State Normal School, in Cape Girardeau, and taught for a time. She then became a worker in the Y.W.C.A. In January 1923 she married, as second wife, Donald Franklin Taylor, and raised his two children, twins, Donald Franklin, Jr., and Winifred; she had no children of her own. She was very skilled in the making of hooked rugs, and taught classes in the art. She lived most of her married life in Dallas, Dallas County, Texas, where she died.

1355. Lottie Marion Huff, 14 July 1891–14 July 1985. Lottie graduated from Drury College, Springfield, Greene County, Missouri, in 1913. She became a teacher of social studies, and spent most of her career in the St. Louis, Missouri, public school system. She never married. Her summers were spent at the House of Surprises, where she supervised the operation of about a third of an acre of garden, doing much of the work herself. She did quite a bit of traveling, usually in the company of her sister Louise. After her retirement, she and Louise returned to the House of Surprises to live; she stayed there until the summer of 1983, when infirmities forced her to give up the house. She then moved to a retirement home in Farmington, where she lived the rest of her life.

+ 1356. Dorothy George Huff, 5 June 1893–29 August 1989.

1357. Emily Alice Huff, 21 June 1895–16 March 1980. Emily graduated from Drury College, Springfield, Greene County, Missouri, where she became a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, an organization in which she maintained an active interest for the rest of her life. She became a teacher, and taught in the St. Louis, Missouri, public school system until, on 2 December 1933, she married, as second wife, William August Gantner. William was a widower with two children, Donald William and Marion. A few years after their marriage, the family moved to Wilkinsburg, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, where they lived until William's retirement from Union Switch and Signal Company. They then returned to Farmington, where they lived for the rest of their lives. William died in 1973.

+ 1358. William Davis Huff, 22 February 1897–27 March 1966.

+ 1359. Ells Lockwood Huff, 10 February 1899–16 July 1976.

623. John Bertice[6] Hough (Joseph Laurence[5], John[4,3,2], Engelbert[1]), known as Bert, was born on 13 December 1852 in Union Falls, Clinton County, New York. He became a collier, and worked for the iron companies in the area. On 20 December 1880, at the Church of St. Rose of Lima in Alder Brook, Clinton County, New York, he married Eliza McNally, born on 2 July 1856, daughter of John and Mary (McCormick) McNally. Bert became a convert to the Roman Catholic Church, and was baptized on 12 March 1882. He later operated boats at Ausable Chasm, Clinton County, New York; he retired from that, and built a home and a sawmill in Union Falls. He died in Dannemora, Clinton County, New York, on 12 October 1928. Eliza died on 22 December 1933 in Clintonville, Clinton County, New York. Both are buried in Immaculate Conception cemetery, Keeseville, Clinton County, New York.

They had six children, all born in Union Falls:

+ 1360. Charles Henry Hough, 11 November 1881–29 January 1969.
+ 1361. William Benjamin Hough, 3 January 1884–23 January 1971.
+ 1362. Francis Arthur Hough, 3 August 1886–18 January 1960.
1363. Alice Gertrude Hough, 29 October 1889–1 August 1970; married on 18 August 1917, at Ogdensburg, St. Lawrence County, New York, Eleazer Arnold, ?–30 April 1939; n. f. i.
+ 1364. Walter Joseph Hough, 21 July 1894–14 December 1970.
1365. Mary Margaret Hough, 22 June 1897–17 May 1928; married on 12 February 1928, at Alder Brook, Clinton County, New York, Terence J. Tinsdale, ?–20 February 1936; n. f. i.

624. Sarah E.[6] Hough (Joseph Laurence[5], John[4,3,2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1854 in Union Falls, Clinton County, New York. On 10 February 1876, she married Charles Henry Austin, born on 6 February 1844 in Burlington, Chittenden County, Vermont, the son of William and Elizabeth (Harrington) Austin. Charles, having worked as a farmer and a miner for several years, located in Lewis and Clark County, Montana, near Cascade. In 1882 the family moved to Chestnut Valley, Cascade County, Montana. In consequence of his changing assignments, the family lived in Buffalo, Erie County, New York; St. Louis, Missouri (where the children grew up); and Richmond (Henrico County), Smithfield (Isle of Wight County), and Suffolk, (Nansemond County), Virginia. In 1949 he retired from the Federal service and took a position with the State of Virginia in Bedford, Bedford County. In 1951 he moved to Florida and worked for that state's inspection service, first in Jacksonville (Duval County) and later in Palatka (Putnam County). In 1953 he retired, and he and Dorothy moved to Riverview, Hillsborough County, Florida. He died on 11 August 1955, in the course of a visit to his son George. Dorothy then joined her sisters Louise and Lottie in the family home in Farmington. In 1983 it became evident that she and Lottie (Louise had died in the meantime) could no longer keep up the house, and they moved to a retirement home in Farmington, where Dorothy was living at the time of her death, 29 August 1989.

Dorothy played the piano, not professionally but well. She also was very skilled in needle arts: knitting, crocheting, and tatting. She made a number of hooked rugs, and many items of clothing, especially for girls in the family. She was active in church work, both at Tyler Place Presbyterian Church in St. Louis and in the Farmington Presbyterian Church. She also raised five children, three of her own and two of Will's by his first wife, who had died shortly after the second was born.

He then became an independent insurance agent, and returned to Springfield, where he lived the rest of his life. He died on 27 March 1966.

A friend characterized him, after his death, as having lived life to the fullest. Eugene Snow Huff, ca 1909–; earned law degree from University of Michigan, and practiced law until 1941; appointed municipal judge and served until 1943, when he entered military service in the Judge Advocate General's department; saw service in Australia, New Guinea, the Phillipines, and the U. S.; elected as judge of Tenth Circuit Court of Michigan in 1947 and served until retirement at the end of 1981; living in Saginaw as of 1990; never married. Judge Huff was involved in a dispute with the Supreme Court of Michigan in 1958. In a move that the Saginaw News characterized later as "tainted by political maneuvering," he was ordered to move to the Wayne County circuit; he refused, on the grounds that he had been elected by the people of Saginaw County to serve them, and not Wayne County. He held out for a week, and was fined $250 for contempt; he then obeyed a second order, stating that his point had been made. A move was made to appeal the fine to the U. S. Supreme Court, but it never reached that level, and the fine was paid.

Part VII. The Gamaliel Huff Line

As is the case with John Huff, there is no record establishing that Gamaliel Huff is a grandson of Engelbert. However, here, again, there is circumstantial evidence. Gamaliel was born, according to his statement on enlistment in the Revolutionary forces, in 1758 in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York. There were at least three Huff families in the area at that time, but only two are known to have been having children in or around 1758; the third was headed by a woman, whose husband had died some years earlier. One of the other two is that of (5) Willem Huff; but he had a son David born in April 1758, and is extremely unlikely to have had another born the same year. The remaining one is that of (9) Johannis Huff. It is thus quite likely that Gamaliel was a son of Johannis. In addition, there is a tradition among the descendants of Gamaliel's oldest son, William, of an ancestor who lived to be well over 100 years old. While there are discrepant elements in the tradition, it most likely refers to Engelbert. These two items together seem to provide strong support for placing Gamaliel in the body of this work.

41. Gamaliel[3] Huff (John[2], Engelbert[1]) was born, as stated above, in Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York, in 1758. On 29 July 1776, he enlisted in Capt. Bernardus Swartout's company of militia. He was described as 5 feet 4¾ inches tall, with light complexion, dark brown hair, and grey eyes. There is no record to show how long he served.

On 21 October 1781, in Trinity Church, New York City, he married Jane Cutler, believed to be the daughter of Ebenezer and Sarah (Curry) Cutler. As of the 1790 census, they were living in Cortlandt township, Westchester County, New York. In 1800, in the same township, there is a listing for the household of Gamaliel. The data are difficult to harmonize with other knowledge. There are five children (four boys and one girl) under 16, including two boys and one girl between 10 and 16, and one man and one woman over 45—older than Gamaliel, if his birth year of 1858 is accepted as accurate. Given that Gamaliel was childless in 1790, it can scarcely be so that all of these children were his. This work will accept only those who are known from later records.

Gamaliel had one son by Jane Cutler:

+ 95. William Huff, ca 1800–1848.

Jane apparently died soon after 1800, and Gamaliel married Catherine _____. The family is not known in any 1810 census listing. In 1815, Gamaliel purchased land in Richland County, Ohio. In 1820, his family is listed in the census in Sandusky township. He died there, according to probate court records, on 1 October 1823, intestate. Catherine died between 15 April 1825, when her will was dated, and 15 October of the same year, when it was probated.

Gamaliel and Catherine had four children, as named in her will:

96. Mariah Huff, ca 1801–?; married (1st) on 6 November 1817, in Richland County, William Williams; (2nd) about 1828, John H. Smith; n. f. i.
97. Robert Huff, ca 1802–?; of age at his mother's death, as Peter and Charity chose him as their guardian; living in Bucyrus township, Crawford County, Ohio, in 1830; n. f. i.
+ 98. Peter Huff, 2 August 1806–2 June 1864.
99. Charity Huff, 31 July 1809–?; n. f. i.

95. William[4] Huff (Gamaliel[3], John[2], Engelbert[1]) was born in about 1800, in Westchester County, New York, and moved with his family to Ohio by 1815. He is listed as one of Gamaliel's heirs in Gamaliel's estate record, but is not one of Catherine's. Apart from census data, all further information about his family and descendants is drawn from an article "The Huff Family," by Brent Galloway, in San Leandro Recollections, Vol. 3, No. 2, March 1971.

In about 1824, presumably in Liberty township, Crawford County, Ohio, William married Pleasa Garver, born about 1805 in Pennsylvania, apparently the daughter of Frederick and Sarah Garver. They continued to live on the Ohio frontier until 1829, when they moved to Royalton, Berrien County, Michigan, and then to St. Joseph, in the same county.

Pleasa died in 1830, and William married again, on 20 January 1831, his bride being Julia Ann Smith, born on 17 January 1812 in Ohio, the daughter of Timothy Seymour and Margaret (Consalus) Smith. William evidently prospered; he was primarily a country merchant and Indian trader, but he also held real estate, and in 1840 he built and operated a hotel. Nevertheless, it is said that he was quite stingy and Julia had to pick berries for clothing money. He died in 1848. Julia remarried, and some time between 1850 and 1854 moved to California, where her older son had already gone. She and her second husband, Joseph Thompson, first settled in Alvarado, Alameda County, but later moved to Livermore, Alameda County; Joseph died there, and Julia moved back to Alvarado. She eventually moved into an Old Ladies' Home in San Jose, Santa Clara County, where she died in 1898.

William had four children by Pleasa, the first three born in Crawford County, Ohio, and the last in St. Joseph, Michigan:

+ 248. Irene Huff, 23 March 1826–19 May 1881.
+ 249. Socrates Huff, 1 July 1827–26 September 1907.
+ 250. Mariah Huff, 1828–1979.
+ 251. Lucien Bonaparte Huff, 14 March 1829–19 February 1895.

He had two more by Julia, born born in St. Joseph:

252. Edward Huff, June 1833–after 1894; married, about 1859, in San Jose, Santa Clara County, California, Hannah _____; worked as a day laborer, later as a teamster; ran a saloon in Alvarado, Alameda County, California, in 1879; presumably died there.
+ 253. George W. Huff, 1838–after 1880.

98. Peter[4] Huff (Gamaliel[3], John[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 2 August 1806, according to information he gave the probate court in connection with settlement of his mother's estate. On 11 October 1827, he married Susan Couch, born on 17 January 1807 in Pennsylvania. By 1830 they were living in Crawford County, Ohio, having bought property from Peter's half-brother William. Some time between 1860 and 1864, they moved to Sherwood, Defiance County, Ohio, and Peter died there on 2 June 1864. Susan died there on 3 January 1879.

Peter and Susan had ten children:

+ 254. John Huff, 19 June 1828–13 February 1912.
255. Mary Huff, 2 September 1830–?; married George Esterline, ?–buried 18 March 1870; children Andrew, M. C., Susan who married J. J. Weaver, and Elizabeth who married _____ Brown; n. f. i.
+ 256. Catherine Huff, 13 November 1832–?.
+ 257. Maria(n) Huff, 11 December 1834–1924.
+ 258. Martha Huff, 5 October 1837–?.
+ 259. William Huff, 20 March 1840–22 November 1891.
+ 260. Susannah Huff, 28 September 1842–1926.
+ 261. Nancy Huff, 8 May 1845–?.
+ 262. Elizabeth Huff, 1848–?.
+ 263. Peter Huff, Jr., 7 July 1850–3 July 1888.

Chapter 41. The Fifth Generation

248. Irene[5] Huff (William[4], Gamaliel[3], John[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 23 March 1826 in Berrien, St. Joseph County, Michigan. She moved to California some time in the 1850's, probably with her step-parents. Before 1859, she married John Willard Carrick, known as Will, born in Maine in 1824. They lived in Alameda County, where Will served as county treasurer from 1859 to 1863, and tax collector from 1861 to 1863. Irene died in 1881, and Will in 1898.

Irene and Will had two children:

667. Ada Irene Carrick, November 1859–?; married Andrew Brown, a tea taster; lived in Presidio Terrace, San Francisco; n. f. i.
668. Frederick Andrew Carrick, 10 May 1866–28 December 1926 (San Francisco); married Etta Mendenhall, 20 July 1868–17 July 1936; children Elizabeth, Marietta, and Irene; n. f. i.

249. Socrates[5] Huff (William[4], Gamaliel[3], John[2], Engelbert[1]) was born on 1 July 1827 in Crawford County, Ohio, and moved to Michigan with his parents. When word reached the area of the discovery of gold in California, Socrates and his younger brother Lucien immediately organized a party to migrate west. Their route took them by boat up the Missouri river from St. Louis, and near Council Bluffs, Pottawattamie County, Iowa, the boat sank. The men escaped but much of their gear was lost. They refitted at Council Bluffs and continued their long, dreary journey, reaching Bear River on 12 August 1849.

Socrates did some mining, with some success, but soon concluded that he could do better at business in Sacramento. Within a few months, his health required him to leave there, and he went to San Jose in the fall of 1849. There he remained until 1851, when he took a trip of several months back to Michigan. Returning to Alameda County, he bought a freight vessel and ran it between Alvarado, San Francisco, and Stockton for a little over a year. In late 1852 he again traveled east. There, on 14 February 1853, he married Amelia Cassaday, born on 16 May 1834 in Pennsylvania. They made the return trip west by the overland route later that year, driving a large band of cattle and horses. They lived in Green Valley, Contra Costa County, until 1857, when they moved to Hayward, Alameda County. In 1859 there was another trip to Michigan, and in December of that year they again returned to California and settled in San Leandro, Alameda County. They lived the rest of their lives there, with Socrates deeply involved in politics and civic activities as well as financial and mercantile operations; he was a man of substantial means. His wife died in early 1905, and Socrates died on 26 September 1907. He, his wife, and six daughters were buried at Mt. View Cemetery, San Leandro.

She moved to California by 1856, and took charge of many of the arrangements when her sister-in-law Nancy (Harlan) Huff died at an early age. In 1858 or 1859 she married William Henry Souther, a widower, born in 1823 in Oldham County, Kentucky. He had come to California in 1849, and had become quite a wealthy man. They lived on his farm near San Leandro, Alameda County, until 1867. In that year they moved to Gilroy, Santa Clara County, California; in 1874, to Bakersfield, Kern County. In addition to his farming, he was involved in the Kern Island and Buena Vista Canals. The demands on him broke his health, and he had to suspend activities for some time. In 1878 the family moved to Newhall, Los Angeles County, where he engaged in farming and stock raising; but he was not as successful as he wished, and in 1881 he sold out and moved to San Bernardino County and entered into mining enterprises. In 1883 he took a year's trip east, and on his return settled near Covina, Los Angeles County, and took up horticulture. He was still living in 1889, but Maria had died in 1879.

Nancy is described as "very pretty, tall and slender and full of fun . . . a regular cut-up." He and Nancy were married in 1849. They continued to live in San Jose, where Lucien was majordomo of the ranch belonging to his uncle (his mother's half-brother), Henry Smith. They had three children:

He also had a grain ranch near Livermore, Alameda County, California, and was superintendent of the Oakland, Brooklyn, and Fruitvale Street Railroad Company. He was active in Republican politics. Appendices

There are a number of people who cannot be shown definitely to be descendants of Engelbert[1] Huff, but for whom there are strong suggestions that they might be so. It would be impractical to include all such persons in this work, but for some the case seems strong enough to warrant giving what is known about them. That is the function of the Appendices.

Appendix A. Some Stragglers

A1. Abraham Huff was given a grant of land in Richmond township, Lennox and Addington County, Ontario, jointly with Solomon[3] Huff; the specific grant was for Lot 15, Concession 2. His name does not appear in later transactions regarding the lot. For that matter, Solomon's appears only in that the lot was later sold by William Huff, who described himself as Solomon's heir and was undoubtedly (68) William[4]. Given the close association (and the proximity of the lot to that granted to Shadrack[3] Huff), it is highly likely that Abraham was a relative. The most attractive candidate with whom to identify him is Angle[3] Huff's son (54) Abraham; but the petition on which the grant was based was submitted in 1789, at which time, if the estimate of Abraham's birth date is valid, he would have been only about ten years old. Of course, the estimate is only a guess.

A2. Willis Bayard Hough first appears in known records in 1856, when he married Sarah G. Shipman in St. James' Anglican Cathedral, Toronto, Ontario. He was listed as from the town of Mariposa, Victoria County. One of the witnesses was Charles Hough. The name Bayard strongly suggests a connection with (106) Job Huff, whose mother-in-law's maiden name was Bayard. The likely guess is that Willis was the son of Job's son (285) Richard. He was listed in the 1858 directory of Victoria and Ontario Counties as a hotel keeper in the community of Manilla. He bought and sold land in Victoria County; witnesses and testators to the memorial of sale included Benjamin Hough and Charles Hough, with Benjamin described as living in Toronto. It is highly plausible that Charles and Benjamin were his brothers. Willis does not appear in the 1861 census in either Victoria or Ontario county; Sarah is listed in the household of, presumably, a married brother in the township of Ops, her age given as 24, with a three-year-old daughter who is listed only by initials, W. A. No further information is available.

A3. Joseph Huff is included partly because of an apparent connection with the Benjamin Huff discussed below. He appears in the 1860 U. S. census in St. Clair County, Michigan, township of St. Clair, where his age is given as 59, his occupation as farmer, and his birthplace as Canada. The household included his wife, Sarah (Harrington), age 50, born in New York; Sarah died on 13 July 1861. The information about the family is very confusing, with different sources giving contradictory information. Much of it comes from two family members, but in at least one instance this source can be established as erroneous. These conflicts will be discussed as they arise.

Joseph and Sarah are known to have had one daughter who was already married in 1860:

+ A4. Anna Huff, 28 March 1835–6 March 1915.

There were also the following other members of the household, taken to be children (but see later):

+ A5. Benjamin Huff, ca 1830–31 December 1914 (?).
A6. Mary Huff, ca 1836–?; n. f. i.
A7. Charles Huff, ca 1839–?; n. f. i.
A8. Alonzo Huff, ca 1845–?; n. f. i.

A4. Anna Huff (Joseph) was born on 21 March 1825, according to her age on her death record. Where she was born is unclear. Her death record, and census listings of several of her children, indicate New York; but her first appearance in the census records, in 1870, gives Canada. In about 1850, she married John Huff, whose parentage is unknown but who is supposed to have been a cousin of Anna's; the census record indicates that he was born in Canada in about 1814. The family appears, as implied above, in the 1870 census in Kimball township, St. Clair County, Michigan, post office Smith's Creek. It included, besides John and Anna, seven children; another is known from other sources:

+ A9. Adelaide Huff, ca 1844–? (not listed in the 1870 census).
A10. Almeda Huff, ca 1850–?; probably married, more than once, but no issue; n. f. i.
+ A11. Almira Huff, ca 1854–?.
+ A12. Sarah Huff, ca 1858–?.
A13. Catherine Huff, ca 1861–?; reportedly married John Southerland, and to have had children Ruth who married Earl Caswell, Donald, Carroll, and another son; n. f. i.
A14. Mary Huff, ca 1865–?; reportedly married Ira Hallock and had children, but the record is unclear; n. f. i.
A15. Charles Huff, ca 1867–?; married, wife's name uncertain; no issue; n. f. i.
+ A16. George Washington Huff, March 1870–?.

A5. Benjamin C. Huff (Joseph or Benjamin) is listed in three census records in St. Clair County, Michigan, in addition to the one above: 1870, 1900, and 1910. He also appears in the 1906, 1909, 1910, and 1912 city directories of Port Huron, where his occupation is given as ship caulker. The 1900 census listing gives his birth date as October 1830, and shows that he was born in Canada. According to the record of his death, which occurred on 31 December 1914, he was born in about 1828. The death record names his father as Benjamin, with no name recorded for his mother. Since the name Benjamin is not known to occur in other Ontario Huff families, it is tempting to speculate that he was the son of the Benjamin Hough mentioned in the discussion of (A2) Willis Bayard Hough. However, it is then unclear what his relationship was to (A3) Joseph Huff. In view of the statement that Anna married a cousin, it is possible that Benjamin was a nephew of Joseph and brother to John.

There exists a record in St. Clair County, Michigan, of the marriage of Benjamin C. Huff, age 29, of St. Clair, to Elisa Jane Crest, 18, of Port Huron, on 14 March 1863. This Benjamin would have been born in 1834, which does not agree with either of the ages given for Benjamin Huff above. Nevertheless, it appears to be the same man. He appears in the 1870 census in the household next to that of John and Anna, with wife Eliza and two children, listed below.

The 1900 census listing shows that Benjamin had been married three times. His current wife's name is given as Isabella. Two children, Frank and Alta, are also listed, with the surname Huff, but it is likely that they were stepchildren, since Frank is older than the older child listed in the 1870 census. Furthermore, while both are reported to have been born in Wisconsin, no trace of the family appears in the 1880 Soundex index of the census for Wisconsin, although the ages of the two indicate that it should have. In addition, neither is named in Benjamin's probate record.

In 1910, Benjamin was living with a niece, Edwina L. Barnett; who her parents were is not given. Isabella, although still living, does not appear in the 1910 census record. She died on 6 March 1915, aged 79 years 11 months and 9 days; her death records states that she was born in New York, the daughter of Josiah and Betsy (Hunter) Folson. Although the census records do not show it, it appears that she was married twice, as her probate names an unmarried daughter, Jennie Simmons.

Only the two children listed in the 1870 census can be certainly ascribed to Benjamin:

+ A17. Benjamin A. Huff, ca 1866–?.

A18. Rosa Huff, ca 1868–?; married in Sarnia, Lambton County, Ontario, on 29 March 1895 Charles E. Thompson, born in about 1865 in Toronto, York County, Ontario, the son of George and Catherine Thompson; in 1900, living separately from Charles, who is shown as living in the household of Rosa's brother Benjamin, with occupation given as bartender; still living as of her father's death; n. f. i.

A9. Adelaide Huff (Anna, Joseph) was born in about 1844. Where is uncertain; the first three of John and Ann's children listed in the 1870 census are shown as born in Canada, and it is likely that Adelaide was born in the same place as the others, but her own census listing in 1880 gives Michigan as her birthplace. She married Levi Carrier, born about 1842, a worker in a shingle mill as of 1880. Nothing further is known of them, except that they had five children:

A19. Irene Carrier, ca 1864–?; reportedly married Pat Jordan and had eight children; n. f. i.
A20. Elisha Carrier, ca 1866–?; reportedly married a woman named Jennie and had two children; n. f. i.
A21. Anna Carrier, ca 1869–?; reportedly married Lucius Bunker and had three children; n. f. i.
A22. Elizabeth Carrier, ca 1872–?; reportedly married Frank Carrier, no issue; n. f. i.
A23. Fred Carrier, ca 1877–?; reportedly married and had children; n. f. i.

A11. Almira Huff (Anna, Joseph) was born in about 1850, in either Canada (1870 and 1880 censuses) or New York (1900 census). She married Benjamin F. Richards, born in either Canada (1880 census) or New York (1900 census), a carpenter. (Family sources assert that it was Almeda who married Ben Richards.) They are listed in the 1880 and 1900 censuses in Port Huron, St. Clair County, Michigan. Nothing further is known of them, except that they had one known child:

A24. Clara Huff, ca 1871–?; n. f. i.

Family tradition lists a second child:

A25. Arthur Huff, ?–?; said to have remained in Port Huron, but no record found.

A12. Sarah Huff (Anna, Joseph) was born in about 1859 in Canada. She married Christopher McSorley, born in about 1850 in Canada of Scottish parents. According to family sources, they had six children, apparently born after the 1880 census:

A26. Myra McSorley, ?–?; reportedly married Charles Coverley and had seven children; n. f. i.
A27. Jack McSorley, ?–?; reportedly married a woman named Loretta and had three sons and one daughter; n. f. i.
A28. Maud McSorley, ?–?; reportedly married Joe Hoppa and had three children; n. f. i.
A29. George Russell McSorley, ?–?; reportedly married a woman named Mildred and had four or five children; n. f. i.
A30. Lottie McSorley, ?–?; reportedly married _____ and had two children; n. f. i.

A16. George Washington Huff (Anna, Joseph) was born in March 1870 in Kimball township, St. Clair County, Michigan. He married Caroline Willis, born in Bellaire, Antrim County, Michigan. Nothing further is known of them, except that they had seven children:

A31. Lawrence Huff, 1901–?; n. f. i.
A32. Mable Huff, 1903–?; n. f. i.
A33. Charles Huff, 1905–?; n. f. i.
A34. Esther Huff, 1908–?; n. f. i.
A35. Cora Huff, 1912–?; n. f. i.
A36. Oscar Huff, 1916–?; n. f. i.
A37. George William Huff, 1920–; living in Snohomish, Snohomish County, Washington, as of 1990; n. f. i.

A17. Benjamin A. Huff (Benjamin C., Benjamin or Joseph) appears in the 1900 census in Otsego County, Michigan. He is described as a blacksmith, born in August 1866. He had a wife Blanche, born in Michigan in July 1875. There were three children as of the census date, all born in Michigan:

A38. Edna Huff, December 1891–?; n. f. i.
A39. Arthur Huff, March 1893–?; n. f. i.
A40. Bryan Huff, July 1896–?; n. f. i.

Appendix B. John and Sarah Huff of New York and Ohio

B1. John[I] Huff is reported to have come originally from New York, "probably near the Mohawk valley." The basis for suspecting that he may be among the descendants of Engelbert Huff is the fact that he gave one of his sons the middle name Retal or Retan, the maiden name of (5) William[2] Huff's wife. The most attractive guess is that John is the son of one of William's "lost" sons, with (26) William[3] as the most likely possibility because he is the only one known to have reached maturity. Another possibility is that he is identical with (42) John Huff, the son of (18) Peter; but on that assumption there is no obvious explanation of the name Retan. He has been described as Dutch, but it is not known whether this meant Netherland Dutch or Pennsylvania Dutch. According to his gravestone, he was born in about 1774, but his birthplace is unknown. All information about him and his family has been provided by Richard Lee[VI] Huff of Madison, Dane County, Wisconsin, supplemented by census data.

Probably about 1800, he married Sarah _____, for whom no dates are known. One marriage that fits is that of a John P. Huff to Sarah Hoff on 12 April 1795 in the Dutch Reformed Church of Fishkill, Dutchess County, New York. This Sarah Hoff is very probably the daughter of Lawrence and Catherine (Shurrie) Haff, born on 9 January 1775 almost certainly in Fishkill. This identification, also, is uncertain—as is the ascription of this as the marriage of the John Huff with whom we are concerned. Another possibility is that he is the John Huff who, on 25 April 1793 in the First Dutch Reformed Church of Poughkeepsie, Dutchess County, New York, married Sally Ter Bush, the daughter of Isaac Ter Bos. Both of these suggestions are in conflict with family tradition that Sarah was "a Yankee from Massachusetts," which, however, must be regarded with the same skepticism as all such unsupported family stories.

John and Sarah settled in Fredericktown, Knox County, Ohio, about 1822. Where he had lived before that is not known; no Huff family in the 1810 or 1820 census returns from New York seems to fit what is known about John's family. John died on 29 April 1840, and is buried in Boyd Cemetery near Fredericktown.

John and Sarah had ten children, all but the last supposedly born in New York:

+ B2. Temperance Huff, 1801–after 1850.
+ B3. John Huff, Jr., 1803–1849.
+ B4. Prudence Huff, 1804–27 November 1862.
  B5. David Huff, ca 1808–ca 1852 perhaps in Indiana; n. f. i.
+ B6. George W. Huff, ca 1810–?.
+ B7. Henry Harrison Huff, 17 February 1812–1884.
+ B8. William Lewis Huff, 1813–after 1850.
  B9. Sarah Huff, ca 1816–after 1850; married Adam Insho; n. f. i.
+ B10. James Retan or Retal Huff, ca 1822–after 1850.
+ B11. Gilbert Huff, 22 May 1823–15 September 1862.

B2. Temperance[II] Huff (John[I]) was born in New York in 1801. She married Levi Kirby, born about 1804 in Maryland, presumably the son of John Kirby. The family, including John, is listed in the 1850 census in Berlin township, Knox County, Ohio. Nothing further is known of them.

There were six children listed in the 1850 census:

B12. Elizabeth Kirby, ca 1833–?; n. f. i.
B13. George Kirby, ca 1837–?; n. f. i.
B14. Sarah A. Kirby, ca 1839–?; n. f. i.
B15. Hannah Kirby, ca 1840–?; n. f. i.
B16. Catharine Kirby, ca 1842–?; n. f. i.
B17. Sophia Kirby, ca 1843–?; n. f. i.

B3. John[II] Huff, Jr. (John[I]) was born in New York in 1803. He married, first, probably in Ohio, Sarah Kirby, the daughter of John Kirby of Maryland and sister-in-law to John's sister Temperance. She died in about 1836, and John married, second, Emily Davis. John died in 1849, and is buried in Forest Cemetery, Fredericktown.

John had, apparently, five children by Sarah:

B18. Sarah E. Huff, ca 1829–?; n. f. i.
B19. John Huff, III, ca 1830–? (died in his 20s); n. f. i.
B20. Eliza or Elvia Huff, ca 1833–?; married in 1851, in Ohio, John Kemp; n. f. i.
+ B21. William Lewis Huff, 17 December 1834–3 April 1923.
+ B22. James Poole Huff, 1836–?.

It should be noted that it is not certain that James Poole Huff was by Sarah. A descendant of William Lewis Huff reports that William referred to James as a half brother; but this informant's information is known to be sometimes faulty.

John also had (at least) three children by Emily:

B23. Jane A. Huff, ca 1841–?; n. f. i.
B24. Clarinda Huff, ca 1843–?; n. f. i.
B25. Elizabeth Huff, ca 1845–?; n. f. i.

B4. Prudence[II] Huff (John[I]) was born in about 1804 in New York. On 6 January 1825, in Knox County, Ohio, she married Isaac Hall, born in about 1802 in Virginia, the son of Richard and Sarah (Parks) Hall. They lived in Ohio until between 1836 and 1838, when they moved to Kosciusko County, Indiana. Nothing further is known of them, except that they had ten children, the first seven born in Ohio and the last three in Indiana:

B26. Sylvester William Hall, 3 July 1826–4 January 1911; married (1st) on 1 April 1847 Mariah Swyhart; (2nd) Harriett Landis; n. f. i.
B27. Lorenzo D. Hall, 25 December 1827–23 December 1909; married on 12 August 1851 in Elkhart, Elkhart County, Indiana, Emily Albin; n. f. i.
B28. John Hall, ca 1829–? (reported to have died young); n. f. i.
B29. Richard Hall, ca 1833–?; died in Civil War, unmarried; n. f. i.
B30. Sarah Hall, ca 1834–between 1850 and 1860, unmarried; n. f. i.
B31. George Hall, ca 1836–?; n. f. i.
B32. Elisa Hall, ca 1838–between 1850 and 1860.
B33. Elisabeth Hall, 6 August 1840–1918; married Cyrus Fuller; n. f. i.
B34. Isaac Harrison Hall, 14 July 1847–27 October 1893; married (1st) Cartha Baker; (2nd) on 29 November 1877 Nancy Jane Self; (3rd) Dell Linam; n. f. i.
B35. Charles W. Hall, ?–?; n. f. i.

B6. George W.[II] Huff (John[I]) was born about 1810 in New York. He lived in Kosciusko County, Indiana. He married Belinda _____, born in 1812. Nothing further is known of them, except that they had three children:

B36. Lucinda Huff, 1844–?; n. f. i.
B37. Clayton Huff, 1847–?; n. f. i.
B38. Amanda Huff, 1850–?; n. f. i.

B7. Henry Harrison[II] Huff (John[I]) was born on 17 February 1812 in New York. He married Peggy Jane Williams, of whom nothing further is known. Between 1850 and 1853, they moved to Albany, Franklin County, Ohio; by 1857, they were living in Harlem, Carroll County, Ohio; and by 1861, they had moved to Noble, Jay County, Indiana. He died in 1884 in Edson, Chippewa County, Wisconsin. Nothing further is known of him, except that he had seven children:

+ B39. Daniel Lentner Huff, ca 1847–?.
B40. Catherine Amanda Huff, ca 1850 (Fredericktown, Knox County, Ohio)–?; married, husband's name unavailable; child William; n. f. i.
+ B41. Independence Huff, ca 1853 (Albany)–?.
+ B42. States Huff, ca 1857 (Harlem)–?.
B43. America Zenobia Huff (twin), ca 1861 (Noble)–?; n. f. i.
B44. America Jesse Huff (twin), ca 1861 (Noble)–?; n. f. i.
B45. Viola Huff, ca 1863 (Noble)–?; married, husband's name unavailable; child Vera; n. f. i.

B8. William Lewis[II] Huff (John[I]) was born in New York in about 1813. He married Margaret M. McKissick, born about 1818 in Pennsylvania. As of the 1850 census, they were living in Harmony township, Morrow County, Ohio. As far as is known, they both died there.

They had six known children:

B46. William H. Huff, ca 1839–?; n. f. i.
B47. Harriet Huff, ca 1841–?; n. f. i.
B48. Louisa Huff, ca 1844–?; n. f. i.
B49. David Huff, ca 1845–?; n. f. i.
B50. Viola Huff, ca 1847–?; n. f. i.
B51. Amanda or Ann Marie Huff, ca 1849–?; n. f. i.

B10. James Retan or Retal[II] Huff (John[I]) was born in about 1822 in New York. He married, first, Eliza _____, of whom nothing further is known, and, second, Mary _____. Index of Persons

A married woman is indexed only under her maiden name, when it is known. If a woman is known to have been a widow at the time of her marriage into the family, and both maiden and first married name are known, there is a cross reference from the married name to the maiden name.

A Huff Genealogy: Descendants of Engelbert Huff of Dutchess County, New York

George Lockwood Trigg

This monumental new work covers ten generations (in some cases eleven) of the descendants of Engelbert Huff, reputedly of Norway. Although Engelbert's origins are uncertain, he was evidently in the New World by 1700. Variations on the spelling of the surname include Hof, Hoff, Huff, and Hough; the latter two are the most commonly used currently.

Engelbert married, about 1706, Maria Willemsze or Williams and they had nine children, six of whom are covered further in this work: Greesze, Leonhardt, Willem, Anna Margaretha, Mara, and Johannis.

This genealogy is arranged in seven parts and includes, in addition to the first two generations of Engelbert and his children, the following major lines of descent: Angle (or Engelbert), Paul(us), Solomon, and Shadrack (Zadrach) all sons of Willem; and John and Gamaliel, both possible sons of Johannis. Genealogical information includes vital statistics, places of residence, spouses, children and parents (which may be followed throughout the generations by a numbering system which uniquely identifies each person), and sources used (whether primary, secondary, tradition, or supposition); male lines are concentrated on, but many Huff women are identified with spouses and children.
